

MORE DELAY IN IRISH PROBLEM

Lloyd George Not to Reply to De Valera Until Gairloch Conference

LONDON RETURN PLAN

Ireland Expected to Be Subject of Meeting Called For Thursday

LONDON, Sept. 20.—(By The Associated Press.)—Premier Lloyd George's reply to Eamon De Valera will probably be delayed until after a conference with the ministers at Gairloch, Thursday and it seems certain there will be no Irish peace conference at Inverness, for, according to the latest reports, the premier has decided to return here this week if his health permits, in which case the next formal cabinet council will be held in London.

Sir Hammar Greenwood, chief secretary for Ireland, left today for Gairloch, indicating that Ireland will be the subject of one conference on Thursday.

Opinions Are Divergent

None of Mr. De Valera's previous communications has provoked such divergent opinions as his latest telegram. Everything considered, it is not unlikely that the premier will delay his reply until the whole cabinet has met here.

The decision of Mr. Lloyd George not to go to Washington has revived gossip of a coming general election, the idea being that there are now only two alternatives, a peace conference or an appeal to the country. The government is likely to find itself surrounded with difficulties, not only in the shape of unemployment, the anti-war campaign and similar matters at home, but also abroad.

More Meetings Probable

The reparations questions with Germany involving possible friction with France, combined with the continued depreciation of the mark, may necessitate further meetings of the supreme council. New difficulties with Russia seem to be brewing, all of which may require the premier's personal attention.

Latest reports from Gairloch tonight say that a ministerial conference may be held tomorrow and there are also many rumors that Mr. De Valera has expressed willingness to withdraw his claim that the Irish delegates must go into the conference as representatives of an independent state.

EVANS, HUNTER SURVIVE ROUND

Three Former Title Holders Star in First Match Play in Golf Contest

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 20.—Survivors in the first round of match play today in the national amateur golf championship at the St. Louis Country club, included three former title winners, among them Champion Chick Evans, and Willie Hunter, British champion.

Bob Gardner and Francis Outmet, the former champions, had to extend themselves to win, however. Outmet met a tartar in Max Marston, of Philadelphia, but after finishing the morning round three down, he shot a 34 on the third nine and finally won two and one.

Gardner started well and reached the first turn three up to Clark Spiers of Seattle, but he faltered on the second nine, and was only one up at luncheon, a scanty lead that he could not improve.

Gardner and Spiers were the only pair to reach the 36th green.

Evans, Bobby Jones of Atlanta, James Manion, of St. Louis, L. E. Bunning of Chicago, and Willie Hunter, scored easy victories.

Jones defeated Clarence Wolff, St. Louis, 12 and 1.

Evans and Manion whipped Charles Dexter of Dallas and John Simpson of Indianapolis, respectively by 19 and 9, the champion gaining all his advantage over Dexter in the first 18 holes by playing 36-37-73, one above par on each nine, while the Texan took 82.

Bunning of Chicago defeated A. P. Boyd, of Chattanooga, 9 and 8. Hunter in his match with E. Hoover Bankard of Chicago, barely played him even on the first nine, which they stroked in 38 each. The Briton gained two holes on the second nine and after luncheon walked away from his opponent, increasing his advantage to seven up on the 31st green.

T. D. Armour, Welch invader, also was successful, defeating Lee Stiel of Seattle, 5 and 4, but not without valiant resistance by the Pacific coast player. The American shot a 36 on the first nine, re-missed the Spot two up, as he took 39 strokes. Then the Scot not only evened affairs but obtained a lead of 3 holes before luncheon.

Stiel fought back valiantly in the second round, but finally succumbed at the 32nd hole.

Portland Ministers Here To Visit Institutions

Twenty ministers representing the Portland federated churches arrived here yesterday and were escorted about the state institutions by R. B. Goodin, secretary of the state board of control.

Several months ago complaint was made about the location of the proposed new training school for boys, assertion being made that it was too near the state penitentiary. This was investigated by Secretary McAfee of the Portland federated churches who was highly pleased with the location. He proposed the junket trip of the ministers which is in progress here today.

The delegates arrived here at 10:30 a. m. and at 10:45 the ministers were at the state hospital for the insane where they were shown about until luncheon at the Marlow Hotel at 12:15. At 1:15 the state penitentiary was visited, at 2:10 the state institution for the feeble-minded, at 3:10 the industrial school for girls, at 4:10 the boys' training school and at 5:20 the ministers left for Portland.

Editor Statesman.

Jones, Brown and Smith met at the corner of State and Liberty streets. After the usual greetings Smith said:

"By the way, as I came down town past the corner of Twelfth and State, I saw a tent there. What's going on?"

"Oh," said Brown, "Seventh Day Adventists, I suppose. That or Russellite, or some such body. This is one of their favorite methods of propaganda."

"You have another guess coming," said Jones. "The speaker in that tent is an old fashioned Presbyterian. He is a lineal descendant of Finney, Moody and Chapman."

"Why don't you add 'Of Billy Sunday'?" suggested Brown.

"Because," said Jones, "He is not in the least like Billy Sunday. There is nothing sensational at all in his methods. He is a Bible teacher rather than an evangelist. Still his work bears fruit. In spite of the storm last Sunday evening he had a fair crowd, and two professed faith in Christ. This week he is giving a fine antidote to modern fads in the form of a series of prophetic studies from the evangelical standpoint. You had better come out and hear him."

"If that's his stripe you bet we will be there."

A good many people have labored under the misconception of Brown and Smith regarding the nature of the meetings conducted by Mr. Couttie in the Gospel tent. He is not carrying on an anti-denominational propaganda, but a service of simple helpful Bible studies. His effort is to build up the work already being done by the evangelical churches, and not to pull down. You will enjoy hearing him.

Never in the history of this country, he said, has there been more anti-Catholic literature printed than today.

The report covered a number of activities sponsored by the council, including establishment of a school to train laymen, work to combat proselyting of other religions in the Philippines, the fight against the "spread of bigotry as exemplified by the Ku Klux Klan," and missionary work among American negroes.
