BOARD MAY DEFER BUILDING SCHOOL

Architect Advises Delay to Escape Inconvenience of Wet Weather

Actual construction work on the proposed new plant of the state training school for boys will be delayed until early next spring if the members of the state board of control approve a suggestion offered by W. C. Knighton, architect. The plans will cost approximately $250,000, and was approved by the legislature at its last session.

Mr. Knighton informed the board yesterday that it would require at least another month to complete the plans for the plant, and as a result the buildings could not be gotten under cover before the fall rains set in. Because of this, he advised postponement of actual construction work until next spring.

If Mr. Knighton's proposal is accepted, the contract will be awarded in January or February, and some of the preliminary operations will be completed before spring. It would then be possible to complete the entire plant during the year 1922.

Wisconsin Picnic Will Be Held Here Thursday

Former residents of Wisconsin will hold their annual picnic at the state fair grounds in Salem Thursday, according to announcement made yesterday. The program will include a dinner at noon, followed by athletic sports and addresses. Special musical numbers also will feature the day's festivities.

Many Applications for Lausanne Hall Received

Willamette university continues to receive daily applications for attendance at the university this fall and for reservations in Lausanne hall. Among those who have made reservations during the past two or three days are the following:

Miss Helen Dark of Moro. She was a student last term and will enter the sophomore class this fall.

Alma Halvorson of Silverton. She is a graduate of the Silverton high school and has made reservations in Lausanne hall.

Myrtle Tipler of Elberton, Wn. She is from the Elberton high school and has a reservation in Lausanne hall.

From Roseburg, two young women made reservation yesterday. These are Lois Geddes and Naomi Phelps.

GROCERIES GO UP, MEAT TO REMAIN

Salem Dealers Comment on Price Prospects For Coming Winter

It is really true that food stuffs as sold by the wholesale grocer are most likely to be considerably higher this fall and winter. The bottom was reached about the last week in June, a prominent wholesaler said yesterday, and since then, there has been a gradual upward tendency.

Of course canned goods are going higher and likely to continue to go higher, this wholesaler said. Already tomatoes, peas and canned corn have advanced, and the salmon will sell at a much higher price than a year ago.

Evaporated milk is also in for an advance in price, as there have already been several higher quotations. Canned peaches and asparagus, as well as rolled oats, are doing some climbing and no chance this fall for lower prices. Wheat products will hold about the same as during the past season.

There is some satisfaction to the housekeeper in that meats will hardly follow canned goods in the upward tendency. Market men in Salem say that meats will about hold their own and that the housekeeper may buy her meat steaks, pork chops and veal at about the same old prices for some time to come.

SCHUEBEL FILES BILL OF COSTS

Aggregate of $1,483.80 Is Mentioned in Papers Before Court

Attorney Chris Schuebel of Oregon City has filed in the supreme court a bill of costs involved in appealing the Hawley divorce suit to the state's highest tribunal. The costs, according to Mr. Schuebel's statement, aggregated $1483.80. The items included filing fees, court reporter fees, printing of abstracts and briefs and trial fees.

Willard Hawley, defendant in the action, won a decree in the circuit court for Clackamas county, but upon appeal to the supreme court it was held that neither he nor Marjorie Hawley, the plaintiff, were entitled to legal separation.

Mr. Schuebel represented Mrs. Hawley.

Time for Conservative Investment

Speculation was never so uncalled for, or so much lacked temptation, as in these days when legitimate, conservative, investments return so profitable a yield.

With the very safest securities yielding as high as 7 1/4 to 8 1/4%, every man is likely to think twice before putting his money into securities of doubtful nature.

Securities offered and recommended by us are carefully selected with primary view of affording safety of principal to customers. Our lists are always available to those seeking investments of the highest character.
