

TAX REVISION BILL PROGRAM

Bi-Partisan Support of Bill Is Put Under Way But No Final Agreement

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—A movement looking to bi-partisan support for the amendments to the tax revision bill agreed upon by Republican leaders was put under way today in the senate. Senator Lenroot of Wisconsin, a leader among the senators from western states who insisted on the compromise program, held several conferences with Senator Simmons of North Carolina, the Democratic leader in the tax field, but apparently a final agreement was not reached.

A plan discussed was to have the revised amendments reported out by unanimous vote of the senate finance committee, Republicans and Democrats, and supported on the floor by leaders on both sides. The Democrats are represented as looking with favor on most of the amendments, but they are not satisfied with regard to the proposed taxes on corporations, insisting that a revenue in excess of that proposed be obtained from that source.

Republican leaders were understood to have agreed today on a plan under which corporations having incomes in excess of $25,000 would not receive the benefit of the $2000 exemption now allowed all corporations. It is estimated this would yield an additional $30,000,000 in revenue. The Democrats have proposed repeal of the exemption in the case of all corporations.

Senators from eastern states laid plans today for their fight expected to force votes on the floor in the original proposal for a 32 per cent minimum income surtax rate, for the existing maximum estate tax rate, and for repeal of the capital stock tax on corporations.

Leaders expressed little concern over this opposition and were of the opinion that the amended bill could be passed by the week after next. The revisions as agreed upon in midweek were discussed today by majority members of the finance committee, but decisions on them were deferred until Monday.

Salem Men Attend Meet Of County Y Clubs

Salem has been well represented at the Marion county Y conference now in session at Stayton. Among those who were on the program and who will take part today are the following:

T. E. McCroskey, manager of the Salem Commercial club, who will talk on boys' work.

Luther J. Chaglin, field manager of the Salem King's Products company whose specialty is agriculture. He is chairman of the Marion county Y.M.C.A. committee.

L. M. Gilbert, who has made a fine reputation for himself as superintendent of the State Boys' Training school.

John H. Ridd of Salem, secretary of the Marion county Y. M. C. A. and director of conference.

Dr. Frank E. Brown, member of Marion county committee and member of board of directors, Salem Y.M.C.A.

Harold Eakin, H. Y. club member and member of the Salem boys' work committee.

Everett Craven, student of Willamette university and assistant in the Salem Y. M. C. A. Roy Skeen of the Willamette university, Ward Southworth, member Salem H. Y. club.

Jim Smart, rancher, member of the Salem Y.M.C.A. and a worker on boys' committee.

Sunday afternoon at the conference, Roy Skeen will direct the singing and L. M. Gilbert of the Boys' training school, will deliver an address.

Superior Chemawa team held low.

The second quarter and was the result of a long series of straight swimming plays. Sampson, Chemawa half, was responsible for a large share of the yardage and himself carried the ball over the line. Unable to score in the remainder of the half the score remained at 14 to 0.

In the second half Salem's line stiffened, their passing became more accurate, and their fumbles less frequent. Several lucky intercepted passes when their goal was in extreme danger was all that saved the Indians from the onslaught of brilliant playing by the Salem backfield. In the third quarter the red and white men began a fierce attack, using sheer weight to buck the Salem line, but only succeeded in crippling a third of the local squad. Rein-hart, Adolph, Jones and Ellis White were all forced to leave the game from injuries.

The success of the Chemawa game centered around the fast quarterback, Bettles, who played practically the whole game. Using practically the same cross line buck with which Oregon defeated Willamette, the red and white quarter time after time took advantage of Salem's inability to shift their line quickly and plowed through the red and black line. Sampson also did creditable work for the Indians.

Loud praise rose from every side of the field for the brilliant work of the Salem high men. If the red and black defenders can maintain the standard which they set yesterday for the remainder of the season, local fans predict that there is no team in the high schools of the state which can defeat them. Although showing plainly that yesterday was their first game by their lack of speed and their difficulty in handling the ball in the first half, it shows up as only a minor defect which will probably be done away with in the next game. Those who won positions in the stellar class are too numerous to mention. Socolofsky and Purvine both lived up to their reputations which Lynn Jones, new fullback, put himself on the honor roll. Adolph's punting proved very valuable throughout the entire game.

McMinnville high school will be the next opponent for the Salem high eleven. Their game is scheduled for next Saturday and will be played in McMinnville.

tary and their community.

Study Problems.

He urged officers of Rotary to take the time to study the problems and the needs of their club.

"We are living on the surface of things," declared Mr. Snedecor. "We are not thinking deep enough over our great problems."

Officers were urged by the speaker to develop the latent talent of leadership in all members of the club. "Rotary affords business men opportunities for self expression," declared Mr. Snedecor. "Every man has with him certain latent talent and this should be developed. This is one of the attractive features of Rotary. There is nothing mysterious about Rotary. It is a unique grouping of business and professional men organized to put into practice their ideals of friendship and service."

urged officers to do all they could to serve to the best of their ability. In order that all talent should be developed, he suggested that new members be put on committees to develop their ability, as one of the principals of Rotary was development.

"It is not important whether we organize more clubs," declared the district governor, "but it is important that we organize them with the right men."

At the banquet, George W. Griffith, president of the Salem club, presided and Mayor George E. Halvorsen delivered the welcoming address. A number of presidents and secretaries were called on for short addresses and all expressed their appreciation of the courtesies shown them in Salem.

Former Salem Man Writes From Cettenje on Bonus

Away over in Jugo-Slavia an American legion ex-service man, who enlisted from Oregon but who is now traveling in Jugo-Slavia, writes the American legion post of Salem asking whether Oregon has done anything in the way of giving former service men a bonus.

His letter is written from Cettenje, Montenegro, Jugo-Slavia, on the Red Cross stationery. He writes that he has been traveling around a bit, and would like to know about things over here. His name is William Ilich. Over in that country they spell American Red Cross as follows: "CroixRouge Americaine."

Liberty Bond Trading Lively in New York

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Trading in liberty bonds again overshadowed all other operations on the stock exchange during today's short session. The 3 1/2's, second 4's and all the 4 1/4's registered their highest prices of the year and in some instances for a long period at extreme advances of 25 to 200 points.

The 200 point gain was made by the first 4 1/4's, on comparatively small dealings, greatest activity being evidence by the third and fourth series of that group. Victory notes, especially the 4 1/4's, also were active but showed no perceptible change at the close.

Sales of liberty and victory issues approximated $4,500,000, or about 75 per cent of the day's business in all classes of bonds. This is exclusive of private or "over the counter" sales made by dealers.

Japanese Delegate to Washington Conference

TOKIO, Oct. 8.—Speaking before the American-Japanese society which gave a farewell luncheon in his honor today, Premier Iyosato Tokugawa, who will head the Japanese delegation to the Washington conference, said he appreciated the courtesy because the aim of the society was to promote a better understanding between Japan and the United States, to which end a solution of the questions to be discussed at the conference as of particular significance.

"The success of my weighty mission will greatly depend upon the cordial sympathy of those at home," he said. "With your moral support I shall be strengthened to take part in the deliberations of one of the most important international conferences the world has ever known."

Viscount Shibusawa, who will head the group of Japanese business on a visit to the United States some time this month, also was a guest. He described the object of his mission the cultivating of good relations between the two countries.

Warm October Days Reported at Eugene

EUGENE, Or., Oct. 8.—Today and yesterday were the hottest October days in the history of the local weather bureau. The maximum temperature today was 75 and that of yesterday 71. The Willamette river is at a lower stage than it has been at any previous time during the past summer.

Irish Peace Delegates Get Great Ovation

LONDON, Oct. 8.—The Irish peace delegates, who are to begin negotiations with representatives of the British government, October 11, upon their arrival tonight received a stormy welcome from several thousand of their countrymen and partisans whose cheers were reinforced by the thundering of a kilted pipers' band. The delegates' train pulled in at the same platform as the train which carried the King and Queen from Balmoral scarcely half an hour before. For the sovereigns the platform had been raised off and cordoned by police and the floor had been covered with a red carpet on which a group of court attendants welcomed their majesties. Their departure from the station was cheered by many of those among the crowds which had assembled to greet the Irish peace mission.

REVISE LESSONS.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 8.—All school blackboards will have spelling and writing lessons of "It is dangerous to play in the street." Instead of "The cat sees the rat," as a result of a safety campaign inaugurated here by the Automobile club of Southern California.

CONN IS COACH.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 8.—George "Tuffy" Conn, who sport writers claim was one of the greatest backfield men ever developed in the history of Southern California football, has signed a contract to coach the Occidental freshman eleven here this season. Conn learned the tanbark game under the tutelage of Duffy Seay, who at present is instructing the Stanford yearlings in the rudiments of the pigskin pastime. Later he played with the Oregon Agricultural college aggregation and then went in for professional football in the east.

SHOOT UNFAITHFUL LOVER.

LEAD HILL, Ark., Oct. 8.—A broken engagement and the announcement that her promised fiancé was preparing to marry another girl tomorrow, led to the fatal shooting of Boyd Ridinger, 27, farmer of Bradley's Ferry, near here this afternoon. Miss Allie Stinnett, 21, his former sweetheart, in the scuffle for the gun, was shot in the thigh. Ridinger died four hours after the shooting. Miss Stinnett surrendered to the police.

Japanese Chagrined Over Chinese Reply

TOKIO, Oct. 8.—(By The Associated Press.) China-Japan.—Japanese officials apparently are deeply chagrined over the reply of China to Japan's proposal and the difficulties which have been met in the negotiations with the Far Eastern republic, as it was hoped progress toward a solution of these problems would be made before the Washington conference.

It is announced that the conference at Dairen between Japanese representatives and officials rep-

ARRESTED FOR SPREADING SEDITION IN INDIA.

The All brothers, who are working for independence and a republican form of government in India, have just been arrested by the British Government for seditious speeches and attempts to spread ideas of mutiny in the Indian section of the British army in India. Shaikat Ali is on the left and Mahomed Ali on the right of the photograph. Their mother is in the center. During the world war the two brothers were interned by the British Government. They were finally approached by British officials, who promised them their release on condition that the brothers would refrain from further participation in India's political controversies. Upon hearing of the proposal the venerable mother of Shaikat and Mahomed vowed that she would stab her two sons to the heart if they consented to the bargain. Needless to say, the brothers served their time of internment. The All brothers are two of India's wealthiest and most influential men.

merely interrupted, owing to the desire of the Far Eastern government to transfer the deliberations to China.

DIES FROM ANTHRAX.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Michael Farley, a former representative in congress from New York, died today following a brief illness which was diagnosed at a hospital as anthrax. Mr. Farley told attending physicians he had purchased a new shaving brush last week and that a rash appeared on his face shortly after he had used it.

"Show him up," said the patient editor, and the taming visitor was conducted into his presence.

"I want an explanation," cried the visitor, shaking his fist in the editor's face.

"Why, what's the matter," said the editor.

"See here!" shouted the visitor, "what do you mean by publishing my resignation from my political office in this way?"

The editor raised his eyebrows in surprise. "Why, I thought you gave out the story yourself."

"So I did," replied the retiring politician, bursting with rage. "But I didn't tell you to print the news under the head of 'Public Improvements!'"

Little did the old-fashioned man ever imagine he would live in a day when silk stockings were considered a necessity.

Another joy of life in the Arctic regions is that the Eskimos are not compelled to employ ammonia to produce ice.

Following the dance the pinkish shrimp meat was shoveled through great screens, the brittle shell fragments falling through, while the piles of dried flesh were packed in barrels.

The shrimp industry in Louisiana has grown to greater proportions than is generally known. During the season of 1920, 20,716 persons were supported by the industry, more than one million dollars were invested in shrimp fleets, and the catch was listed by government officials at 28,950,000 pounds.
