

CITY NEWS IN BRIEF

May Not Revoke Parole— Motion was filed yesterday to postpone parole revocation proceedings in the case of George M. Spiker who was recently arrested by Deputy Sheriff Morelock on a charge of having issued a forged check upon a local firm. At the time of his arrest Spiker was at liberty on parole from a four-year sentence imposed a year ago for similar check passing activities by Spiker, who is but 19 years of age.

Trusses— Fitted at Tyler's Drug store by an expert in the business.—Adv. New Home— Clean surroundings, shade, water, location. That's Waldo park.—Adv. McKinney Case Continued— The case of the State of Oregon against John Doe Harold McKinney was continued until the September term of court upon motion made before Judge Kelly yesterday by Robin Day, attorney for the defendant. McKinney is charged with having sold liquor contrary to state laws. His attorney represented that certain witnesses could not testify at the time.

Hill Military Academy— Portland, Or., has government equipment.—Adv. Hay Crop Bountiful— Local dealers in hay have discontinued purchases at any figure until the season has advanced. A member of the firm of D. A. White & Sons stated Saturday that the last purchases made by his firm were for cut and vetch hay at $12 per ton, and clover hay at $10. The crop is reported to be heavy and of excellent quality. Just what the later market will be, local merchants are unable to indicate.

Special Chicken Dinner— All day today. The Spa, 382 State street.—Adv. A Classified Ad— Will bring you a buyer. Volk Party Returns— Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Volk, and Mrs. Hettie Krickbaum and daughter, Martha Louise, arrived home Saturday after a 500-mile tour of Oregon. They visited some in the Cascades, and then made a tour of practically all the coast resorts, Seaside, Gearhart, Bar Harbor and all the rest.

RHYME CONTEST AMUSES SCOUTS Court of Honor Offers Inducement for Right Word in Right Place 'To Camp! To Camp! To have a good time; Home again! Home again!' (Finish this rhyme.) Such is the result of a "hunch" afforded Scout headquarters by Old Mother Goose—the Scout who finishes the above jingle to the best satisfaction of the court of honor to receive a week at the summer camp for his poetic ability. The "contest" is providing no end of fun for the Scouts of the city, as well as the members of the council, a great many different ideas having been turned in already. Probably the best one of these is as follows: 'To camp! To camp! To have a good time; Home again! Home again!' (Finish this rhyme.)

Dr. Miliken to Preach At Out-Door Services Union park services are to be held this afternoon at 4:30 at Willson park, this being the third of the series that will last through the months of July and August. Rev. W. T. Milliken of the First Baptist church is to preach the sermon from the theme "First Things First." A quartet composed of Ada Miller and Bessie Amster, Edwin Socolofsky and Charles Conc, will present "Sing Unto God," also. Miss Miller will sing "The Penitent." Miss Lucille Ross is to preside at the organ. The community singing will be led by F. Howard Vinzer of Salem. W. T. Milliken, president of the union church committee, will preside at the meeting. As most of the city congregations are dismissing their Sunday evening services during the period that these union services are to be maintained, a large attendance is expected. A folding camp chair or stool, or a blanket on which one may recline at ease on the park grass while listening to the service, will be physical comforts to those who may bring them.

M'CROSKY ROARS AND HAS REASON Commercial Club Manager Saturates Ample Person With Gallon of Gas Manager T. E. McCroskey of the Commercial club had been reading about the awful waste of coal in feeding it into the fire-boxes to make steam and then run engines. The figures showing that it is a waste of about 90 per cent of the heat and power, fill his thrifty soul with pain. "If they're wasting that much in coal engines, I wonder if there isn't similar horrible conditions existing in the use of gas engines," he said. "Why not use the gas direct, and instead of applying it to a smelly engine, and pouring some of it out on the ground in the transfer, as well as 'wasting' it in poor combustion, why not apply a gallon directly to the person who wants to go somewhere—and see him go?" That theory is the principal part of the story. The application is the rest. Mr. McCroskey is still awaiting pardon if he scratches when it burns and he doesn't say it. He says that these scientific dubs who are always investigating wonderful theories can go and jump in the creek for all he cares, "because" indeed, he believes he'll do it himself, a cool creek would feel mighty soothing. Mac saturated his ample person

Cottage Grove Man Here— George Boyd, of Cottage Grove, has been in Salem for several days wholesaling wood to the local dealers. He has a large "wood farm," which he is clearing and marketing the product by the truck load. Mr. Boyd reports a good business—for nobody believes that the winter is going to be excessively mild to the shorn Oregon lamb just because he is shorn, and the buying public is expecting the seasons to wag on as usual.

Money to Lend— Elmo S. White, Masonic bldg.—Adv. Army Record Given— Sergeant Earl C. Gilkey, enlisted in the United States army on May 10, 1917, and served in this country until receiving his discharge from the service July 2, 1919, according to papers filed yesterday with County Clerk U. G. Doyer, Sergeant Gilkey is entitled to a "veteran" service chevrons for war-time service.

Malheur Schools Show Increased Attendance J. A. Churchill, superintendent of public instruction, has received the annual report of Superintendent E. M. Crall of Malheur county. There were enrolled during the past year 2470 boys and girls in the schools of that county. One hundred and twenty-three teachers were employed. The average monthly salary of women teachers was $114; men teachers, $165. A total of $111,769 was spent for teachers' salaries during the year. The daily attendance in the schools shows a marked improvement over that of last year. The per cent of attendance last year was 87, while this year it is 95.

PERSONALS James Smith of St. Paul, was a Salem visitor yesterday. John Cutsforth, prominent resident of Gervais, transacted business at the Marion county court house Saturday. Dan Chamberlain of Shaw, visited friends and transacted business in this city, Saturday. J. M. Shaw, Turner resident, spent a few hours in Salem, yesterday. Attorney Elmo White wound up his business day Saturday, by taking a flying trip out to Spong's landing and scaring the fish to death with his bathing raiment of varied hues. Another visitor to Spong's landing, Saturday evening was Oscar Steelhammer, county assessor. Mrs. S. R. Vail went to Portland yesterday to be at the bedside of her nephew, Westley Howes, who is slightly indisposed at this time. Fining of Bootleggers Is Farcical, Says Kelly "It is farcical to fine bootleggers because of the profit in their traffic," stated Circuit Judge Kelly yesterday in sentencing Julius Christensen to serve 30 days in the Marion county jail for the sale of intoxicating liquor. Christensen was arraigned at 1:30 yesterday afternoon and during the hearing County Judge Bushey was called to the witness stand and stated that Christensen, following his arrest on the night of June 2, had admitted selling a jug of moonshine liquor.

BUSY TERM OF COURT ENDED Judge Percy R. Kelly Concludes Record Session in Department No. 1 With the disposal Saturday of the last cases on the docket as originally entered in June, Judge Percy R. Kelly officially closed one of the busiest terms recorded in the history of the Marion county circuit court. The term for June opened on the sixth day of that month and carried on into July, the last action being heard July 20. At that time final disposition of two criminal cases was continued until Saturday. During the term 24 actions of various nature were heard in 34 days' time. The longest period required for any suit was the case of Vandervort against Todd, eight days being taken in actual hearing of the case. There were three actions for damages, those being Lorenzen against Yates; McGilchrist against the Southern Pacific, and Jensen against Polles. Three juries were drawn for the purpose of hearing prosecution on liquor selling charges in the state of Oregon against Ralph Wagner, Jesse Padden and J. A. Williams. Verdicts favoring the state were returned in each case. The remainder of the actions on the docket were of civil nature, alleged frauds, proceedings for recovery of money and similar entries. Citizen Gets Acquainted With His Own Home Town He's home again, after a wonderful tour of the best part of the world. He left his cozy room, walked a few blocks and visited the Salem canneries, and the capitol dome, and the sawmills, and the hospital and the penitentiary, and some of the bigger stores, and saw the roses growing in their native haunts and the great trees and the Willamette river and the university in everything. "Didn't know there was such a wonderful anywhere on earth," he said on his return. "Everywhere I went, they kept telling me that I ought to see this and that and the other interesting thing that I hadn't ever seen or perhaps even heard of in the 19 years I've lived in Salem." "Well, I saw 'em all." They're mighty good. Why don't some of those birds that never get acquainted with their home town get out and do as I've done? I'd be ashamed to live forever in as good a community as this, and never really know what it has in its midst. But then, I've lived here only 19 years—just long enough to get fairly settled, and then I started out to get acquainted. I'd certainly hate to live here for half a century, or even for 20 or 40 years, without learning what's going on around me! "If there's anybody who has lived here so long that he's afraid to get away from his own shadow, I'll take him around and show him the sights. Why, there's something new and fine on every street, went up to Vancouver,
