

SOCIETY NEWS OF THE WEEK

By D. D. WILSON Phone 196

One of the real floral shows of Salem and indeed of all Oregon, is maintained at the Ladd & Bush bank, through the floral activities of Miss Sallie Bush.

The flowers are grown at the old Bush homestead, in the south part of the city, where Miss Bush has a bewildering display of personally-conducted flowers. They run all the gamut of color; black, white, red, blue, green, violet, and the primary colors and an uncountable number of tints and shades between. It is said that the trained, artistic-enough eye can differentiate more than 2,000,000 shades. It would be hard to say that there are not that many tints in the Bush gardens; most eyes do not get far beyond the seven primary colors, and one person in every 100 is entirely color-blind. Wouldn't that be a calamity—to be shut out from the enjoyment of 2,000,000 separate sensations of delight?

The flowers are displayed in great vases in the bank rooms, and are daily delight to hundreds of people. Some who haven't a dollar in the bank any more than an English sparrow has a well-combed tail, pass through the shop, pass through solely to view these floral beauties. They have come to be almost a Salem institution, these dainty and wonderful blooms of so many kinds. Calla lilies, rare green and lemon-tinted gladioli, are among the flowers now being supplied; though there are a dozen other species, and some of the single species, like the gladioli, have as many as a score of varieties.

A flower is beautiful out in the woods, where perhaps no more than one stray hunter a year visits its neighborhood and worships at its shrine—though the wilder hunter is just as likely to feed it to his burro as to admire its beauty. But it's a lot more useful flower when set out where hundreds, or thousands of people can admire it. It's a real public service to exhibit such beautiful blooms where everybody can enjoy them.

WRAPS

That Denote the Trend of Fall Fashions!

They are the most stunning coats! Of all the new fall materials and such standard weaves as velour, bolivia, serges, etc. Some have large self collars—others have lovely fur collars—still others are artistically embroidered. The lines are those in favor with the fall silhouette. Of the values, we need only say that in all things, style, material, fittings, workmanship and finish, you can find no better in the most expensive wraps in the country.

Our early fall showing includes wraps that range in price from $12.48 to $95.00

Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Fairchild and family, accompanied by Dr. R. H. Fitzgerald of Portland, returned recently from an eight weeks' auto trip. They traveled nearly 6000 miles through southern Oregon, California and Arizona, and report a very enjoyable trip. They left Salem June 16, driving directly to Claremont, Cal., to attend the commencement exercises of Pomona college and take part in the 20th reunion of the class of 1901, both Dr. and Mrs. Fairchild being members of that class.

A niece of Mrs. Fairchild, Miss Dorothy Moles, one of the 1921 graduates, was married on August 2, to Charles A. Valle, a classmate. The couple left soon afterward for Hilo, Hawaii where they will both teach in a Christ school.

The Fairchild-Fitzgerald party were guests of Dr. Fairchild's sister and parents in La Jolla and his brother in Santa Rosa. They also visited a brother of Mrs. Fairchild, who lives in Berkeley, and friends in many other California towns.

During their trip the party visited Tia Juana, Mexico, the Grand Canyon, Sequoia national park and Crater lake. On the whole the roads were good, the Coast highway between Eureka and Crescent City being the worst road encountered during the entire trip. In another year this highway will doubtlessly be much improved, as there is much construction going on in this section.

Members of the Three Link club were entertained on Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. A. Cummings, 1337 North Winter street. The rooms were tastefully decorated with hydrangeas and greenery and the afternoon was spent in various amusements.

A short program was given, consisting of the following: Vocal solo, Mrs. R. W. Simeral; reading, Mrs. W. H. Stigmund; and a piano solo by Miss Evelyn Cummings.

Those present were: Mrs. Clarence Albin, Mrs. Lawrence Albin, Mrs. R. W. Simeral, Mrs. Byron Wells, Mrs. C. L. McAllister, Mrs. C. G. Nichols, Mrs. M. R. Ivie, Mrs. Pascal Traglio, Mrs. Bertha Radcliffe, Mrs. H. E. Kink, Mrs. W. C. Eberhard, Mrs. O. E. Lewis, Mrs. Sam Wright, Mrs. Carl Lachelle, Mrs. A. W. Peebles, Mrs. Tom Claggett, Mrs. Otto Beatty, Mrs. A. J. Patterson, Mrs. Diamond Flenor, Mrs. Charles Cameron, Mrs. Peters, Mrs. W. H. Stigmund, Mrs. L. W. Weber, Mrs. F. O. Land, Mrs. George Voinisko, Mrs. Joe Martin, Mrs. Irene St. Helens, Mrs. Loveland, Mrs. George Winchell, Mrs. William Staiger, Mrs. William Yarnell, Mrs. Cummings, Miss Rose Collins, Miss Slattery, Miss Wilda Stigmund, Rosalind Claggett, Adeline Seymour, Erma Oehler, Evelyn Cummings, Wilda Flenor and Lloyd Cummings.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Conner returned home Wednesday from Seattle and Tacoma where they had spent ten days attending the national convention of the American Poultry association and visiting the many large commercial poultry plants of the Sound country. Mr. Conner being editor of the Northwest Poultry Journal, published in Salem. He reports 300 delegates in attendance at the convention; representing many eastern states, Canada, British Columbia, and one delegate being from far away Australia. These delegates were given free excursions by boat to Tacoma and Victoria, B. C. from Seattle and many auto trips and were enthusiastic in their praise of the Seattle poultry people as entertainers. The next annual convention of this association will be held at Knoxville, Tenn., in August of next year.

Friday evening a picnic party of 12 motored to a fine grove a few miles from town where, after a most enjoyable dinner, the evening was spent by some of the party in a camp fire and by others in swimming in the river, the beautiful moonlight adding to the general enjoyment.

The party was given by Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Moores in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Moores, who are leaving about September 1 for the eastern states.

Since Mr. Moores' return to Oregon in June, the young couple have had many delightful weeks motoring to the Newport, Seaside and Tillamook beaches, and visiting with the Robert Kinney family at the Gearhart cottage. The trip to Rainier National park, including all the large cities of Washington, was also a delightful experience.

Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Allan Bynon invited in their honor a company of old friends to watch the moon rise from some available knoll on the bank of the Willamette and enjoy a picnic lunch under the trees.

Miss Jessica Willie of 179 South Fifteenth street, has accepted an urgent invitation from the musical associations and women's clubs of Nowata, Okla., to open up a Dunning studio in that city, and is planning to leave in a few days via the Northern Pacific, visiting friends en route.

Miss Willie is well fitted for this work and while her friends are sorry to lose her from the musical circles of Salem, they are glad she is to be so pleasantly located.

Mrs. W. W. Rosebraugh and little son Harold returned Saturday from a week's visit at Newport.

Members of the Elite embroidery club surprised Mrs. A. M. Clough on Wednesday afternoon at the new Clough home. The affair was in the nature of a house warming, the afternoon being spent in conversation and needlework.

Those present were: Mrs. J. A. Bernardi, Mrs. R. C. Kriesel, Mrs. Eugene M. Rulifson, Mrs. Otto Sheiberg, Mrs. Fred Barker, Mrs. Bert Waller, Mrs. C. L. Prince, Mrs. C. P. McIntyre, Mrs. Richard Erickson, Mrs. Lena Townsend, Mrs. Clark and Miss Nellie Knox.

The P. E. O. Sisterhood entertained on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Gerald Volk, complimenting Mrs. Elva Smith, Walton of Boston, Mass., who is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Smith. Mrs. Walton, who was formerly connected with the local chapter, has since making her home in Boston, affiliated with a branch of that organization.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kienly and sons, Harold and Donald, of Pasadena, Cal., expect to return to their home Wednesday, after spending several weeks as guests of Salem relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ruef and Mrs. Henry Schultz. They also spent a week doing the Columbia highway and visiting at various points along the route. They will be accompanied on the homeward journey by Mr. and Mrs. Rues' and little daughter, Mary, who plan to make their home in California, where Mr. Ruef will take up landscape gardening. Mrs. Kienly and Mrs. Schultz are Mr. Ruef's sisters.

Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Mulkey of Arlington are visiting for the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen A. Stone, 373 Leslie street. They have been spending the summer at Monmouth.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Strickland are spending ten days at Rockaway.

Mrs. J. D. Sutherland who has visited some weeks at the home of her sister, Mrs. C. O. Rice, left Saturday for her home in Los Angeles.

The following members of the Modern Writers' section of the Salem Arts league are enjoying an open-Sunday outing at Vitae Springs: Mrs. Ruth Fargo, Mrs. Ruth Dailley, Mrs. B. Monroe Gilbert, Mrs. J. C. Nelson, Mrs. Clara V. Barton, Miss Audrey L'anch, Miss Renska Swart, M. ss Clark.

The affair is really an open air meeting of the writers' section as each member brings a literary contribution. A night in with three appetizing outdoor meals rounds out the program.

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. DeLong are enjoying a visit from their niece, Miss Bella F. Reid of Centralia, Wash., who is on her way home after spending her vacation with friends in California.

Mrs. Nelson D. Moor and daughters, Jean and Rose of Edmond, Alta., spent the week-end at the home of Mrs. Moor's brother, Mr. George W. Shant. On their homeward trip they will visit at Portland, Kelso, Seattle and Vancouver.

Mrs. Lizzie Welborn and two daughters, living at 1449 Ferry, returned Saturday from a week's stay at Newport.

The members of the West Salem Ladies' Aid society of the M. E. church will give an ice cream social on Wednesday afternoon and evening at the home of Miss Lottie McAdams.

The affair will be under the general direction of Mrs. H. Hawthorne, president and Miss McAdams, vice president.

tion in the Keiojoku university for the past 14 years. She is on her way to Seattle where she will be engaged in magazine work for the ensuing year. She plans to return to Japan at the end of that time and to resume her work. Mrs. F. N. Harding of Salem is a guest at the home of her brother, William Keene, in Cottage Grove. Mr. Keene is manager there of a farm covering a thousand acres which is owned by Mrs. Harding.

The Count-on-me class of the Baptist Sunday school enjoyed a pleasant afternoon on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Milton Melcher. After the regular business meeting, the time was spent in parliamentary drill. Pink sweet peas were used in decoration. The hostess was assisted in serving the delightful refreshments by Mrs. William Byork, Miss Dorothy Byork and Mrs. William A. Blake. The next meeting will take place on September 21 at the home of Mrs. T. A. Lafferty, 1171 Chemekeeta street.

The marriage of Miss Maud McCoy to Elvin Lantis took place on Saturday afternoon at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. J. W. Lewis at 4:30 p. m.

The natural beauty of the garden where the ceremony took place was enhanced by bouquets of flowers and masses of foliage. The bridal party stood under a beautiful floral arch during the service which was read by Rev. John Robertson of Dufur. Those attending the bride were Misses Ruth Schultz, Amei a Heacock, Josephine Baumgartner, Clara Breitenstein and Jeanette Meredith. Mendelssohn's Wedding March was played by Miss Gretchen Brown. The bride was beautifully gowned in Chantilly lace and georgette with a corsage bouquet of orchids and lilies at the valley, while the bridesmaids and maids of honor were attired in various harmonizing shades of organdie. The bride's uncle, E. W. Lewis, gave her away. Wallace Carson acted as best man.

Bond Commission Calls Meeting for Thursday

The state bond commission will meet in Salem Thursday, August 25, when state industrial account commission funds to the amount of $20,000 will be invested in bonds. In the call for the meeting issued yesterday it was made plain that all municipalities, counties and other political subdivisions of the state having bonds to offer should have their propositions in the hands of the commission not later than noon on August 25.

The state bond commission was created at the last session of the legislature and is composed of O. P. Hoff, state treasurer; Governor Olcott and William Marshall, a member of the state industrial account commission.

M'COURT WILL RECEIVE POST

Judge Turner Unable to Accept Appointment to State Supreme Court

NOTABLE RECORD MADE

Newly Named Justice Graduate of Law Department of Willamette

Governor Olcott, following receipt of a letter yesterday in which Judge Robert Tucker of the Multnomah county circuit court said he would decline to accept the office of justice of the Oregon supreme court to succeed Justice Charles A. Johns, who has been nominated by President Harding as associate justice of the supreme court of the Philippine islands, announced that he would appoint John McCourt as Mr. Johns' successor in event the latter was confirmed by the senate for the foreign post.

Judge McCourt now presides over department No. 6 of the circuit court of Multnomah county. It was said here that he had informed Governor Olcott that he would accept the offer as justice of the Oregon supreme court in case of Mr. John's resignation.

Other Appointments Stand

Walter Evans, at present district attorney of Multnomah county, will be appointed by Governor Olcott to succeed Judge McCourt, while Captain Stanley Myers, now deputy city attorney of the city of Portland, will succeed Mr. Evans.

John McCourt was born in Canada but came to California a few months after that event in 1874 and located in Salem in 1890. He was graduated from the law department of Willamette university in Salem in 1896 and became associated with Jay Bowerman, in 1900 he left Salem for Pendleton. He was city attorney of Pendleton in March 1908, when first appointed United States district attorney at the end of a long and bitter patronage fight. He succeeded W. C. Bristol.

Important Work Done

During his term as United States district attorney he conducted all suits for cancellations of patents to public lands wrongfully acquired in land fraud operations amounting to the recovery of $1,750,000 and approximately 215,000 acres of land thrown open to litigation. Almost an equal amount of land was thrown open to settlement voluntarily following his successful prosecutions.

Mr. McCourt was reappointed United States district attorney by President Taft on May 22, 1912, serving until the advent of the Democratic administration in 1913, when he resigned to be succeeded by Clarence L. Reames.

Resignation Due Soon

He then took up the practice of law with the firm of Veazie, McCourt & Veazie, in which capacity he continued until November 24, 1919, when he was appointed circuit judge of department No. 6, Multnomah county, to succeed C. U. Gantenben.

Justice Johns, if confirmed by the senate for the Philippine berth, was expected to resign as a member of the Oregon supreme court about October 1. He is now at Newport, but will return to Salem about September 1 and resume his duties as a member of the supreme court.

John Franklin Gray is Named Second Lieutenant

Announcement is made from the office of Adjutant General George A. White, of the appointment of John Franklin Gray as second lieutenant infantry, under date of August 4. Lieutenant Gray is assigned to the 5th infantry. He enlisted in the service company and has heretofore been on duty at regimental headquarters.
