WASHINGTON, July 25.—Details of Henry Ford's offer to purchase the government nitrate plant at Muscle shoals, Ala., for $5,000,000, and for lease for 100 years on completion of the Wilson and No. 3 dams, providing power for the project, at an annual aggregate payment of $1,680,000, were made public today by the war department. No action has been taken by the government, although it was announced that no bids have been received.

Government Keeps Rights. The dam lease proposals include provisions to amortize in 94 years the government investment in the Wilson dam, taken at $40,000,000, and in 97 years the $8,000,000 in the dam No. 3.

The offer is made subject to complete right of the government to plant, process and personnel in the event of war and for the purpose of determining whether the application of electricity and industrial chemistry, to agriculture may not do "what they have economically accomplished for other industries."

Local Bath House Real Vacation Right at Home

What's the use of paying railroad fare, wasting wages, getting a sun-burned back that would make a lame rabbit bite the neck off a burly Bengal tiger, taking a cold that snuffles like a diaphragm pump, and madding up with a lot of deadly jazz vacationists who have to do it all in only about four days though it kills 'em, and trying to swim up the whole Pacific ocean with a scratchy bathing suit—when one can get all the good of swimming and bathing and rest, and none of its evils, right at home?

Salem really boasts of perhaps the most complete bath house in the state. One can get all of the comforts of home, all the joys of a hilarious vacation except the exorbitant bills, at the Oregon Bath house, where Manager Purdy has laid himself out to give the city the best service there is. It is enough of a credit to deserve extended mention. There is a fine plunge, and shower baths and Turkish baths free bathing suits, and expert masseurs for Turkish baths and for medical treatments. There is a facial massage and manicure department, and swimming teachers. Nothing has been omitted to make it a real public enterprise. Manager Purdy has given to the people of Salem some rather unusual service in providing such a "home-vacation" enterprise. The season hasn't been hot enough to drive people to the seashore to save their lives, and a really adequate city bathing resort in such a time and money-saver for everybody, that it fills a vital public want.

(Continued from page 1.) noon when the Roach-Freeman duo takes the stage. The duo will present a little of almost everything that is funny; music, story-telling, caricatures. They are vaudevillians of the highest type, whose aim is to bring a laugh—and they are said to be a sure-fire success in this. Stefansson Tonight. Stefansson, the reticent explorer, comes tonight. He has been given gold medals from almost every exploring and geographical society on earth for his northland travels. Stefansson has not followed the plan of taking a trainload of food to clutter up his travels. Instead, he set out practically without baggage other than his rifle and plenty of ammunition—and the fact that he lived through the years of wilderness exploring in the far north proves both his sublime courage and his daring thought to do what no other explorer ever thought of doing. Stefansson is rated as one of the greatest explorers of the American lecture platform today, and to hear him is to hear one of the rarest characters and philosophers of his age. The sale of tickets has been remarkably good so that there is hardly a chance for a failure on the week's guarantee.

Those occupying the buildings sustained a complete loss of their stocks, Smith & Son being the heaviest losers, entailing a loss of about $4000, with insurance of about one-half. BOARD'S POWER TO BE WIDENED

War Finance Corporation May Steer General Economic Adjustment

WASHINGTON, July 25.—Broadening the powers of the war finance corporation, making it the great government agency for bringing about the necessary economic readjustments, will be suggested by President Harding tomorrow in a special communication to congress, according to forecasts tonight. The special letter, it has been announced, will deal primarily with the proposed financial settlement between the government and railroads. But, according to statements by administration leaders, it probably will go further and recommended not only that the war finance corporation take charge of the railroad settlement, but also that it be placed in direct and practically sole charge of farm credits and export financing. Secretary Hoover said today that he had recommended such a plan and that his recommendation had been approved by Secretary Mellon and Eugene Meyer Jr., managing director of the war finance corporation.
