

PERSONAL MENTION FROM AMITY DISTRICT

AMITY, Or., Oct. 6.—(Special to The Statesman)—Harold Ross, a student of the Amity high school, met with a very serious accident Wednesday morning on his way to school from Hopewell. He drives over with a horse and buggy, and in coming down a hill east of this place one of the tugs became unhooked and when leaning over trying to hitch it, the buggy ran into the horse causing it to start to run away and throwing the boy from the rig, landing him on his head on the rough rock. He suffered concussion of the brain and was removed in an unconscious state to the farm home of Jacob Mauser, nearby, where medical aid was called. In the evening he was removed to his home but the next day he had not yet completely recovered his senses.

Mill creek country, but while they saw a few deer they were not fortunate enough to bag any of the fleet-footed animals. Mrs. Clarinda Palmer returned the fore part of the week to her home near Portland after a few days' visit here at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Reas. Rev. W. H. Hertzog of Salem, with the Kimball School of Theology, was in town on business this week, stopping here on his way to Forest Grove where he attended the Methodist general conference. Miss Addie Martin spent the weekend at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Martin. She is teaching in the Dallas schools. J. A. Gibbs and Soren Sorenson motored to Portland Tuesday. Roy Allen is suffering with a bad case of blood poison in his arm, resulting from a bruised hand. Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Miller were Salem visitors Sunday. It's a Grand Old Remedy You can't keep strong and well without sleep. Whether your rest is broken by a painful hacking cough or just an annoying tickle in the throat, the system becomes weakened and run down. Mrs. K. M. Drake, Childs, Md., writes: "After an attack of the 'flu' I was left with a severe cough. Nothing relieved me till I used Foley's Honey and Tar, which I can highly recommend." It covers irritated membranes with a healing and soothing coating, loosens phlegm and clears air passages. Sold everywhere.—Adv.

Report for September Is Made by Red Cross

During the month of September Willamette chapter, American Red Cross of Salem, disbursed $576.85 in its home service relief work. Families and men of families to the number of 137 were given assistance, according to Mrs. Arthur S. Benson, secretary. Part of the work of the local chapter, in addition to home service, and the many other calls that are constantly being made, consists of rendering assistance to families of ex-service men and in helping those who have developed disabilities since their return from war. In the Red Cross work, much that is done is not of a public nature and is very little discussed in public, according to Mrs. Benson. Yet there are calls being made daily, especially where women and children are concerned, in which the Red Cross is rendering its great service. During the past month, two new members were appointed on the executive staff, Mrs. Lawrence T. Harris and George P. Griffith. Mr. Griffith represents the American legion.

MORE ROAD BIDS WILL BE OPENED

Total of 121 Miles of Contemplated Improvements Are to Be Considered

At a meeting in Portland October 25 and 26, the state highway commission will open bids for the improvement by grading, macadam and paving of a total of 121.3 miles of highways, and also for the construction of bridges in Douglas and Yamhill counties. This program has been arranged particularly as the department's contribution toward relief from the unemployment situation. The projects are as follows: Douglas county—Pacific highway, Roseburg - Wilbur section, 5.3 miles paving. Lane county—Pacific highway, Cottage Grove section, 1.6 miles paving. Linn county—Pacific highway, Murder creek grade separation, 4 miles grading graveling, one 40-foot reinforced concrete bridge. Malheur county: Old Oregon trail, Welsler - Malheur - Baker county line section, 15.3 miles grading. Oregon-Washington highway, Lexington-Heppner section, 13.7 miles macadam. Sherman county: Sherman highway, Wasco - Moro section, 7.5 miles grading. Sherman highway, Moro - Grass Valley section, 8.6 miles grading. Wasco county: The Dalles-California highway, Cow canyon section, 7.3 miles grading. Bridges Douglas county: Roseburg-Coos Bay highway, Winston - Camas hill section. Three truss spans with truss approaches and two smaller structures. Alternate proposals are asked for on wood and steel trusses for the three larger spans. Yamhill county—West Side Pacific highway, Amity - McMinnville section. New approaches to the Yamhill river bridge and certain revisions to the existing steel truss span. Baker county: Baker - Cornucopia highway. Love Bridge-Black Bridge section, 13.2 miles grading. Douglas county: Pacific highway, Drain - Yoncalla section, 8.6 miles paving. Harney county: Summit Springs market road, 8.1 miles grading. Jefferson county: The Dalles-California highway, Unit No. 2 and Unit No. 4, Madras - Wasco-Sherman county line, 6.3 miles grading. Unit No. 6, Madras - Wasco - Sherman county line, 5.5 miles grading and macadam. October 26 Wasco county: The Dalles-California highway, Three Mile Creek - Dufur section, 13.0 miles grading. Wheeler county: Unit No. 1, Ochoco forest boundary, Mitchell, 2 miles grading and rocking. Yamhill county: West Side Pacific highway, West Daxton - St. Joseph section, 4.2 miles paving.

tra, which has done much in a musical way for the city during the past two seasons. The orchestra as now being organized for the coming season will have 42 pieces, and among the additions are two harpists, Miss Catherine Carson and Miss Mary Lebold. New pieces in the orchestra also include several violinists of exceptional ability. It is felt among musicians that a symphony orchestra will do much for the rising generation of musicians, and especially for high school students and students of Willamette university. From the point of view of those who figure from financial gain, it has been proven that many efficient workmen who are true musicians will not come to a city that has no musical home attractions to offer or that cannot offer them an organization in which to take part. There are thousands of music-loving people in the city, it is said, and an organization like the Salem Symphony orchestra gives them the only opportunity either to take part or to hear several concerts each season in which the best only of music is presented. To maintain such an organization, those who have gone into the matter figure that it will require at least $1800 for the season of four concerts. This amount might be raised partly by concerts, but it is felt that the music loving citizens of the city should, to a large extent, extend support in the way of taking season tickets at $3 each. In Prof. John R. Sites musician of the city feel that the city has a most competent director. This has been demonstrated in the past two seasons. Professor Sites studied at Leipzig and Berlin, and for many years was with the Metropolitan Opera company in New York. For 14 years he taught in Cincinnati and sang in a number of the famous May festivals of that city. Should the Salem Symphony orchestra receive support that will justify its organization for another season, it is probable that two free concerts will be given in the armory. A great reform is on among the hotels and cafes. They are about to print the menus in English. In which case, what will become of the young lady across the way whom the waiter told she could not have what her fiancer was pointing at because the orchestra was playing it.

NEW NAME IS GIVEN UNIT

Fifth Oregon of State National Guard Becomes 162nd Infantry

CAREER IS ENVIABLE

History of Fighting Oregonians Traced from Days in Philippines

The Oregon regiment of infantry was rechristened yesterday in orders issued by Adjutant General George A. White. The Fifth Oregon infantry of the Oregon national guard is now the 162nd infantry, and all property and regimental colors will be renumbered accordingly and the regiment hereafter will be known by the wartime name of the old Third Oregon infantry. The change in designation of the Fifth infantry which took place yesterday is the second occurrence of this name since its organization. In order to retain the traditions of the famous old Third Oregon infantry Colonel White issued orders soon after he returned from France designating the regiment as the Fifth Oregon. Government Desires Change The recent change was made in accordance with the suggestion of the federal government, which desires to reorganize the 41st division, along the same lines that existed in France during the war. In a statement Colonel White expressed his preference for the designation of the Fifth Oregon for the reason that the name 162nd infantry was the war time name of the old Third regiment, and desired that this designation remain a tradition. The Oregon regiment which has units at Portland, Salem, Woodburn, Eugene, Roseburg, Corvallis, Silverton, Independence, Dallas, McMinnville and Medford, now becomes part of the 81st infantry brigade of the 41st division, with headquarters in Oregon. The brigade headquarters have not yet been established. Oregon's infantry regiment of the First regiment and continued as such until the Spanish war when as the Second infantry it went to the Philippines and rendered distinguished service although many of its officers and men served with the Second in the tropics. The Third Oregon replaced the Second after the Spanish war and saw service on the Mexican border. It was the first regiment in the United States mobilized and ready for service in the World war, and on being ordered to France was designated by the government as the 162nd United States infantry. The 162d served in France 15 months. Never Wants Anything Else The season of coughs, colds, croup and bronchial troubles is at hand. Every mother will be interested in this letter from Mrs. E. K. Olson, 1917 Ohio Ave., Superior, Wis. "I tried many different kinds of cough medicine, but now I never want anything else than Foley's Honey and Tar. I used it for all my children when I lived in Iowa and also for my grandchild in Duluth, and it has always done good work." Contains no opiates. Sold everywhere.—Adv.

COLONEL'S BIRTH TO BE OBSERVED

Letter to People of the State Issued by Executive Department

Governor Olcott has issued a letter to the people of Oregon requesting that they pause for a time on Thursday, October 27 to give thought to the memory of Theodore Roosevelt and his career as an American citizen. That date will be the 63rd anniversary of Roosevelt's birth. The governor has been advised that such an observance will be general throughout the United States. "I believe this is fitting," says the governor's statement. "The exceptional service rendered to the country by this man, his ideal life and his high standard of citizenship shown in a practical way, are splendid things to keep before the people of our country at all times. He was a true American and it is a wholesome thing always to have before us examples of true American man." The household maid question is again becoming a vexed one in Los Angeles and the tired housewife is almost ready to agree to give thought to the memory of Theodore Roosevelt and his career as an American citizen. That date will be the 63rd anniversary of

UNEMPLOYMENT IS SHOWING SLUMP

Alleviation Throughout the Country, With Portland Standing Second

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—A slight decrease in unemployment throughout the United States was reported for September by the department of labor in a summary of conditions made public here tonight. On September 30 the department said, 1428 establishments had 18,050 more workers on their payrolls than on August 31, an increase of 1.2 per cent. In 65 principal cities employment decreased in 26, but increased in 38, and in one remained unchanged during the month. The summary showed the percentage of change was greater in the cities reporting increased employment than those showing decreases. The greatest increase in employment was noted at Toledo, with 24.1 per cent, while Portland, Or., stood second with an increase of 21.7 per cent. Chicago reported an increase of 1.16 per cent, and New York showed a decrease of 2.2 per cent. Increases by industries was noted in food production, textiles manufacture, stone, glass, clay, lumber, chemicals and railroad shops. The industries reporting decreases included automobiles, leather and its products, paper and printing and tobacco manufactures. SYMPHONY WILL BE REORGANIZED Musical Troupe Said to Contribute to City in Business Returns Among musicians of the city, and especially those interested in maintaining a high class symphony organization, the question is being discussed as to whether the city is progressive enough to support the Salem symphony orchestra.
