Twelve American Destroyers Will Conduct General's Ship to Harbor

PERSHING RACES HOME

Honored Guest of American Legion to Be Welcomed By Many Notables

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Twelve American destroyers left tonight to escort Marshal Foch into this port tomorrow.

The war craft will meet the liner Paris, bearing the allied generalissimo 100 miles off the coast, and joined by seaplanes, will accompany the ship to quarantine, where a navy cutter with notables will be waiting.

Stokers Aid Race Whether General Pershing also will be waiting to welcome his old comrade will depend largely on the stokers aboard the liner George Washington, bringing him back home.

Captain Cunningham of the George Washington, wireless late today that he was about 75 miles astern of the Paris, but that his fire room forces had responded so well to the appeal of the American Legion to put on extra steam, that he had picked

NEW NAMES ARE ADDED TO LIST

Y.M.C.A. Budget Increased $534 at Noon Luncheon Yesterday

At the noon luncheon held Thursday of workers for the Y. M. C. A. in securing pledges for the budget of the coming year, 35 new names were added to the list, bringing in an additional amount of $534.50.

The general opinion of all was that the work of securing pledges should be continued as there are many who have not been asked to give, who are supporters of the Y. M. C. A. a year ago and gave the financial assistance.

The total amount now pledged in the coming year calls for $9,775. Efforts are being made to secure several large subscriptions.

It has been suggested that many who are in sympathy with the Y. M. C. A. work have not been solicited, and that those who have might send in their contributions direct.

- Following is a list of names of those whose pledges were reported at the Thursday noon luncheon: G. G. Bingham $100.00, Carl & Doveson $16.00, Gibb & Milling $5.00, Skaggs United Stores $10.00, F. G. Blich $12.00, Fred Downs $20.00, John J. Roberts $50.00, Dan J. FLAX PROBE TO BE CONTINUED

Realtors Associations Will Seek Status of State Flax Industry

To secure more information as to the attitude of state officials on the flax industry the Marion County Realtors association, in session yesterday at the Marion hotel, voted for an additional investigation.

It was brought out by A. C. Bohrmann that while the average individual is obliged to live up to a contract, it appears that the state has not done so in its flax contracts and that the withholding of money due farmers on flax is working a great hardship to many who are in distress. He cited the case of an old woman who had worked hard to develop her farm, and in selling it recently, accepted a flax contract from the state for $5,700 in part payment. When this was presented to a bank upon which to borrow $1000 it was not regarded as sufficient security for even that amount, although it was a contract with the state, the speaker said.

The opinion was expressed that the state should not keep farmers waiting so long for amounts due them on flax, although it is known that the state will eventually pay. So the members may become fully posted on the flax situation at the next Thursday's meeting, Robert Crawford, who has handled the flax industry of the state for several years and who is regarded as an expert in flax matters, will address the association. Later it is hoped that some state official will address the realtors and tell some of the inside story.

BLANTON OVERCOME BY HOUSE CENSURE

Representative Garrett, of Tennessee, Democratic leader, censuring the Texas for printing "Language so indecent, obscene, vulgar and vile," as to render the record unpalatable, and directing the speaker to "reprimand and censure him," at the bar of the house, was thrown out on a point of order, prior to the vote on expulsion.

Garrett Grasps Situation But when the Republican leader lost his fight to oust the Texas, the Democratic leader, getting the master hand, called up his resolution for immediate vote.

As the names were called there was a shout of "ayes," half the members going out as they answered. The roll showed 233 to 0 with 26 voting "present."

As the word was passed that Mr. Blanton would be immediately hailed before the bar of the house, members streamed back. Members turned in their seats and the crowds in the gallery looked down curiously as the speaker's desk swung open and J. G. Rodgers, holding Mr. Blanton by the arm, walked to the front.

ROOSEVELT DAY IS CELEBRATED

Exercises Held at House Where He Was Born in New York City

"NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—The 63rd anniversary of Theodore Roosevelt's birth was observed today at the brown stone house on 17th street where he was born. In the village school house at Oyster Bay where he used to play Santa Claus and at Young's Cemetery, where his grave was visited by hundreds.

Besides, there was a pageant by 2000 high school girls under auspices of the Woman's Roosevelt Memorial association and a dinner for Boy Scouts.

A letter from Mrs. W. G. Harding expressing interest in the work of the Woman's Roosevelt Memorial association to restore the former president's birthplace, was read.

Mr. Roosevelt's house always is kept as a fitting memorial to that great man's true Americanism, and a place of pilgrimage sacred and inspiring to the people of our great country," the letter read.

The library of the Roosevelt Memorial association now contains 3,000 volumes and thousands of newspaper clippings, cartoons, photographs and other personal mementoes of the former president, the trustees reported at their meeting today.

The books include 73 first editions of Colonel Roosevelt's works many of them inscribed. An architect's committee, including Lorado Taft, was appointed to confer with the trustees regarding erection of the memorial monument in Washington.

National Guardsmen Will Have Part in Celebration

In order that Armistice day may be properly observed in Oregon, Colonel George A. White, adjutant general, has issued an order calling attention to the day and declaring that it is fitting that the Oregon national guard participate in the proper observance of Armistice day.

"Organization commanders are charged with making such arrangements for the participation of the national guard as may conform with the local plan of Armistice day celebration in the various localities where national guard units are located. At such places as parades are to be held, participation in such parades is very desirable, and for the purpose of armory drills, the participation as a unit of national guard organizations in such parades will be considered as one drill."

High School Students To Stage Rally Tonight

By a big rally at the high school tonight and a serpentine later, Salem high school will make known that the high school team will play the first local game of the season here Saturday and that they are out to defeat the invaders from Columbia university when the Portland eleven clashes with the red and black defenders on Westland field Saturday afternoon.

The school will make the entire day a rally day, with an assembly in the morning for yell practice. "Crush Columbia" is the motto for the locals which they are carrying out with a spirit that will be hard to defeat.

The serpentine will be formed at the high school under the leadership of Yell King Aubrey Trauwiek and will be accompanied by the girls who will sing at the street intersections. Practically all of the business houses including the theaters will be invaded by the rosters.

Students Are Addressed By Rev. Mr. Kirkpatrick

Rev. Blaine E. Kirkpatrick addressed the student body of Willamette university during chapel period, "Crush Columbia" is "Christianity Needs to be Lived."

He said: "One way to modernize Christianity is to live it—Christianity is a practical thing—Christianity is not an idealistic scheme, but is a practical program—we must make Christianity a first hand thing for our life."

ACTIVITY IN STAYTON VICINITY

STAYTON, Or., Oct. 27.—C. A. Fryer, a retired pharmacist of Portland, arrived in Stayton on Monday last, being on his way home from Grants Pass where he had been looking over some valuable timber property near there. He is a son-in-law of J. R. Gardner of this place.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dietz drove over from Salem during the week with a load of walnuts, which they displayed among the merchants of Stayton. The walnuts were grown on the Dietz place and were of fine size and flavor.

D. E. Gardner has purchased the Grant Murphy property on West Ida street, the consideration being $1500. The property consists of two lots and a good dwelling. Mr. Gardner expects to make it his home.

Austin Titus of the Valley Motor company of Salem was here a few days ago looking after the interests of the company. Mr. Titus has charge of the tractor department.

A. L. Mack, one of the pioneer residents of Stayton, was in Salem Thursday.

H. J. Rowe has taken a lease on the I. O. F. store building. Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Wood left for Twin Falls, Idaho, last Friday, after spending several weeks at the Frank Foster home.

Miss Guneth Davis, a popular high school girl and a vocalist of talent, went to Monmouth Monday where she appeared in concert Wednesday evening.

The Stayton football team is scheduled to meet the Amity team on the home field Friday afternoon. This team played its first game at Scio last Friday when it met defeat.

Edward J. Highberger was reported ill Tuesday with an attack of grippe, bordering on pneumonia. At last accounts he was slightly improved.

were today donated to the commission. P. H. Dater assured the commission that the forest service will cooperate in developing both the Caves road in Josephine county and the Crater Lake road, contingent upon the passage of the federal highway bill. He said the forest service would furnish $100,000 toward the Trail-Prospect section of the Crater Lake road.

In return the commission informed him that it would cooperate with the forest service in handling various preliminary surveys now pending, notable among which is the proposed road to connect the forest section of the Mount Hood loop with the state road.

Ten Candidates Named For Salem Postmaster

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Candidates for postmaster at Salem, Or., are 10 in number. Lists were closed last night when the following applications had been entered under examination: Walter L. Tooz, Sr., Carlo Abrams, August Huckestein, Herbert Haid, Leroy Hewlett, Herman Schellberg, John H. Farrar, Andrew A. Lee, Thomas C. Smith, Jr., and Arthur E. Gilbert.

The postoffice department has asked the civil service commission to prepare for examination for the Turner office.

Physical Habits Derange The Spine

Parents need to watch carefully the posture of children. Any tendency to stooped shoulders, to hip curvature, or slouching, should be corrected. Boys who carry papers are apt to have one shoulder higher. Girls with a baby to tend are apt to support the child on one hip and thus one hip becomes higher.

The correction of course where the trouble has become a habit, is to get chiropractic spinal adjustments. Disturbance of the spinal joint alignment in the region between the shoulders may cause chronic stomach, ulcers or heart trouble. Derangements of alignment in the small of the back may cause chronic weakness of the lower organs, sciatic rheumatism, lumbago, etc. Chiropractic spinal adjustments remove the cause of diseases of the head, throat, lungs, heart, stomach, liver, kidneys and intestinal organs.

HOME CONCERN IS GIVEN BOOST

Realtors Urge Investments in Building and Loan Association

An inquiry was made at the Thursday noon meeting of the Marion County Realtors' association as to why the people of Salem and vicinity were buying bonds of outside investments, and even taking stock in Portland and Idaho building and loan associations, while they are not supporting the local building and loan association.

This was brought up for discussion following the statement that many people who want to live in Salem are not coming here as houses are not to be had. It was shown that the local building and loan association is just now passing on loans for the building of homes wherein applications for loans was made three months ago. Also, that many who want to build through the local association do not care to wait several months before having their applications acted on.

L. G. Hayford, president of the Realtors' association, expressed the opinion that something should be done in order to interest home capital and home folks in taking stock in the home building and loan association. He said that with more funds, the association could erect double the number of houses now building, and that each home was a great asset to the city.

John H. Scott approved of the home association and said that something should be done to place the real value of the association before the people.

"The city and county are developing faster than we realize," declared Mr. Scott. "Those who are away for a short time are surprised when they return, to see the improvement. People outside of the county are everywhere talking of Salem."

T. M. Hicks, president of the Salem Abstract company, said that at least 50 per cent who want to build have to give up the idea as the building and loan association here is 30 days back on loans and could conservatively use twice the amount of money available.

In fact, Mr. Hicks was of the opinion that there would be four times as much building in Salem as there is now if people would invest in the home association, instead of in outside associations. He said that the association here is a mutual one and that it would pay fully 8 per cent.

The realtors association will again take up the matter and endeavor to solve or help in solving the problem of inducing home folks to support the home building and loan association.

Ten Witnesses Heard in Prize Fight Case

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Oct. 27.—Ten witnesses, including eight local ministers, who opposed the holding of the Carpenter-Demsey bout last July, testified today before the Hudson county grand jury which opened an investigation to determine if the bout was in violation of the state law.

The grand jury heard G. C. Gilson, counsel for the International Reform Bureau, which sought to enjoin the promoter from holding the contest on the ground it was a "prize fight" and therefore illegal and a private detective employed by the bureau.

Copper Miners Entombed For Week Found Alive

BRITANNIA, B. C., Oct. 27.—Two copper miners, entombed for a week 2300 feet under the ground, were rescued alive here tonight. A trickle of water, air from a tiny aperture in the shaft and their emergency rations, served to sustain life. The men, Francis Patenaude and L. P. Craig, were working in the shaft last Thursday when a rock slide closed the entrance. Since then, rescue gangs worked unceasingly, night and day cutting through the rock. Craig and Patenaude were removed to a hospital, where it was reported their condition was not serious.

Arrest of Japanese May Furnish Precedent

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 27.—Contention that treaty rights were violated when federal officers seized liquor alleged to have been in the possession of Itaru Takeo, steward of the Japanese ship, Kiso Maru, was made today by the attorney for Takeo who was arrested after federal officers had taken four cases of whiskey from the boat. The claim was made that the United States had no jurisdiction on board the vessel.

Two informations charging Takeo with importing liquor into the United States and having liquor in his possession, were filed today in District Attorney Woolwine's office.

"The point raised may set an important precedent and if the court upholds Takeo's claim it would be impossible for federal authorities to seize liquor from any ship flying a foreign flag," declared Deputy District Attorney Lusk.
