

EDNA M. LUNDBERG

Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Compton returned Sunday from Everett, Wash. Mrs. Compton had been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Whitman of Everett, for a month and also visited in Seattle, Tacoma and other northern points. Mr. Compton motored there last week to bring Mrs. Compton home.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Knowland and family, and Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Fullerton left this week for McCredie Springs where they will visit the Boy Scouts' camp there. They will be gone about two weeks.

Mrs. L. J. Hunt of West Salem, who has been visiting in Independence with her daughter, Mrs. Edward Becker, returned home the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Catlett and baby spent the week-end with Mrs. Catlett's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Henry E. Chase. They came down to get their other two children, Dorothea and Fred W. Jr., who have been visiting their grandparents here.

lem for a day the first of the week. Mr. Dyer took them back to their delightful summer home yesterday.

To show their appreciation of a Salem girl who has become an artist in national and interpretive dancing, theater managers of Salem have invited Miss Elisabeth Schreiber to appear for one day at each of their showhouses this week just before her departure for her future field of professional work in Los Angeles. She will appear at matinee and evening shows in addition to the regular moving picture program and do the popular Spanish, Egyptian and interpretive dances in which she has appeared at several social functions.

As a pupil in the public schools until her family removed to southern California, she is remembered by hundreds of children and young people who will rejoice at this opportunity to see her in her initial public appearance in her home city and among old friends. Dates of her appearances here are to be announced.

As an exponent of classical art, Miss Schreiber is acknowledged by all who have seen her to be the most beautiful young dancer who has appeared in the west. She inherits her artistic pose and expression from her father who will be remembered at Salem as director of fine arts and manual training for years in the high school, and who created the panorama of the Willamette valley for the state fair board. The product of four years' training in the best schools of the screen city of the world she is not lacking in technique and finish in her art. Salem society people who have seen her dances are unanimous in saying that nothing equal to her in graceful effects has been seen in this city and the verdict will be the same when she appears under the spotlight.

Colonel and Mrs. George A. White, with their daughter, Henrietta, were with the American legion party who climbed Mt. Hood this last week-end. They climbed only as far as Copper Spur. There they enjoyed the wonderful panorama of the surrounding country from their position on the north slope of Mt. Hood. At first camp, Saturday night, the Whites, and the other members of the party were forced to "rough it" until 11 p. m., when the mule teams bearing blankets finally trotted into camp.

Another laughable incident in their report was the fact that the 25 pounds of beans, French haricots, which were taken along by the army cooks, would not boil at such a high altitude. So the party had to get along without beans.

Robert Bishop entertained six of his boy friends Tuesday afternoon, honoring his friend, Charles Gier, on his 12th birthday, with a line party at the Oregon theater. Following the entertainment afforded them there they went to the home of Robert's grandmother, Mrs. C. D. Gabrielson, where they enjoyed the birthday cake and other refreshments.

2-TON TRUCK REAL HOUSE

H. J. Cowles and Family Arrive in Salem After 10,000-Mile Jaunt

EXPENSE VERY SLIGHT

Starting from California Route is Up Atlantic To Nova Scotia

Tour with a two-ton truck. Forget that there is such a thing as trouble, take your house with you and travel everlastingly. That is what H. J. Cowles, wife and family of three children, and Mrs. Anderson, all of Watsonville, Cal., are doing. They were in Salem Saturday, on the last end of their journey, though they expect to start another when this one is over.

They left Watsonville as advertising heralds for the Orchard Realty company of their home town, where they are an amateur outfit that interested them. They did it in style. They bought a White two-ton truck, five-inch pneumatic tires and six-inch pneumatic rear; built a regular house on the chassis, and away they went. The outfit represents above $5000 and is the most complete home that has ever visited Salem on wheels.

They had traveled 9,968 miles up to the time of reaching Salem. Their repairs expense had been only 35 cents for the car; this, of course, being exclusive of the gas and oil.

"We were never stuck on the trip," said Mr. Cowles. "We have pulled somewhere from 75 to 100 others out of various kinds of holes, some of them desperately bad, but the worst roads never touched us. We visited through Texas, Louisiana, Alabama, up the Atlantic seacoast to Nova Scotia, and then have loafed homeward over the northerly route. We took in the scenery and Yellowstone National parks, and about everything that is of interest in that whole almost 10,000 miles.

Willamette Valley Praised. The party started out with the belief that Watsonville, Cal., was the only real garden spot in the world, where people lived because they wanted to live through knowledge and not where they had to exist as penance. But on striking the Willamette valley, Mr. Cowles said almost regretfully that "California has nothing on you here in Oregon. This is the finest country I have seen in all our trip. There's no doubt about it—the finest I've seen since I left home."

The Cowles party travels in a cleverly designed house-car, that is big enough, permanent enough to give comfort under almost any weather conditions. It rides much more comfortably than a light rig, and has proven trouble-proof and a thing of joy forever.

Big Vehicle Comfortable. The substantial truck construction, while at first thought not just what one would want for pleasure touring, really does offer the maximum of comfort, like a ponderous Pullman that rides smoothly because of its weight. The truck has not achieved quite the mileage per gallon of gasoline that some lighter rigs have had done, but in the absence of breakage, and in comfort, it has the lighter vehicles hanging out on a limb over the bottomless pit and the limb almost saw'd off.

T. Randall and G. W. Croisan. The first Presbyterian church will hold its annual picnic on Friday, at the state fair grounds, under the auspices of the Women's Missionary society. A general invitation is extended to the congregation. Dinner will be served at 6 and the gentlemen of the church are invited to join.

Mrs. J. C. Dingman of Spring Valley, N. Y., is a guest for the month of August at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. I. Lewis. Mrs. Dingman and Mrs. Lewis are sisters.

Rev. and Mrs. Charles Chapler and two sons, of Fort Dodge, Ia., are visiting in Salem with relatives; Ray Chapler, Adilla Chapler, Mrs. H. S. Gile, and Mrs. F. S. Gilbert. Chapler has charge of the services at the First Methodist church of Salem on Sunday. They will visit in Seattle also before returning to their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Shields, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Unruh and Mr. and Mrs. John Sampson have returned to Salem after spending the week end at the Tillamook beaches.

Dr. and Mrs. L. F. Griffith, who with their daughters, Margaret and Ruth, have been spending the week-end at Bay Ocean, returned to Salem, Monday.

Mrs. C. P. Bishop leaves this week for Portland, where she will be joined by her sister, Mrs. C. T. Roberts of Hood River. From there they will go to Mt. Rainier where they will stay for two weeks or ten days, afterwards having to Seaside for a couple of weeks. Mrs. Bishop will be gone about a month.

Mrs. John Evans left Monday for Seaside where she will spend a two week's vacation.

The St. Paul's Guild of the Episcopal church will meet this afternoon at 2:30 with Mrs. Curtis Cross.

One Blanket in Forest Not Found Enjoyable

Monday was a reasonably perfect day. But one family in Salem won't believe it was such great shakes of a day in spite of the weather bureau. They went over into Polk county for a long auto ride Sunday. They drove at last up one of the mountain trails, as far as Old Liz would go. Then they walked an "infinite" distance farther to Teal creek. They fished for a while, catching many fine trout.

"Let's stay here all night," the lady said.

"But we haven't any blankets," was the judgment of the master of the household. But the notion finally appealed to him, too, so he proposed to walk back to a house near where they had left the car, borrow some blankets, and spend the night at the falls. He finally returned with the blanket. They plucked some of the down off the hemlock trees, and the bosom feathers of a quantity of ferns; then they turned in, with the fire crackling weirdly on the rocky ledge and the falls tinkling and sighing everlastingly in the dusk.

The night proved to be the longest night in all history, and the blanket was hardly as big as a postage stamp, divided into three. The bears and wildcats didn't come and eat 'em up, they almost wished they would, for they have fine warm pelts, even if it is usually rather annoying for a person to get inside one of them under such conditions. The night, indeed, has hardly ended yet for the one-blanket crowd. They're still cold and wondering why people publish all this stuff about the joys of the wild.

Friends Are Entertained On Lawn at Silverton

The invited guests were: Mrs. Gordon McCall, Mrs. Ernest Elkmann, Miss Hilsop, Miss Rosella Richardson and Miss Marion Taylor.

CANNED GOODS ARE GOING UP

Sharp Advance in Near Future is Prediction of Wholesale Dealer

25 PER CENT PROBABLE

Relief from Panicky Condition is Felt by Grocery Tradesman

Canned goods in general may be expected to take a sharp advance in price in the near future, according to good wholesale authority. The trade has taken a considerable quantity of this year's fruit pack. One of the Salem canneries reports that practically all its product is under agreement for the year. All this will mean the stabilizing of prices, and their steady if not heavy advance.

25 Per Cent Boost Likely. Corn, peas, and to a lesser extent tomatoes, are expected to make the largest advance. A boost of fully 25 per cent is anticipated by one of the clearest-headed of the wholesalers in the valley. This figure, however, is not put out as a definite prophecy. It is part of the general advancing tendency, though these particular goods are almost certain to advance more than other commodities.

Oatmeal Going Up. Oatmeal is another product that is almost certain to be high in price, for there is said to be an unusual shortage of white oats suitable for table preparation. The general tendency of the market is upward in almost every line, not to war prices, but certainly higher than the low level that has prevailed in many lines this summer.

Flour More Stable. Sugar is advancing every few days. It is now close to a dollar a sack above the lowest price of the season. Flour is perhaps the least liable to a marked increase. The wheat crop is so large that it may not allow much flour increase. Fats are advancing somewhat, and also hams. Bacon, however, is now as low as it has ever been.

The general steadier condition of wages and general business all over the country is responsible for the improvement in the panicky condition of the grocery sales prices.

Losses Wiped Off. Most of the high priced stuff that had to be sacrificed, has already gone onto the shelves, and the loss has been wiped off as something of the past. Whatever is left is likely to stand pretty closely at the price of replacement, and as this price is above the panic sales price of a thousand commodities, the future holds only the promise of a legitimate advance rather than an illegitimate fall.

Camp Grounds Given Big Patronage During Month

A total of 1142 cars registered at the Salem auto camp grounds during the month of July, according to the report of Superintendent T. G. Albert. This number nearly doubles the 680 registered during the same month last year. During the one month this year four families bought or leased homes in Salem, at least one of which had no intention of staying upon arrival here. Of the 1142 registered this month, 114 cars were cars belonging to local people who stayed only for a day or two for picnics or for the night. Registrations according to state were: Oregon, 275; Washington, 222; California, 307; Idaho, 45; Montana, 28; North Dakota, 1; Florida, 3; Missouri, 4; Nebraska, 9; Kansas, 10; Ohio, 7; Texas, 11; Oklahoma, 3; New York, 14; Wisconsin, 4; Wyoming, 8; Virginia, 1; British Columbia, Canada, 6; Minnesota, 6; Nevada, 4; Colorado, 11; Iowa, 5; Indiana, 3; Illinois, 9; Arizona, 7; Michigan, 5; Utah, 4; Wisconsin, 4; Arkansas, 1; Alberta, 2.

THE U. S. NOBBY TREAD Where the going is specially heavy with snow, mud or sand, in billy country where maximum traction on the road is a factor, no other tire tread yet devised is quite so effective, or so wholly approved by motoring opinion, as the U. S. Nobby Tread. Its very simplicity—three rows of diagonal knobs, gripping the road—is the result of all the years of U. S. Rubber experience with every type of road the world over. If every one listened to experience, how much they'd save STOP and talk to the next man you see with U. S. Tires on his car. Ask him why. Most likely you'll hear an interesting story about his tire experiments—before the answer was found. Money wasted. Promises unkept. Trouble on the road—humorous to every one except the man who went through it. Finally U. S. Tires. And U. S. Tires ever since. Perhaps it's the experience of U. S. Tire buyers that makes them more emphatic in their preference than ever this year. When these men have tried most everything by the way of "staggering bargains," "hurrah discounts," "discontinued lines at less" and so forth they know what not to get. They want a fresh, live tire. With a good reputation. That's everything it says it is. With the people behind it who back it up. There are 92 U. S. Factory Branches. Your local U. S. Dealer is drawing upon them continually to keep his stocks sized up, complete—to give you service. Whenever he gets one or a hundred tires from a U. S. Factory Branch, they are newly made this season's tires. Sold to you at a net price. Full values. Square-dealing. A reputable dealer.
