"The Women's News Service, Inc." Other officials are Jane Johnson Martin, vice president and Mima Bruere, secretary and treasurer.

The news service, according to the present plans, will start in November although it may be decided to perfect the working body of the Service in all its details before beginning putting news out, in which case the news bureau work will be delayed until early in the new year.

Within the last week there have been received no less than five propositions to finance the new service but all were refused as the purpose of the service is to have it controlled and owned by women only.

From every state in the Union have come offers of help and from every state in the Union have come requests for places on the bureau staff. Mrs. Clarke has wisely determined to "make haste slowly" in getting such a big machine in working order but is enthusiastic over the response which has come both from the press of the country and women at large. The new service, once launched, will in Mrs. Clarke's words be "a cooperative all-partisan organization for marketing news about women."

Power Project Launched For Coos County Waters

Malcolm J. Anderson of Portland has filed with the state engineer an application for authority to appropriate from the south fork of Coquille river, in Coos county, water sufficient to yield 75 cubic feet per second. The project contemplates a power, manufacturing and lighting development to cost an estimated $750,000, including the construction of a dam 100 feet long and 400 feet long at the top.

Other applications to appropriate water have been filed as follows:

- By William H. Cripe of Harper, Malheur county, covering the use of water from South Cottonwood creek for irrigation of a 25-acre tract.
- By Frank H. Oliver, J. R. Shlenb and Burt M. Oliver of Summerville, covering the appropriation of 10 second feet from Mill creek for irrigation, domestic and power purposes in Union county.
- By Charles M. Bulkley of Waldport, covering the appropriation of water from an unnamed tributary of Alsoa river for power development in Lincoln county.
- By Charles Doyle of Dufur, covering the appropriation of water from Fifteen Mile creek for the development of 25 horsepower in Wasco county, at a cost of $500.
- By M. L. Kinney, W. E. Lucas and Mrs. Jessie Lucas of Wamle, covering the appropriation of water from Middle fork of Gate creek for irrigation and supplemental supply for lands in Wasco county.
- By Don Thomas Awbrey of Eugene, covering the appropriation of water from Deschutes river for irrigation of 60 acres of land in Deschutes county.
- By Calvin Lane Dusenberry of Gold Hill, covering the appropriation of water from Sardine creek tributary to Rogue River, for irrigation of a six-acre tract, and for domestic water supply in Jackson county.
- By O. P. Ellingsen of Bandon, covering the appropriation of water from Lowe creek, tributary to Coquille river, for irrigation of 20 acres in Coos county, at a cost of $300.
- By Earl C. Latourette of Oregon City, covering the appropriation of five second feet from Fish springs and stream, tributary to Willamette river, for municipal purposes in Clackamas county.
- By Gus E. Stadiz and R. S. Towne of Lower Bridge, covering the appropriation of water from Deschutes river for storage to be used for irrigation and domestic purposes in Deschutes county.

Telegram from McNary Confirms Rate Reduction

The public service commission is in receipt of a telegram from United States Senator Charles L. McNary confirming the report that the transcontinental railroads have granted a special rate of 1 cent a mile for American legion members of the western states who wish to attend the national convention of the legion which is to be held in Kansas City the latter part of this month. The commission has sent a letter of thanks to Senator McNary for his efforts in behalf of the commission in asking for this concession.

Meanwhile the Ku Klux Klan seems to be advertised by its loving enemies. Why not laugh it out of existence?

WHEAT PRICE AWAY DOWN

Portland Grain Market Declines to Lowest Level Known in Five Years

RAIL TROUBLE IS CAUSE

Lowest Figure of Season Reported from Chicago Board of Trade

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 18.—Local wheat prices declined to the lowest level in five years today when bids on the Merchants Exchange were posted at 57 cents to $1.01 a bushel for future delivery. The break is due to the unsettled condition prevailing in all markets throughout the country on account of the threatened rail tieup.

The last time wheat went below $1 a bushel was on August 2, 1916, when bids were reduced to 59 cents. Since that time the market has successfully rocked to heights where the farmer secured $2.20 for his grain at shipping points. A year ago today wheat sold at $2.15 a bushel delivered Portland.

Down in Chicago

CHICAGO, Oct. 18.—Bearish views of the domestic industrial situation and of the foreign financial outlook carried wheat downward today to the lowest price this season. Closing quotations were unsettled at 3 3/4 to 4 3/4 cents net decline, with December 1.05 1/4 to 1.05 1/2 and May 1.09 3/4 to 1.10. Corn finished unchanged to 3-8 and 1-2 lower. Oats off 1-4 to 5-8 cents and provisions unchanged to 25 cents down.

Except for a brief time at the start, the wheat pit was nearly bare of buying orders whereas brokers were numerous who had orders to sell. A temporary initial upturn in prices was ascribed to a disposition in some quarters to believe that the government report on farm reserves had been given too much weight as a depressing factor.

This circumstance, however, was soon lost sight of and the attention of traders focused on the uncertainty of the big threatened railway tieup and on talk of a possible financial crash in Germany. Announcement from the Atlantic seaboard that 1,000,000 bushels of United States wheat had been purchased for Europe failed to bring about any important rally.

Corn also touched a new low price for the season. The corn market, though, was relatively firm compared with wheat. Smallness of receipts together with better export inquiry helped to sustain values. Oats paralleled the action of corn.

Provisions went lower with hogs.

State Soon to Rest in Mrs. Southard's Trial

TWIN FALLS, Idaho, Oct. 18.—The state expects to conclude its testimony in the case of Lyda Meyer Southard, alleged poisoner of her husband. Evidence for the defense, it is believed, will not occupy more than one week. Witnesses for the state told day of conversations with the defendant during and after the illness of Edward Dooley, her husband, and his brother Robert, in 1915.

C. D. King, Twin Falls rancher, testified that Mrs. Southard expressed concern to him over the possible action of the parents of the Dooleys, who, she said, might order the bodies exhumed. She said W. J. Trueblood, her father, had paid money to an attorney to discourage any attempt to disinter the bodies, according to King.

MRS. MARK SKIFF, who was a delegate from the Salem chapter of War Mothers to the national convention, just returned Thursday evening from San Francisco where she visited with friends following the close of the convention in Sacramento.

Wednesday, following the close of the convention, the delegates were the guests of the San Francisco Examiner for a launch ride on the bay and later for lunch at the St. Francis hotel. Following the luncheon 90 War Mothers were taken to the city hall where the mayor of the city addressed them. Sight seeing trips over the city were then arranged and the next day they visited the hospitals for wounded soldiers in the city.

The delegates were guests at the regular meeting of the San Francisco War Mothers and enjoyed other pleasure trips.

The next convention of the American War Mothers will be held in Kansas City and it is hoped that many more chapters will have been organized by then, according to Mrs. Skiff.

"Old Time Women" will be the subject of a talk by Mrs. K. F. M. Cleaves of Portland, at the meeting of the Salem W.C.T.U. which will be Oct. 25.

The new officers for the coming year will take their place during this meeting. They are Mrs. E. N. Law, president and Mrs. J. J. Krapp, treasurer. Mrs. J. J. Nunn, secretary, holds over from the previous year.
