The Well Dressed Woman

By AGNES AYRES
Star in Paramount Pictures.

Here is a charming cape by an American designer, another of the noteworthy designs which I found at the all-American style shows that I attended a short time ago. It is very unusual, very interesting and has charming lines. It is quite as good as anything that I have seen from Paris. Made of the season's favorite, undyed broadtail, with a huge collar of matching fur just a shade darker, it is picturesque, as well as beautiful.

The front is perfectly plain and buttons warmly up to the collar with huge broadtail buttons. The sides are in a separate piece, are full and drawn back in huge folds that are caught into the small square panel that you see at the back. To accentuate the panel a heavy fringe of self-colored silk has been added.

The huge collar follows the season's mode by falling over the shoulder line and fitting very loosely about the neck, giving that delicate, drooping, shouldered effect that was so much in vogue with the fragile ladies of a more feminine period.

It is all consistent with some of the autumn's style tendencies—the impractical hoop skirt, the simulated tight bodice and the willow shawl. It is rather surprising that we, with our squarer shoulders, large waists and our enthusiastic appetite for out of door sports, should or could wear them at all.

It is ground for a great thankfulness that we merely play at small waists and sloping shoulders.

West Point Examinations to be Here November 8

Enlisted men of the Oregon national guard who are applicants for entrance to West Point military academy will be given an examination at 10 o'clock the morning of November 8, at the Salem armory, according to announcement of Adjutant General George A. White. The members of the examining board are to be Colonel George A. White, infantry, United States army; Major James S. Dusenbury, C. A. C., United States army; Captain Howard E. Carruth, medical corps, Oregon national guard, and J. C. Churchill, state superintendent of public instruction.

Contraband booze emptied into the gutters in a northern city at the lining of 300 feet of public sewer. The town is going to sue the prohibition enforcement officers for damages. When hooch is so powerful that it gnaws its sole in a cement sewer, what would it do to the human tummy? It will soon be necessary for a man to train on barb wire in order to be ready to tear the moonshine that awaits him.

It's a Grand Old Remedy
You can't keep strong and well without sleep. Whether your rest is broken by a painful hacking cough or just an annoying tickling in the throat, the system becomes weakened and run down. Mrs. K. M. Drake, Childs, Md., writes: "After an attack of the 'flu' I was left with a severe cough. Nothing relieved me till I used Foley's Honey and Tar, which I can highly recommend." It covers irritated membranes with a healing and soothing coating, loosens phlegm and clears air passages. Sold everywhere.—Adv.

SULPHUR CLEARS A PIMPLY SKIN

Apply Sulphur as Told When Your Skin Breaks Out

Any breaking out of the skin on face, neck, arm or body is overcome quickest by applying Mentho-Sulphur. The pimples seem to dry right up and go away, declares a noted skin specialist.

Nothing has ever been found to take the place of sulphur as a pimple remover. It is harmless and inexpensive. Just ask any druggist for a small jar of Mentho-Sulphur and use it like cold cream.—Adv.
