WOMEN'S ACTIVITIES

ing the program. Mrs. Mark Hayter, the new president, presided at the business meeting. Mrs. Ray Boydston, the newly elected secretary, having left town, Mrs. P. A. Trafzer was elected to fill the vacancy.

Plans for the club's activities during the winter were discussed. It was announced that the literary section would have its first meeting at the home of Mrs. D. M. Shattuck next Monday afternoon at 2:30, and the music section would meet with Mrs. F. M. Parris on nevt Tuesday afternoon at 2:30. Mrs. Charles Bilyeu announced the civic section would have a silver tea at her home on October 18.

The Dallas chapter of the D. A. R. meets next Monday evening with Mrs. V. P. Fiske, upon which will be the leader for the session. It was decided before the summer adjournment that the 1921-22 season would be spent in a ture. As each future meeting there will be a new leader, thus bringing out new ideas at each meeting of the society.

Facts About the Catholic Church

BY REV. J. R. BUCK (continued from last week)
Did the Y. M. C. A. mean to proselyze, or to interfere with the religious tize, or to interfere with the religious convictions of the youths who are Cathconvictions of the youths who are Catholic, even if they are not particularly fervent in their religious observances? It did not say so, but it expressed its purpose to refine that religion, to purify it, and to show the bright young minds thirsting for knowledge the way to more light out of the darkness which the old faith, from medieval times down, had engendered among them. This is what Cardinal Merry del Val complains of in his letter to bishops. The allurements of material attractions and advantages, coupled with the promise to teach a better religion, are weapons of proselytism with which many who value faith, parents and guardians of the young as well as pastors of souls, find it hard to compete on even grounds. The Catholic authorities are aggrieved not because the central committee of the Y.M.C.A. opens its doors to physical and educational its doors to physical and educational benefits for the young, but because these offers are made the channels of propa-ganda which substitutes a paganized cul-ture, under the name Christian, for the ture, under the name Christian, for the pure and sublime teaching of Christ. By teaching an easy, sensuous morality of well-groomed manners, well-informed intellect, and respectable enjoyment, in place of self-denial, humility, obedience to the precepts of Christ and the Church established by Him, the young may be weaned from the faith of their fathers. The outcome of the religious or moral teaching of the Y.M.C.A. is utilitarianism, materialism, and rationalism, decked teaching of the Y.M.C.A. is utilitarianism, materialism, and rationalism, decked with the garments of Christ.

The proselytizing zeal of the Y.M.C.A. in Europe—and the same complaint comes from the countries of South America and other Catholic districts—is sure sooner or later to find its way into parts where it has hitherto been restrained by the same influences which prevent other sectarian propagands from reaching the Catholic youth of the United States. In view of this danger the warning of the Cardinal Prefect of the S. Congregation is timely. Its purpose is not to condemn merely, nor to point out a harmful and alluring danger to the faith of Catholics. Besides that, it bids the bishops to direct the clergy in the exercise of corresponding zeal and activity in devising means to counteract the influence of material attractions supported by the ing means to counteract the influence of material attractions supported by the true teaching of the Church of Christ.

Catholic pastors cannot, in most cases, supply the attractions that in this age of luxurious living draw the young people by the natural love for pleasure. What we can do is to teach or to find some means of attraction as will hold them without loss of innocense and faith. We can, as the cardinal points out, increase our watchfulness in regard to the young. The school is one means. But the true shepherd of the flock finds it necessary up keep watch over the young
