BITS FOR BREAKFAST

Salem day— And fair weather promised.

It will be the biggest day ever seen at the state fair.

Portland day, tomorrow, may be bigger; but they will have it go some.

There are plenty of rooms yet listed at the registering department at Hotel Marion. Mrs. Brown, in charge, may have to send out a S. O. S. call tomorrow; but she has so far a comfortable surplus.

A very large proportion of the people attending the fair come in their automobiles and go home at night. So they do not need rooms.

There are many hard-boiled people in Salem this week; but the order has so far been excellent, and the same can be truthfully said of the great crowds on the fair grounds.

There are scores of eating places on the fair grounds; but there will not be too many today and the balance of the week.

The weather clerk could not have ordered better weather; though he had us scared a couple of times.

Yes; there will be at least one paved road all the way to the fair grounds by next year.

Organization Intact for Sixty Years Has Annual Meeting at Grounds

Life members of the Oregon State Agricultural society, which has been in existence here for 60 years, at their annual session last night, adopted resolutions lauding A. H. Lea, secretary of the state fair board, and the board of fair directors, for their excellent business management and the manner in which the 1921 event is being conducted.

"Much credit is due personally to A. H. Lea, secretary of the state fair board," said the resolution, "for the success of the fair, its exhibits and general management, and we make special approval of his business tact and capabilities, and regret that he is to retire at his own request from the position of secretary of the board." Officers were elected as follows: John G. Wright, Salem, president; P. H. D'Arcy, Salem, vice president; J. T. Hunt, Salem, secretary; and G. O. Savage, Salem, treasurer. The resolutions, signed by J. H. D'Arcy, W. H. Downing and J. T. Hunt follow in full: "Whereas, the members of the board of state fair directors have shown their ability to manage the business entrusted to them in such a manner as to make the state fair of 1921 one of the most noted and successful in its history; therefore,

"Be it resolved, that we congratulate the board of state fair directors upon the splendid exhibits at this year's fair, and the excellent and careful management pertaining to the best interests of the people of the state of Oregon in conducting all matters necessary in having a successful fair.

New Buildings Commended "Resolved, that the new buildings erected and the new walks constructed during the past year meet the approval of the people of the state of Oregon inasmuch as the convenience of exhibitors and those attending the state fair is greatly increased thereby.

"Resolved, that as much credit is due personally to A. H. Lea, secretary of the board of state fair directors for the success of the fair in its exhibits and general management, we make special approval of his business tact and capabilities and regret that he is to retire at his own request from the position of secretary of the board.

"Resolved, that we believe it would be for the best interests of the people of the state of Oregon that A. H. Lea be retained, and suitable compensation be provided to secure his retention as secretary.

Careful Choice Urged "Resolved, that in the event Mr. Lea cannot be retained as secretary, that we would respectfully suggest that some person be selected for that position who has made a success of his own business, and not some one who wants the position as a source of revenue and not for his business tact or ability.

"Resolved, that the impartial manner in which the races have been conducted at this fair by the judges and starters, commend these gentlemen to all those who believe in fair play and true, genuine sport.

Tozier Is Lauded "Resolved, that Albert Tozier, manager of the state fair camping grounds is entitled to a great deal of credit for the manner in which he has conducted the camping grounds for many years and the satisfaction and approval of his earnest efforts in behalf of the campers have met with.

"Resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be transmitted to the secretary of the board of state fair directors to show our appreciation of the manner in which the business of the fair has been conducted; and also that a copy be furnished to the press for publication."

Yankee Soldier Makes German Students Laugh

COBLENZ, Sept. 26.—A learned professor had just concluded his lecture on trigonometry, illustrating on a huge blackboard the various figures under study, and the audience of earnest students, young and old, was still under the spell of his wizardry.

"Has any one any questions to ask?" said the professor. "I shall be glad to answer any question." Just then, a tall youth wearing the uniform of a member of the American Forces in Germany, arose with a start as if coming out of a deep sleep. With a few companions he had wandered into the large hall and finding many unoccupied seats, had made themselves at home. In most elegant German, he asked: "Can you tell me why German chimney-sweeps wear top hats when on duty?"
