

SALEM HAS BEAUTIFUL IRIS AND DAHLIA GARDENS, FOLKS DIFFERENT IN APPRECIATION

"A primrose on the river's brim A yellow primrose was to him— And nothing more." There are color-blind people to whom all colors are just one drab form; they see everything; just as the camera sees red—which is no color at all only form. A flower garden is to them a riot of weeds.

as a sacred trust for the service of all the city. The way to have big, fine dahlias is to see that about only one good stalk is allowed to grow from each bulb, for the season," said Mrs. Olinger.

EDITORIALS OF THE PEOPLE

The "Road Bee." Editor Statesman: The residents of West Salem are planning to have a "road bee."

With the creation of man God demanded two things: a tenth of his income and a seventh of his time.

What do you owe to the Christianity that you are treating so lightly? Compare your lot to the lot of a farmer, laborer or what-

One Man's Mortgage Editor Statesman: Maybe I would be a better horrible text for a sermon than any of my neighbors, but still I venture to use a friend rather than myself.

My friend has some good land, partly paid for, and he is a good worker. Last year, he hit it right in his farm crop. He cleaned up $8000 cash for his year's work.

Not So Fast. Editor Statesman: It was quite amusing when reading in last Sunday's Statesman the article from C. B. Barclay of Seattle, relating the "early days" in Salem, where he mentions so many familiar names.

There are no restrictions. Any boy or girl in the Pacific Northwest can have one of these bicycles.

Just secure 30 new half-yearly subscriptions for the Daily Statesman. Make your vacation days count. Start at once to get subscription. This is your golden opportunity.

Pay no money. Collect no money. In case you are not able to get 30 subscriptions you will be paid a cash commission on every subscription secured.

Here's How You Start Fill in and mail this coupon today and full information and supplies will be forwarded to you by return mail.

COUPON STATESMAN PUBLISHING CO., SALEM, ORE. Dept. P. H. I want to win a Harley-Davidson Special Bicycle. Send me full information on how I can get one free.

NEWS BRIEFS FROM INDEPENDENCE

INDEPENDENCE, Or., Aug. 5. (Special to The Statesman)—Andrew Hanson and wife of Salem motored over to this city yesterday to spend the day with Mrs. George Conkey.

Frank Howland and sons Wallace and Richard, cousins of Mrs. George Conkey, wholesale grocerman of Seattle, spent yesterday with Mrs. Conkey.

Mrs. Crosby Davis was in Salem yesterday. G. G. Walker and wife, who have been spending a fortnight with the family of W. H. Hill at Spokane, returned home yesterday.

Mrs. Addie Lynch of San Francisco, a cousin of Mrs. George Conkey, spent the day with her. C. W. Henkle and wife, who have been sojourning in Washington and British Columbia, making the trip by auto, returned home yesterday. They report a delightful trip.

Mrs. K. C. Eldridge is spending a few days with friends at Oregon City. Mrs. William McKinney was a passenger to Portland today where she met her daughter Althea, who came down from Seattle for the week-end.

The latest acquisition in the household of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hoffman, is a little Miss, born to them Tuesday. Mrs. Marks, mother of Mrs. Pearl Hoffman, of Cosmatat, Wash., and Mrs. W. Clark, of Hood River, who have been the guests of Mrs. Hoffman for about 10 days, have left for their homes.

Miss Elda Briscoe of Eugene, who has been making an extended visit in different parts of California, stopped off in this city for a short visit with Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Dunkell while on her return home.

Miss Thelma Rosinot, of Portland, is spending the summer with her aunt, Mrs. H. C. Dunkell. Mr. and Mrs. A. Barclay, of Portland, are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Dunkell. Dr. Hanson went to Salem this morning and brought home Mrs. Minnie Coby, who recently submitted to an operation at Williamette sanitarium. She is recovering.

Mrs. Nellie Burnett and her son Lemuel, who are employed in Salem for the summer, were home for a few days this week. E. F. Black went to Scio the first of the week on business. A number of residents in the Eldin neighborhood enjoyed a picnic party Sunday on the banks of the Luckiamut at the ford.

Those making up the picnic party were Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Hewitt and son Darrell, of Greenwood; Mr. and Mrs. Percy Hadley and children, Glen and Helen, of Alder; Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Hannum and children, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Johnson and children, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Tetherow, Mrs. Maud Hannum of Washington, Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Jones and two sons, Miss Erma Givens and Harold Pratt.

Mrs. J. S. Cooper and daughter Genevieve are visiting Portland relatives this week. J. G. McIntosh is confined to his home with sickness. Mrs. W. H. Craven, Miss Lucille and Robert Craven, and Mrs. S. F. Robertson, who have been sojourning for a fortnight at Bar View, are home again.

Mrs. Leonard Davis, after a two weeks visit at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Wolf, left today for her home in Los Angeles.

make out a case against him. They keep insisting that he is lying in his account of finding Milly. They agree with his statement that he was only at their house a few minutes, but they said he said at first that he went straight home and found her. That would mean that he waited nearly an hour before telephoning Dr. Irons.

"But they accuse him of changing his story later," she went on, "saying that when he went into the house about five-thirty, on his return from his father-in-law's, he did not see her, and that he went out again upon an errand, and upon his return after six found her lying near the telephone. But the last statement is the one I believe Kenneth made. Several persons heard him say that, while there is only the family's word for the first story they claim he told."

"You say he says he went into the house at 5:30 and did not see her?" The question escaped me involuntarily. "Yes. Why?" Her voice held a startled inflection which warned me not to betray the reason for my query. "Nothing," I returned inelegantly. "It was simply an idle question."

PIONEERS WILL COME TO FAIR

Sixtieth Annual State Exposition Heralded Best in Oregon History

Improvements Added Five Miles of Paved Walks and Roads Will Add to Comfort of Patrons

Everything indicates that the Oregon state fair for 1921 will easily be the largest and most interesting annual event in the state history. The week of September 26 to October 1, has been set aside by the board, this year marking the 60th anniversary of the annual gathering. It is expected that a large number of pioneers of the northwest will come to Salem to participate in the homecoming on the famous old campground that adjoins the state fair grounds proper.

Purse Limit Raised Premiums and purses amounting to $75,000 have been allotted, with the premium lists revised and changed to meet the latest need of exhibitors. The result is that already practically every foot of space in the buildings has been spoken for, with the outside ground space going rapidly. Inasmuch as several new buildings have been added this year, this fact alone insures a larger and more pronounced success than heretofore. Machinery, which previously shared space with the automobile display, will be placed in two large new buildings, which will care for about 40 exhibitors. Automobiles representing a large number of manufacturers will be shown in the old building, with accessories given a place of prominence.

Bird Building Is Big The new poultry building is another structure that fills a long-felt need. It will accommodate about 4000 birds, and has a floor space of 80 by 140 feet. It will represent, when finished, the latest word in modern construction for an exhibition building, and will have much to do in attracting many new exhibitors. This building as well as all the other new ones is practically completed.

The old poultry building is being remodeled and will be used as a sheep barn. Much other work in the nature of improvement has been going on. The grandstand has been rehung and remodeled; other roofs have been repainted; five miles of paved roads and walks have been placed, with fences, sanitary drinking fountains and other minor details added for the comfort and convenience of the public.

Gardeners and landscape artists are devoting their energies to beautifying the grounds, and by September the beds and plots should be a blaze of brilliant coloring. The Portland Floral society will have jurisdiction over the floral exhibit, its display to be in the new pavilion as formerly.

Among those already named to take charge of various departments are: Mrs. Alice M. Weister, Portland, art; Mrs. Mabel Holman, Portland, textiles; William Schumacher, Hillsboro, livestock; W. A. Taylor, Macleay, agriculture; H. C. Brown, Portland, horse show; J. E. Calavan, identified with the office of the state school superintendent, will direct the industrial exhibit made by the juveniles.

Racing Program Elaborate Everything indicates a splendid racing program. Almost continuous work has been going on at the track and horsemen now pronounce it as fine as any to be found in the country. Early closing of racing entries was made June 28, with the late entries closed August 1. Rutherford and Tyron of California will be among those who will contest for the splendid purses offered. A number of horses have been in Salem for several months, working out on the local track. W. P. McNair, of Douglas, Ariz., for six consecutive years official starter in Salem, will be here again this season.

The young lady across the way says that if she were a man she would insist upon having the services of a variety.

W. GAHLSDORF 125 N. Liberty St.

Last Logans of Season May Be Had for Picking

While the loganberry season is officially closed, and there are no more berries for the big market than there are snowbirds in a nest show, it is understood that there are really a good many berries in the fields, the last straggling product of the season that

PIONEERS WILL COME TO FAIR

Sixtieth Annual State Exposition Heralded Best in Oregon History

Improvements Added Five Miles of Paved Walks and Roads Will Add to Comfort of Patrons

Everything indicates that the Oregon state fair for 1921 will easily be the largest and most interesting annual event in the state history. The week of September 26 to October 1, has been set aside by the board, this year marking the 60th anniversary of the annual gathering. It is expected that a large number of pioneers of the northwest will come to Salem to participate in the homecoming on the famous old campground that adjoins the state fair grounds proper.

Purse Limit Raised Premiums and purses amounting to $75,000 have been allotted, with the premium lists revised and changed to meet the latest need of exhibitors. The result is that already practically every foot of space in the buildings has been spoken for, with the outside ground space going rapidly. Inasmuch as several new buildings have been added this year, this fact alone insures a larger and more pronounced success than heretofore. Machinery, which previously shared space with the automobile display, will be placed in two large new buildings, which will care for about 40 exhibitors. Automobiles representing a large number of manufacturers will be shown in the old building, with accessories given a place of prominence.

Bird Building Is Big The new poultry building is another structure that fills a long-felt need. It will accommodate about 4000 birds, and has a floor space of 80 by 140 feet. It will represent, when finished, the latest word in modern construction for an exhibition building, and will have much to do in attracting many new exhibitors. This building as well as all the other new ones is practically completed.

The old poultry building is being remodeled and will be used as a sheep barn. Much other work in the nature of improvement has been going on. The grandstand has been rehung and remodeled; other roofs have been repainted; five miles of paved roads and walks have been placed, with fences, sanitary drinking fountains and other minor details added for the comfort and convenience of the public.

Gardeners and landscape artists are devoting their energies to beautifying the grounds, and by September the beds and plots should be a blaze of brilliant coloring. The Portland Floral society will have jurisdiction over the floral exhibit, its display to be in the new pavilion as formerly.

Among those already named to take charge of various departments are: Mrs. Alice M. Weister, Portland, art; Mrs. Mabel Holman, Portland, textiles; William Schumacher, Hillsboro, livestock; W. A. Taylor, Macleay, agriculture; H. C. Brown, Portland, horse show; J. E. Calavan, identified with the office of the state school superintendent, will direct the industrial exhibit made by the juveniles.

Racing Program Elaborate Everything indicates a splendid racing program. Almost continuous work has been going on at the track and horsemen now pronounce it as fine as any to be found in the country. Early closing of racing entries was made June 28, with the late entries closed August 1. Rutherford and Tyron of California will be among those who will contest for the splendid purses offered. A number of horses have been in Salem for several months, working out on the local track. W. P. McNair, of Douglas, Ariz., for six consecutive years official starter in Salem, will be here again this season.

The young lady across the way says that if she were a man she would insist upon having the services of a variety.

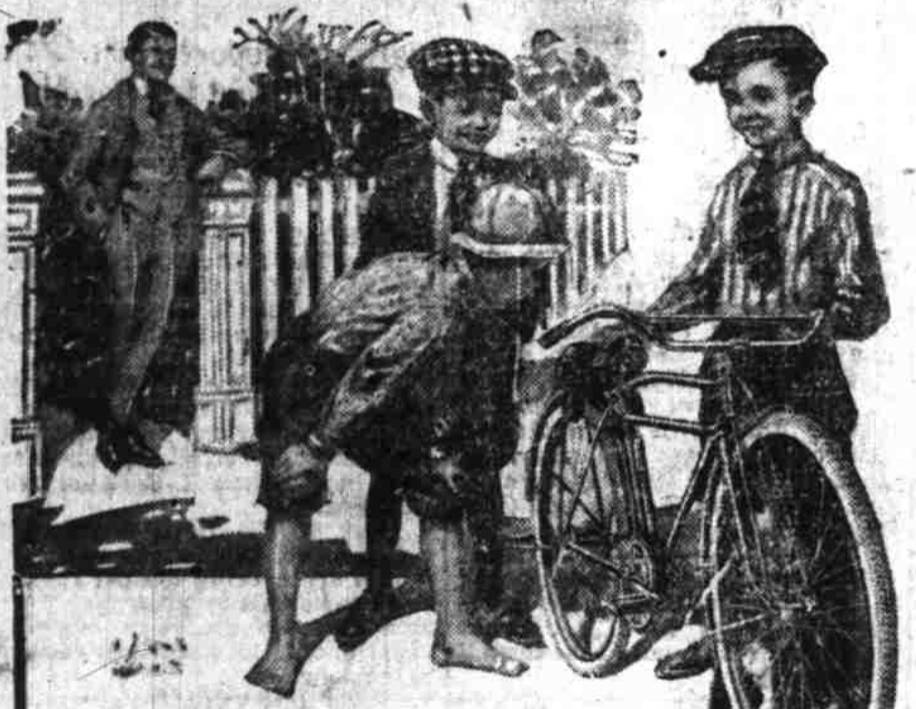

W. GAHLSDORF 125 N. Liberty St.

Last Logans of Season May Be Had for Picking

While the loganberry season is officially closed, and there are no more berries for the big market than there are snowbirds in a nest show, it is understood that there are really a good many berries in the fields, the last straggling product of the season that

The young lady across the way says that if she were a man she would insist upon having the services of a variety.

Double Show Today and Tomorrow Elizabeth Schreiber (Former Salem Girl) In Egyptian and Spanish Dances Also Tosca Berger World Renowned Violin Virtuoso And Conway Tearle In Marooned Hearts GRAND Where the Big Shows Play

"Sure! It's A HARLEY-DAVIDSON! Dad Says It's America's Finest Bicycle"

Boys and Girls Get One of These Famous Harley-Davidson Bicycles Free

There are no restrictions. Any boy or girl in the Pacific Northwest can have one of these bicycles.

Just secure 30 new half-yearly subscriptions for the Daily Statesman. Make your vacation days count. Start at once to get subscription. This is your golden opportunity.

Pay no money. Collect no money. In case you are not able to get 30 subscriptions you will be paid a cash commission on every subscription secured.

Here's How You Start Fill in and mail this coupon today and full information and supplies will be forwarded to you by return mail.

COUPON STATESMAN PUBLISHING CO., SALEM, ORE. Dept. P. H. I want to win a Harley-Davidson Special Bicycle. Send me full information on how I can get one free.

MY HEART AND MY HUSBAND

Adele Garrison's New Phase of REVELATIONS OF A WIFE

CHAPTER 135 WHY MADGE FELT MR. STOCKBRIDGE HAD MUCH TO EXPLAIN.

It was upon my lips to say that I did not doubt the statement of Milly Stockbridge's family to the effect that her husband had threatened to divorce her but an hour before she was found dead.

But one look at Alice Holcombe's face stopped the words upon my lips. It was full of the irony which her voice had held. To her the story was false, only concocted by the dead woman's family in an attempt to throw suspicion upon the man whose life she had ruined.

But to me it was a confirmation of a theory I had alternately accepted and rejected since the terrible moment when Milly Stockbridge's telephone threats to me were cut short in such sinister, mysterious fashion.

Kenneth Stockbridge had returned home only that afternoon. He had no secret of his wife since her discovery of Alice Holcombe's photograph with its tender inscription in the secret drawer of his private desk. Indeed, he knew nothing of her opening his desk or of her detection of the secret he had guarded so long and with such exquisite honor.

It was Milly Stockbridge's first opportunity to tax her husband with her discovery. I had seen enough of her to be sure that she was not alone in her rage, accumulated wrath upon him—could imagine her animal rage, and the vile epithets she must have heaped upon both him and the woman enshrined with such sacredness in his heart.

Words That Echo. If Kenneth Stockbridge had finally turned upon his tormentor, shriveled her with his denunciations, and then had gone to her people with a demand for a release from her burden he had so long carried, it was no more than any dispassionate observer familiar with his story would have deemed fully justified. But, of course, taken in connection with her sudden death only a few moments later the story had a most sinister look.

VALLEY PEARS DISPOSED OF

All Controlled by Association in Willamette and Umpqua Sold

The entire crop of pears controlled by the Oregon Growers Co-operative association in the Willamette and Umpqua valleys has been sold at $65 a ton f.o.b. shipping point for No. 1's and $35 for No. 2's.

The terms of the sale will permit of early distribution of advances to the grower after his fruit is marketed. This is thought to be the best sale of pears in the west this year. Reports from other sections indicate that other large marketing organizations have only approached this figure.

The "California Fruit News" of July 30 reports that the California Pear Growers association sold its entire tonnage available for the canneries at the early quoted prices of $61.75 a ton for No. 1's and $35 for No. 2 Bartlett's. While the California crop was materially cut by unfavorable weather conditions in July there was a feeling that it was desirable to have the pears canned and sold out rapidly this year, leaving a clean market for another year.

Crop Moves This Month. Reports from Yakima show that 10 cars of pears sold at $60 a ton but that the price subsequently dropped to $40 and $45 and that a large tonnage will be bought at that figure. Pears will start moving in the Umpqua valley about the middle of August and in the Willamette a few days later.

DODGE TOURING CAR For Sale $450.00 Guaranteed in good order Portland Railway Light & Power Co. 237 North Liberty Street

The Introductory Saving Sale Of W. B. Corsets ENDS SATURDAY Evening at 8 p. m. Be Sure to Get Your Corset Today, the Saving Is Big $2.00 and $3.00 Values at $1.49 $3.50 and $4.00 Values at $1.98 W. B. Corsets are the recognized Standard for Quality Style and Fit After Saturday evening they all go back to their former prices Kaloury Bros THE STORE FOR THE PEOPLE 466 State Street Phone 877