tion will again be proposed. It is not my judgment that any legislation should be passed that does not take into account the suitable settlement of soldiers upon the public domain. A provision of this character was in the house bill that was passed by that body, but was omitted from the senate bill, which was re-committed. After all past wars, land settlement has been included in soldier legislation, and it should be in legislation that is to be proposed.

SCHOOLS OPEN SEPTEMBER 19

Numerous Changes Made by Silvertown Board During Summer Months

SILVERTOWN, Or., Sept. 3.—(Special to The Statesman.)—The Silvertown school board has decided to open the Silvertown schools on September 19.

The old grade building has been moved to the lot at First and A streets, and is now being prepared for occupancy. The heating system will be removed from the basement of the cement building, known to many as the old High school building, to the new heating plant. This space will be used for the manual training classes. At present, the manual training apparatus is in the basement of the High school building. When it has been removed to the cement building, the basement will be remodeled for a science laboratory. The laboratory is now on the second floor of the High school building. This room is needed for general class room purposes. It is expected that much more space will be needed than these three buildings will afford. It is being considered whether or not to lease outside quarters for certain classes until the new building will be completed.

The contract for the new building is let for September 12, and it is planned that it will be completed in time to use at the beginning of the second semester. The board is at present considering the naming of the four buildings.

Diamonds are reported as being in poor demand. The ship workers are no longer in the buying field.

PRESIDENT NOT TO HEAR BOYS

State Fair Crowds Will Not Hear Executive Address By Telephone

President Harding will neither hear the Whitney Boys' chorus when it sings at the state fair grounds here October 2, nor will he address, by means of an amplifier, the crowd assembled at the fair grounds, according to word received from him by Governor Olcott.

The governor had written the president asking permission to have the White House specially wired that the fair feature might be executed. Several amplifiers were to be placed on the grounds here.

A telegram received from George B. Christian, Jr., secretary to the president, said: "The president desires me to thank you very cordially for your letter of August 27, but regrets that it is impossible to meet your wishes. He does expect to be in Washington on October 2. He is very sorry."

TABERNACLE MEETINGS Tabernacle meetings will continue in the Willamette campus tent on 12th street, at the corner of Washington and Bond streets. No services to be held Sunday morning to conflict with other established Salem churches, but will be preaching at 2:30 and 7:30 p. m. Sunday and every evening during the week. Rev. C. E. Conley, veteran evangelist and singer, for years with the Moody Bible school, will preach Sunday afternoon; Rev. C. C. Crowston, of the United States into agreement on a plan of protection. Work toward this legislation, Senator McNary thinks, will be under way actively the latter part of this month.

Reclamation Delayed Because of the congested condition of the senate calendar, Senator McNary does not expect to present any reclamation legislation before the next regular session of congress, and possibly not until after the first of the coming year. Senator McNary has pending a reclamation bill providing for the creation of an initial fund of $250,000,000.

The senator believes the treaty with Germany, recently signed in Berlin, will be ratified soon after the conclusion of the present recess. Since congress is to reconvene in special session September 21, it is possible that the treaty may be ratified by the end of this month.

Some Delay Expected The Democratic members doubtless will delay the issue somewhat with objections, and there may be some amendments to the treaty," said the senator; "but I look for its early ratification. The treaty will be taken up the first week after congress reconvenes.

"During the same week, the finance committee of the senate will report the new revenue, or taxation bill, which will supersede the tariff bill for early consideration. I think the plan outlined in the house to raise revenue through income and inheritance taxes and a tax on tobacco will be the basis of the senate bill.

Wet and Dry Issue Up "Unfinished business now pending and that will be taken up at once includes the anti-beer bill. The issue is whether a prohibition agent may search an individual, his home, his conveyances, etc., without a search warrant. The senate adopted an amendment which would require the officer to procure a warrant. The house and senate conferences amended the measure so that the warrant would be necessary only for the searching of a dwelling. I think the senate will adopt this change."

Senator McNary attaches much importance to the agricultural relief bill, which has been passed. It will aid the farmers in an important way, he declares, in carrying their crops until they can be sold with profit.

Farmers' Role Important "Legislation covering the basic farming industry took most of the time of the congress," says Senator McNary. "The agricultural relief bill is an administration measure, which I offered as a substitute for the Norris bill. It provides a fund of $1,000,000,000 and aids banks in extending credit to farmers. The day following the passage of this bill the war finance corporation, an administration agency of the government, came to the assistance of the wheat growers of the northwest by taking over 12,000,000 bushels of this year's product.

Packing Legislation Important "Legislation to regulate the meat packing industry was passed. By its advocates it is believed the measure will be of great benefit both to the producers of livestock and to the consumers. The measure is not drastic, but is purely regulatory.

A week before congress adjourned a bill regulating the grain exchanges was passed. Many evils practiced in the Chicago wheat pit are made unprofitable by the new statute. It will be administered by the secretary of agriculture, and it is believed the measure will prevent speculation and injurious manipulations, and will be generally protective to the farmer.

More Production Needed "The congress also passed a bill appropriating $25,000,000 to carry on farm securities. "While these measures are all helpful in restoring the economic condition of the country to healthful state, they cannot do it all. Hard work, increased productivity and frugality are the ultimate remedies to restore normal conditions.

"As soon as legislation now before congress is disposed of, it is thought that soldier aid legis-
