

CANCER FOUGHT WITH FACTS BY AMERICAN ORGANIZATION

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—The American Society for the Control of Cancer, which since its organization in 1913, has been "fighting cancer" with facts, sent out from its headquarters, No. 25 West 45th street, New York, announced yesterday an unusual feature of its already remarkable campaign.

This is a "National Cancer Week" which will begin October 30th and end November 5th.

The purpose of the effort, the most comprehensive and important in the society's career, is intended to carry facts concerning cancer to as many persons in the United States and Canada as can be reached through the professional and lay press, by lectures and by the spread of informative literature. The work will be carried on by the foremost physicians and surgeons in the country who specialize in the control of this deadly disease; by State and City Health officers and by the public spirited citizens who have given much of their time and considerable of their money to the movement.

The society's organization is an exceptionally efficient one and the message of "Cancer Week" will be carried to the remotest corners of the country. It includes regional directors, state chairmen and local committees, all working under the direction of Dr. Charles A. Powers, president. Assisting Dr.

Powers are such men of note as Dr. Robert Abbe, one of the foremost authorities on cancer in America; Dr. James Ewing, Pathologist of Cornell University; Dr. G. E. Armstrong, of Montreal, noted Canadian surgeon; Dr. Joseph C. Bloodgood, of Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore; Dr. William J. Mayo, of Rochester, Minn.; Dr. Clement Cleveland, for many years head of the Women's Hospital in New York; Dr. Francis Carter Wood, director of the Crocker Cancer Research Laboratory, Columbia University and head of the Board of Scientists which aided American women to buy a gram of radium for Mrs. Curie; Dr. Livingston Farrand, President of Cornell University; Dr. Herman M. Biggs, health commissioner of New York state; Dr. Harvey E. Gaylord of Buffalo, director of the New York State Institution for the Study of Malignant Diseases; Dr. Robert G. Greenough, of Boston, director of the Harvard Cancer commission, and Dr. George E. Vincent, president of the Rockefeller foundation. Drs. Armstrong, Cleveland and Farrand are among the vice presidents of the society.

Among others who are giving a great deal of time and effort to this movement are Mrs. Robert G. Mead, chairman of the society's finance committee and secretary of the Marie Curie Radium fund committee; Mrs. Thomas Fortune Ryan; Thomas W. Lamont; V. Everett Macy; Mrs. Frederick L. Thompson and James E. Epler, of New York; Mrs. George E. Shaw of Pittsburgh and Frederick L. Hoffman of Newark, N. J. The latter is statistician of the Prudential Life Insurance company, and chairman of the society's committee on statistics.

Since its inception the society has maintained that accurate information concerning cancer is the best means known to lower the mortality of this disease. It believed, and it has since been proved, that a large number of cases can be cured if taken in hand early, and its efforts have been directed toward urging persons to seek competent advice the instant they recognize any of the symptoms made plain by the society's campaign of education. In this campaign the society at first antagonized from that element which considered cancer a disgrace and which believe the less said about it the better.

Those interested in this educational movement are extremely encouraged by the fact that during the past three years deaths from cancer have, for the first time in two decades, shown a slight decrease. It does not claim that all this decrease is due to its campaign, but it believes that its campaign has had something to do with it and it intends to push its work in the future even more vigorously than in the past.

Some idea of the ravages of cancer may be had from the fact that it causes ten out of every hundred deaths in this country where the victims are more than 40 years old; that about 85,000 deaths a year are recorded and that the mortality among women is considerably greater than among men. Women are exceptionally susceptible to this disease, but it is gratifying to know that if the symptoms are early recognized a great majority of cases may be cured, because people are better informed early diagnoses are more common than in the past, and moreover the methods of treatment, which now include radium and the X-ray are becoming more and more efficient and effective.

During "National Cancer Week" there will be lectures in New York and other cities by the foremost authorities on cancer, the distribution of literature at these lectures; activities by the departments of health throughout the country and by the medical societies, and the publication of numerous articles in the medical and lay press. Nurses organizations, insurance companies, federations of Women's clubs, social service organizations, chambers of commerce and boards of trade, manufacturers, labor unions and trade councils will take part. The Y.W.C.A., the Y.M.C.A. and scores of other organizations will give their aid. The meetings will be divided in two classes; those for physicians and the like, and those for the public. Following the public meetings any person who wishes specific information will be given all he desires.

OIL LIGHT BEATS ELECTRIC OR GAS

BURNS 94% AIR

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94% air and 6% common kerosene (coal oil).

The inventor, W. V. Johnson, 31 N. Fifth St., Portland, Ore., is offering to send a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.—Adv.

"Josh Slack has lost his job as road overseer," announced the gaunt Mesourian.

"What did he do?" inquired his wife.

"He didn't have anything to do and he wouldn't even do that,"—Kansas City Star.

Both Trotzky and Lenine are reported ill. That's what comes of trying to do without a constitution.

The Well Dressed Woman

By AGNES AYLES, Star in Fashionable Fashions.

Here is a frock to tide you over into autumn, warranted to make you forget your sorrow over the departure of all your summer fluffs and frills—a frock in which to loiter before the open grates of fall, to wear to the first bridge club meeting or informally at home for dinner.

It is made of our newest and dearest fancies, stiff and bouffant taffeta, with a garniture of gayly contrasting ribbons.

The neck line is most unusual, new and good, Japanese in inspiration and French in interpretation, I should say. The sleeves are more or less shapeless kimono affairs, the waist line loosely located, with an upstanding band about the hips, while the short overskirt is full, bouffant and made conspicuous by three horizontal bands of the ribbon. Not for the stout lady—never!

The underskirt is quite long after the fall mode, and is decidedly suggestive of the whole frock. Sleeves of georgette or chiffon went out months ago; in fact, georgette has long been heavily in popularity, anyway. And yet these are our old transparent sleeves, started by the French trick. I have no doubt of simulating a sleeve in a sliperless frock by a bit of ribbon, or lace or an unattached cuff.

These are full and loose and caught in at the wrist by a cuff of the ribbon.

CHAPTER 178

THE PROBLEM MRS. DURKEE PRESENTED TO MADGE

"Oh, Meesie Graham! you come, please, quick!"

Katie's voice sounded outside my door. I opened it and saw that my little maid was on the verge of one of her temperamental bursts of tears.

"What is it, Katie?" I asked soothingly.

"Oh, my dinner heem got all spoiled eat nobody eat heem!" she wailed. "First, I wait till Meester Graham and dot Jeem feest in dining room, den I have to make Jeem sweep all over vance and dot. And now everybody notates, Mr. Graham, he vashing oop, Mees Fairfax, she over by Durkees, dot leetle Marion she out in tree, her mudder I no know veres, and you—"

"I am right here, Katie, and I promise you that every minute will be in the dining room in five minutes. Just take a look at Junior. Isn't he the cunningest thing?"

Katie is very much like a spoiled child. If you can divert her attention she will forget any real or fancied grievance.

A Successful Ruse.

"Oh! dot blessed babe!" she exclaimed with a dive toward Junior, who, resplendent in his very best embroidered white frock with knots of pink ribbon, white slippers and pink silk socks, was sitting in his crib happily striking at a colored ball swaying above him, and laughing delightedly.

"Don't rumple him, Katie," I cried out in alarm, fearing lest he had been too successful in my ruse, and that Katie in her exuberant admiration might undo my painstaking labor to make Junior sartorially perfect.

"I think I know better than dot," Katie retorted loftily. "But, I've been too successful in my ruse, and that Katie in her exuberant admiration might undo my painstaking labor to make Junior sartorially perfect.

"You like me carry heem downstairs?" she queried hopefully.

"I'm sorry, Katie, but his father is counting on doing that today. I'm just waiting for him now. The minute he comes up, I'll gather up the rest of the guests."

"All right, I feex qveeck," the girl returned, restored to her usual happy good nature, and she whisked out of the door only a minute before Dicky entered.

"All ready, 'sweetheart!'" He gave me a careless kiss, passed on eagerly to the crib where Junior, always crazy with delight at the sight of his father, was fairly bouncing himself up and down. For the fraction of a second a film of disappointment spread over my contentment. It was the first time my husband had made me feel that I ranked second in the scale of his heart values, and I had to summon all my batteries of self-denial to dissipate the cloud, gossamer though it was.

A Convenient Headache?

"To the last snap fastener," I replied gaily. "Will you take Junior downstairs? I must get the guests together. They appear to be scattered over the surrounding country, and Katie is on the verge of a nervous collapse."

"For the love of Mike, rout everybody out on the double quick!" Dicky exclaimed. "She may collapse the moment dessert is served if she waits too long, but for the sake of my protesting tummy keep her 'em till then."

"I'll do my best," I promised, hurrying out of the door and summoning my mother-in-law, Lillian and my father, who were all dressed for dinner and comfortably resting near the room. Lillian volunteered to fetch Marion, and I flew to the telephone and called up the Durkee home.

Mrs. Durkee herself answered the telephone with such promptness that I suspected that she had been sitting near it, waiting for my summons. She has an extension phone in her own room, so that no matter whether she is upstairs or downstairs she can answer a summons promptly. It is only one of the many thoughtful provisions for her comfort which Alfred has made.

"Is that you, Madge?" she asked—whispered would be the better word. "I didn't want to call you for fear I'd disturb you, but I've been waiting for you to call. You'll just have to excuse me today, dear. I've got a terrible headache. Is your dinner ready? I'll call Alfred and tell him, and send him and—Lella right over."

I know little Mrs. Durkee's headache of old. One of the dearest and sweetest of women, she is not above the subtleties of pleading a convenient headache or other ailment when there is some social task before her which she does not wish to perform.

I saw that if I didn't wish my dinner to be a social failure I must immediately take strenuous measures with my little friend.

CHICAGO COPS ARE ACCUSED

Fitzmorris Says 50 Percent of Them Violate Prohibition Statutes

LAW IS CALLED FALLACY

Evidence Sought and Wholesale Prosecution Promised if Obtained

CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—Charles C. Fitzmorris, general superintendent of police, today asserted in letters he sent to John H. Alcock, first deputy, and Charles F. Clynne, district attorney, that he is convinced that 50 per cent of the members of the Chicago police department are involved in illegal sales and transportation of liquor.

Chief Fitzmorris promised drastic action if evidence to support his belief were obtainable.

Evidence Sought

Fitzmorris, after writing the letters, in which he asked aid in obtaining evidence against his officers and men, said he would take the guilty men before a civil service commission when the government had supplied him with evidence. He said the same step would be taken "if I can get the evidence myself."

Prohibition now is a fallacy and there are more deaths and drunkenness than in the 'wet' days," he said in one letter. "From reports I have received, I am convinced a large percentage of the membership of the police department is involved seriously in the illegal sale or transportation of liquor."

Five Thousand on Force

"In fact the reports and rumors indicate 50 per cent of the department is interested in some way in violating the prohibition laws."

"I have made every effort to correct this condition, which is impairing the efficiency of this department."

The Chicago police department consists of upward of 5,000 men.

Buster Brown Shoes

For Girls, for Boys of 2 to 16

"First Because of the Last"

Buster Brown Shoes represent a new era in juvenile footwear—a new principle in shoemaking.

Just as going to school trains the mind of your boy or girl—step by step, from grade to grade—so will Buster Brown Shoes train the feet.

Buster Brown Shoes are a form of foot insurance. They mean comfort for the feet now and in the future. They keep the feet from growing old before their time.

Nothing but the best grade upper stock is used.

Soft anti-static leather oak counters, especially selected for children's shoes.

Cut off Vamps could be used, but instead Full Toe Vamps are employed.

The "Buster Brown" Last is made of the natural, growing foot.

Instead of pieced up, solid Soles are used.

Hamlock Soles are used by some. But the Standard Oak Sole Leather is better.

While it is best to train the feet correctly from the very beginning, no matter what shoes your boy or girl has been wearing previously, you can begin now to train their feet properly with Buster Brown Shoes, and while the bones are still soft and pliable they may be reformed, if necessary, in Nature's way.

Buster Brown Shoes are thoroughly dependable shoes. They are made by skilled shoemakers from the best grades of leather, have Government standard oak-tanned soles attached to the uppers by the famous Good-year Welt process which insures a practical flexible, comfortable soled shoe—no nails to run through the sole, no seams to cause blisters or other discomforts.

Buster Brown Shoes excel for their health qualities and for their wearing qualities. They are therefore economical shoes to buy, and are sold by
