CATHOLIC CHURCH FACTS By Rev. J. R. Buck

The Y.M.C.A. drew upon the Bible for its moral principles, and these were good as well as effective. Large business corporations, heads of colleges and universities, the chiefs of government departments, the army and navy, the practical results of its efforts and invited its co-operation in training and keeping their young employes in habits of order, economy, good conduct and intelligent facility in promoting their corporate interests.

There is one clause in the constitution of the Y.M.C.A. which appears to discriminate against Catholics. It prohibits the election of a professed Catholic to any of the superior or directing offices of the organization. This departure has been explained as based on the ground that, since Catholics hold their faith as a Catholic youth was and is largely observances which should not be shared by the majority of members, their position as directors of the association would necessarily handicap them in the fulfillment of the office. Justice to the members who are not Catholics Catholic belief and doctrine as a rule of life demanded any direction which be the necessary result of one Catholic adherence.

The association aimed at moral as well as social and mental development, meant to employ Christian principles but not to the full extent of the Catholic church. Thus, for example, there are for Catholics obligatory observances of fast days, fasts, abstinence, regulations, observance of the Sabbath, etc. which would prevent a director, if a Catholic, from acting with that freedom which was desired in the interest of the entire body and to which the majority of the members had a just claim. The Y.M.C.A. for the same reason excluded orthodox Jews from office, as indicated from the very name. Catholicism is not only a religion in the wide sense only in which it is applied to the American commonwealth.

blamable hold the highest offices of the government are not actually close to a Catholic or Jew, they are practically excluded from the highest offices. It is the risk of the risk of the public in the case of a Jew or a Catholic, as indicated from the Bible law, as found in the profession of faith interpreted in the Y. M. C. A. has frequently to suppress the principles of Protestantism, who could hardly interpret or administer, when the interpretation of the Bible is, often, hostile to accepted Catholic doctrine.
