OLD ESTATE PURCHASED

Object is to Turn Enfranchisement Into Dynamic, And Useful Force

WASHINGTON, June 21.—The Woman's National foundation, recently organized here as a means to focus the interests of the women of the country in co-operation with women's organizations has bought a million dollar tract of land in the heart of the Connecticut avenue residential district and plans to erect buildings costing about $3,500,000. The site of the home of the organization is the old Dean tract on Connecticut avenue hill. It is probably the last remaining estate of extensive grounds in the region which has not yielded to the up-town march of business and apartment hotels.

WOOL BIDDING ACTIVE

LONDON, July 26.—There were 10,476 bales offered at the wool auction sales today. Bidding was active and prices steady. There was a better demand for inferior grades.

That Henry L. Pittock, founder of the Oregonian, apparently had very much more influence over the defendants than they had over him, that his word was the law of his business, and that it was theirs to obey and not to influence or dictate, was one of the important conclusions of the Oregon supreme court which yesterday handed down an opinion affirming in every particular the locality of the will of the late publisher. The opinion was written by Chief Justice Burnet and was concurred in by all members of the court.

Parachute from Sky Startles Watchman

BEDFORD, England, June 18.—A night watchman at the royal airship hangar at Cardington near Leam got the surprise of his life when he saw a parachute dropping from the sky in the early morning a few days ago. "Can I get a bed here?" asked a calm voice. The parachutist was Air Commodore E. N. Maitland, on his way home to Howden air station from Epsom aboard the dirigible R-33 which had acted as official traffic controller and wireless station at the Derby races. Commodore Maitland explained that he had suddenly remembered that he had to attend an important meeting at the Cardington station in the early morning. "The only way to get there in time was to jump right off," he said.

Two Cent Cigar Will Be Sold to Italians

ROME, July 25.—Somewhat the Italian government has solved the problem of a cheap national cigar. Prices of tobacco have been soaring to such luxurious heights that the ordinary cigar smoker could not purchase. Accordingly, experts were assigned the task of getting up a new cigar. They have just announced their accomplishments of the task. The new cigar will soon be put on the market and will sell for two cents. It will resemble the Pittsburgh stogie in shape.

Now 30,000 American s In Republic of Mexico

MEXICO CITY, July 25.—There are approximately 30,000 Americans in Mexico and of this number 8000 live in Mexico City, according to a recent estimate by the department of immigration. The number in Mexico City represents a decrease of 65 per cent from pre-revolutionary days. Americans outnumber all other foreigners with the exception of the Spanish. It is also estimated that since Carranza was overthrown more than 6000 American business men have visited the republic.

stand with a solid front against the insidious propaganda that is endeavoring to disintegrate us. Work is supplementary. "One of the objects of the foundation is simply to invite clubs and club members who desire to feel that they have a club of their own at the nation's capital. We are not going to attempt to subordinate any club, but the foundation will supplement their work and add to it. In this central club we shall have everything that will be a convenience, including a swimming pool and gymnasium, rest-rooms and a good restaurant—in fact, a club hotel which will provide the greatest comforts at the most reasonable prices to members.
