

NATION WILL HONOR DEAD

Pause of Two Minutes on Armistice Day is Ordered By President

BURIAL PLAN IS MADE

Minute Guns of Mourning to Sound from All Military Barracks

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—The nation will pause for two minutes on Armistice day to honor the unknown dead of the great war.

Detailed plans for the ceremony at Arlington National cemetery on that day, when the body brought back from France is to be buried, were made public by the war department today and include a proclamation by President Harding calling for the two-minute halt at noon throughout the nation to be devoted to prayer and reverent memories for the dead.

Body to Lie in State.
The body returned from France on the cruiser Olympia will reach Washington after midnight November 9 and will lie in state in the capitol until 9 o'clock Armistice morning, November 11. It will then be escorted by an official mourning party to Arlington cemetery, the line of march being guarded by troops. The mourning party will include all living holders of the congressional medal of honor who desire to come, one war veteran out of every 10,000 who served from each state in the great war, an officer and an enlisted man from each unit of the army and navy and representatives of the American legion and other veterans' organizations and patriotic societies.

Harbord Announces Plans.
From American military posts throughout the world minute guns of mourning will sound from sunrise until after the burial ceremony in Washington.
Plans for the ceremony were made public by Major General Harbord, acting secretary of war and chief of staff, today in the absence of Secretary Weeks and General Pershing. They were drawn up under General Harbord's supervision.

Steiner and Fry Tangled By Portland Regulations

"Sure we're wrong and we admit it," declared Dr. R. E. Lee Steiner and Dan J. Fry in chorus at the police station to which they had been personally conducted.

This did not happen in Salem. It was in Portland, a couple of days ago when the two Salem citizens got mixed up in the new traffic regulations and were given a personally conducted tour in charge of a policeman to police headquarters.

Being honest gentlemen and willing to admit having become tangled up in the new traffic laws of Portland, they were permitted to go on to Pendleton, with a word of commendation for the frankness and truthfulness.

circumstances that did not warrant such action and that it injured his reputation and good standing and $5000 damages is asked.
Eggs Are Missing
On December 31, 1920, it was brought out in the testimony yesterday, the Hubbard Creamery company for the third time noticed the theft of eggs. The defendant is the president of the company and the plaintiff was employed for three months as a truck driver. After the discovery of the theft Mr. Mayer determined to go to Portland to see if he could find the eggs in any of the Portland commission houses. There, through a clerk in the employ of the Eatey Dickson commission company, he learned, according to testimony, eggs had been sold there by a man who gave his name as Dave Swanson and who said he was a farmer living near Hubbard. The clerk was able to furnish the defendant with only a meager description of the man who had sold the eggs but said that he was a young man between the ages of 21 and 23 and that he drove a light truck.

Warrant Sworn Out.
That description answered the description of Swanson who at that time had severed relations with the company and consequently Mayer returned to Salem where he appeared before the justice of the peace and swore out a warrant for the arrest of Swanson. It later developed that the man who had sold the eggs in Portland was not Swanson, but a man who had used his name and forged his signature as an endorsement on a check.
In the meantime Swanson has spent one night in the Marion county jail here.

Chief whose name was Pulley was soon after apprehended and was sentenced to a term in the penitentiary.

PEACE PACTS ARE APPROVED

Senate Foreign Relations Committee Accepts With Two Reservations

PRESIDENT FAVORABLE

Schism in Ranks of Irreconcilables Brought About By Day's Action

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—The treaties of peace negotiated by the administration with Germany, Austria and Hungary were approved today by the senate foreign relations committee but with two reservations.

One reservation, similar to a Lodge reservation to the treaty of Versailles, would require an act of congress prior to representation of participation in any foreign agencies or commissions by an American representative whose nomination would have to be confirmed by the senate. The other is designed to protect the property rights of American citizens as well as of the American government in the three former enemy countries.

Adoption of the two reservations brought from the White House the statement that while President Harding had not seen their text he favored the principles involved and no objection would be reached by the administration to ratification with the proposed reservations attached.

Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, a leader of the "irreconcilables" in the treaty of Versailles ratification fight, alone of the foreign relations committee members stood out against the recommendation that the three treaties be ratified with the proposed reservations. Democratic committee members joined with the other Republicans in ordering the pact reported favorably to the senate where they were presented today by Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, Republican leader and committee chairman.

May Be Put Ahead.

The treaties, Senator Lodge announced, will be called before the senate tomorrow when he plans to make a preferential motion for their discussion ahead of all other business. It is proposed however to give right of way next week to the tax bill and to have night sessions, beginning probably next Tuesday in an effort to hasten ratification.
Committee discussion of the treaties today developed that the administration plans to begin withdrawal of American troops from Germany immediately after ratification. Senator Lodge told the committee he had been so advised by Secretary Hughes, adding that the American forces would be "greatly reduced" after ratification, but when complete evacuation would be accomplished was undetermined. It was indicated during the discussion that a small body for American representation might remain indefinitely on the Rhine.

Schism in Ranks

The committee's decision to report the treaties brought a schism in the ranks of the "irreconcilables" of the Versailles treaty fight. Senator Johnson, Republican, California, who was associated prominently with Senator Borah in opposition to the Versailles treaty, today voted for ratification with the reservations. Another "irreconcilable," Senator Shields, Democrat, Tennessee, also supported the treaties today. Senator Borah indicated he would continue his opposition to the last and wage his fight on the senate floor.

MR. COOLIDGE STUMPS STATE

Vice President Speaks in Bealf of Republican Senatorial Candidate

ADMINISTRATION LAUDED

Address at Haverhill Reviews Accomplishments of Administration

HAVERHILL, Mass., Sept. 23.—Vice President Calvin Coolidge brought from Washington tonight an official view of the president's administration. He was speaking at a rally in the interest of Col. A. Platt Andrew, Republican candidate for congress in the sixth district.

"There has not been a time in recent history when each branch of the government, when the president, when each side of congress, kept so plainly to constitutional functions as under the present administration," he said. "There is leadership, there is advice, but there is no system of rewards and punishments; freedom of action and harmony prevails. Steadily, carefully, deliberately, wisely, the country is being restored to peace-time conditions, not the peace-time conditions of 1914, but of 1921. And this is being accomplished with less loss less sacrifice, less suffering, than that experienced by any other country which entered the war."

Verdict is Asked

"It is on such a record of wise policy, of sound action and extraordinary accomplishment that the administration asks your verdict."

He reviewed explanation enacted or proposed; mentioned executive acts disposed of or pending and added:

"There are sufficient of the record to show that a real beginning has been made in restoring the nation to peace and in putting an end to the extravagant expenditures which were bred by the war."

New Era Opens

"A new era is opening up for America. The last election disclosed a wide and far-reaching dissatisfaction which extended by any party lines with the management of our foreign relations and the conduct of our domestic affairs, which was broadly expressed in a determination for a change."

"It has been charged that these obligations are not being met; that the present administration is one of the largest accomplishments; that the congress has wasted its time in the discussion of trivial problems and failed in the solution of the larger problems."

Scrutiny Invited
"Before the present congress had been in session five months, it had questions before it more difficult than those which arose during the war. Before deciding that this administration is lacking accomplishments it would be wise to find out what it has done."

BEER BILL TO BE DEFERRED

Further Consideration Likely to Be Delayed Several Weeks, Apparent

STANLY TALKS 6 HOURS

Senator Says Washington, Franklin, Patrick Henry All Violated Law

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—The senate after a continuous session of nearly eight hours adjourned tonight with the prospect of further consideration of the anti-beer bill would go over for several weeks. Opponents of the measure in the face of a night session forced by dry leaders, were successful in their obstructive tactics. Senator Stanley, Republican, South Dakota, in charge of the measure finally moving an adjournment.

Another Attempt Today
Notwithstanding the setback, supporters of the anti-beer bill, to make sure of the vote to call it tomorrow but the peace treaty are to be brought up and it was the expectation tonight that consideration of them would be begun. The tax revision bill will be taken up Monday.

Senator Stanley in a six-hour address declared the anti-beer contest was waged 160 years ago which lighted the spark of the revolution and gave birth to the republic.

"Advocates of the pending bill," he said, "think the morals of the community are worth more than the treaties of the people."
"Search of homes for evidence," he added, "was worse than the Spanish Inquisition."

Forefathers Accused.
"I would not be surprised," Senator Stanley said at this point, "to see the ardent advocates of this measure calling attention to the fact—and it is true—that Washington, the distiller; Franklin, the brewer, and Patrick Henry, the barkeeper, or their friends were notoriously smuggling contraband liquor into Boston. They were violating the law; there is no question about it. It was generally violated."

Senator Watson, Democrat, Georgia, interjected that during the recess of congress, murder and other outrages had been committed in his state by prohibition enforcement agents. He recited several alleged cases, among them a raid upon a Methodist camp meeting where automobiles and other places were searched for liquor.
