REASON FOR LAWS SHOOTING ADVANCED BY JOHN S. BORLAND

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—The theory that Mrs. Grace Laws, losing the friendship and financial assistance of Miss Mildren Hanan, was driven to a frenzy which resulted in her shooting the shoe man's daughter and then committing suicide was advanced today by John S. Borland, a central figure in yesterday's tragedy.

Borland—Dartmouth graduate, importer and friend of both Miss Hanan and Mrs. Laws—advanced his theory only after he had been pressed to do so by Assistant District Attorney Wilson.

Excessive Drinking Followed He asserted that the ending of the friendship, carrying with it withdrawal of Miss Hanan's financial assistance, had left Mrs. Laws nearly "broke". He expressed belief that this was followed by the excessive drinking for which Mrs. Laws wrote her regret in a letter addressed to her sister in San Francisco and found among her possessions. Then, in turn, according to the Borland theory, came the homicidal frenzy.

STATE CASES ARE DEFERRED

Absence of Women from Jury List Necessitates Two Postponements

NEW STATUTE IS CAUSE

Burton and Collins Cannot Be Tried Until January Term of Court

Due to the fact that the law provides that in cases where girls under the age of 18 are involved at least six of the jury must be women, the cases of the State of Oregon against Richard Burton, and also against Ralph Collins, have been postponed until the January term of court.

In the case against Burton, the girl involved is 15 years old, and according to law, she must be the complaining witness. Also according to law passed by the 1921 legislature, six of the jury must be women.

Senators and Portlanders Will Play in Salem Today

Captain Minnis, Aviator Crashes to His Death

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—(Captain John A. Minnis of Montgomery, Ala., one of the marine corps leading aviators, crashed to his death last night while engaging in practice at the Quantico, Va., base, preparatory to the fall maneuvers of the marines, the navy department was advised today.

Arguments on Demurrer Are Long Drawn-Out

CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—Arguments on the demurrer of the Chicago Tribune to the $10,000,000 libel suit filed against it by the city of Chicago, were not completed today.

YAKIMA HOTELS HOLD DOWN FAIR PRICES

(Continued from page 1) day morning on an early train via Tacoma and registered at once at the Donnelly hotel. I was told that the hotel was full but as I was the first one in the morning to register there was a possibility of some one leaving and thus vacating a room.

When I returned to the hotel later in the day I learned that a front room on the third floor had been assigned to me. It was large and modern, price $1.50 a day.

One evening a man and woman came in and registered and while the clerk was preparing to check them, they requested to be assigned to some room in the hotel and stated they would pay any price. They said they would pay $5 for a room. The clerk replied: "I will do the best I can for you but there will be no extra charge."

At another dining convention, fairs, and other meetings where crowds are in attendance, almost constantly and Salem is the only place where I have encountered what they call a "capacity rate"; that is a room may have a certain capacity under crowded conditions.

It is not always desirable for a traveler to occupy a bed with a stranger or pay for the capacity of the room.

Three weeks ago I visited Spokane during the interstate fair. I stopped at the Spokane hotel and paid $1.50 a night for a first class outside room. Two weeks ago I visited Tillamook. During the fair, the little city was crowded yet I was only asked to pay the regular rate for a single person.

"Salem has no life lease on the Oregon state fair. There are powerful agencies at work to take the fair from Salem. The chief argument in favor of removing it has been the inability of removing it to accommodate the crowds at reasonable prices. Excellent service can be given as is given by Yakima through the hotels, and if they do not care to co-operate in giving service and holding prices to the usual charge, let the Commercial club should see that such service is given."

OREGON FAIR OPENS GATES FOR SIX DAYS

Child Clinic Provided Exhibits of arts and crafts will be housed in the Education building as well as the children's clinic and the federal exhibit pertaining to forests and better roads. Miss Myrtle Ferguson, head of the science department of Oregon Agricultural college will be in charge of the child clinic.

The Whitney Boys chorus, an assembly of 1000 boyish singers from Portland, Salem, Cottage Grove, Hillsboro and other Oregon points will be the big event for October 2. This organization is said to out-rival all other singing groups, both as to size and also to the quality of music presented by Professor Whitney.

Livestock Parade

Wednesday will be the climax for stock judging, which begins on Monday. At the former date, all prize-winning stock will be paraded in the livestock coliseum.

Judging contests for the various departments of boys and girls industrial clubs of the state will be held the first four days of the fair.

Salem, itself has been grooming up for the event and much has been done to make residences and business places attractive. Home owners have been urged to register their spare rooms with a housing booth established at the Hotel Marion.

Price Boosting Discouraged. Efforts have been made to discourage the practice of raising prices for restaurant meals, rooms and commodities during fair week.

Several days ago members of the Commercial club voted against exorbitant price schedules that have injured this city in the past.

The weather man has predicted a small amount of rain and mild flurries for the first part of the week followed by good weather for the last four days of fair time.

Boyle Asked to Quit As Federal Marshall

TACOMA, Wash., Sept. 24.—John M. Boyle, United States marshal for the western district of Washington, today turned in his resignation at the request of Attorney General H. M. Daugherty, who asked that it take effect "upon appointment and qualification of his successor."

Illinois Athlete Sets New Record for Swimming

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—A new world's record of 53 1-5 seconds for the 100 yard swimming race in a 75-foot tank, was set today by John Weissmuller, of the Illinois Athletic club, Chicago, at Brighton beach. He finished seven yards in front of Hal T. Kruegar of Honolulu. The time was four-fifths of a second faster than the record made by Perry McGilivray of Chicago in 1916 and only one second slower than the world's record for the 100-yard straightaway, held by Duke Kahanamoku of Honolulu.

Beamish Indicted, Is Under Bonds of $300

Thomas Beamish was arrested Friday on a grand jury indictment charging illegal possession of liquor. Beamish was released under $300 bonds. The charges followed a raid by Deputy Sheriff Sm th and Morelock on the Beamish place several days ago, 15 gallons of liquor being seized.

MANY HOMES ARE OFFERING ROOMS

Two Days of Registration Bring Gratifying Results to Committee

With two days of registration of rooms for state fair visitors, accommodations have been listed for 1000 persons, according to Mrs. Emma Murphy-Brown, who has charge of registering rooms at the Marion hotel.

The total number of homes listed is in excess of 250. The average is three room rooms to each home. This would bring the total for the two days of registering up to a total of 750 rooms. But in many homes are double beds, bringing accommodations now offered up to a total of about 1000.

It is thought that with the registration coming in Sunday and even as late as Monday, rooms will be listed at the Marion hotel in sufficient number to accommodate fully 1500 visitors.

As with the first day's listing, prices vary from $1.50 to $2.50 a room, with no room listed in excess of $2.50.

With visitors beginning to arrive Sunday, assignments of rooms will begin today and will continue as fast as visitors arrive.

Why Accidental Injuries Demand Chiropractic

Sunday Health Talk No. 8—By O. L. Scott, D. C.

The spinal column being composed of segments is necessarily flexible. A fall on the slippery pavement, downstairs, or any distance from a few inches to many feet, it is almost inevitable, will cause some degree of disturbance to the correct alignment of the twenty-four movable bones of the spinal column.

W. G. Mainprize, Midale, Sask., Canada, reports the following instances in a contribution to the American Journal of Clinical Medicine:

"While a man was using a crowbar, a wheel fell on it, giving him a severe jolt. He came to me for relief from an intense pain in the head. Palpation showed tenderness at the fourth cervical (spinal bone in the neck). I reduced it with immediate relief of pain."

"A woman, three years before coming to me, had fallen, striking the back of her neck. Since she has had seizures resembling epilepsy. I found the second cervical displaced. After its reduction the seizures stopped."

"Other cases have shown me that adjustment of the spinal column is potent in neuritis, lumbago, sciatica, neuralgia and headache."

In case of accident, get immediate attention for the spine from a chiropractor. For the correction of diseases already established, it is equally efficient.
