HINTS of the fast of the fall, Thanksgiving, which is casting its shadow on before, were seen in the setting and decorations of the E. H. Campbell home Tuesday evening. The occasion was the monthly entertainment of the Yomarc Bible class. Assisting hostesses were Mrs. Carle Abrams, Mrs. Henry Kleopfinger and Mrs. Rosana Glover. Fall blossoms intermingled with autumn leaves formed an attractive setting in the reception rooms and hall where an informal reception was held. A unique feature of the evening entertainment was the prominent part played by the men of the party in assisting about the rooms and in the serving. Those assisting about the reception rooms were Dr. Floyd Utter, Ray Smith and Roy Hollenberg. Rev. Blaine E. Kirkpatrick poured; B. E. Sisson cut the ices and G. W. Day and H. H. Kleopfinger assisted. Refreshments were served in the dining room where shaded lights cast a soft glow on the table which was centered with fruit baskets. Lighted tapers in crystal sticks ornamented the tables. Thanksgiving time was the inspiration for the decorations and favors.

LITIGATION IS TO BE DELAYED

Malheur Lake Again Involved in Controversy—Authorities Act

Through the efforts of Senator McNary and Representative Sinnott, threatened litigation by the government against all water users on the Clives and Blitzen rivers tributaries of Malheur lake in Malheur county, has been averted. The Malheur lake bird reserve is again involved, and the purpose of the threatened suit would be to insure an adequate flow into Malheur lake at all times, so the present condition of the lake would be maintained.

Percy A. Cupper, state engineer, believing that litigation would interfere seriously with the development of Malheur county, brought the subject to the attention of officials at Washington. He feared particularly that action in court would hamper construction of the works proposed by the Harney Valley Irrigation district, involving about 80,000 acres, and the district recently organized on the Clives and Blitzen rivers for the reclamation of 30,000 or 40,000 acres.

The United States attorney general has informed Senator McNary and Representative Sinnott that he has directed the United States attorney to suspend action temporarily.

The Malheur bird reserve has several times been a center of attention and has occupied much time at several sessions of the legislature. Later the situation led to a ballot measure proposing the ceding of the lake to the government. This was defeated.

"It would seem that the state and the federal governments in a matter of this kind, which involves only questions of public interest, should be able to get together on some basis of settlement without resorting to the use of litigation. It is believed that litigation would involve many years of uncertainty and delay, and would probably not result to the best interests of the public. Either the state or the government would win in case of litigation, and either the development of the entire section for commercial purposes and the nitr elimination of the bird reserve result, or in case the federal government succeeded, all water flowing into the lake, the future development of Harney valley would be stopped.

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

If Mixed With Sulphur it Darkens So Naturally Nobody Can Tell.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular, because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it, and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft luster and appearance of abundance which is so attractive.—Adv.

"Save Children of Near East" Pleads Member of Relief Commission

Mrs. Florence Spencer Duryea, Just Returned From an Investigation In the Levant, Says Scores of Children are Dying Daily

THOUSANDS of orphans throughout the Near East who owe their lives to America still look to us for their food and shelter, according to Mrs. Florence Spencer Duryea, Director of the Women's Organizations of the Near East Relief. Mrs. Duryea was a member of the Commission which has just returned to this country after a two months' investigation of conditions in the Levant.

"They look to us, for they have no one else to look to," Mrs. Duryea declares. "We have been caring for them during the long years of warfare, which has not yet ceased in the Near East, and we must continue while the present need exists."

"Though much of our work has been done and it will require just a little more effort to complete the task, the past year makes immediate and effective action necessary. Due to invasion and disturbed political conditions an additional burden has been thrown upon us, especially in Armenia, where there are thousands of little tots facing a dreadful death unless we answer their appeal."

"I saw hundreds of children, so thin and weak from under-nourishment that they could hardly drag themselves along the ground, crying for something to eat at the gates of Near East Relief orphanages in Alexandropol and Erivan. The institutions are already overcrowded, and unless additional facilities are provided, no more can be admitted.

"This means a situation so horrible that I hate to think of it, for winter is coming, and winter in Transcaucasia is bitterly cold and the starvation and disease that is now carrying off scores every day will grow worse."

"If more American women could only see the sights that I saw, of babies dying in their mothers' arms; of youngsters who still need a mother's care scratching in refuse for a morsel of something to eat; of others so shriveled up from starvation that they more resembled mummies from some ancient Egyptian tomb than anything human; if they could only see these sights, and worse, I know they would see that America did not forsake a task that up to this time has been so wonderfully done."

Mrs. Duryea was one of the women members of the Commission to visit Transcaucasia, where she was the guest of the various local governments during her stay. These governments are without resources and totally unable to deal with the situation, she says.

seems no good reason why a compromise could not be made, which would permit the maintenance of a substantial part of the lake as a bird reserve and the control of both the Clives and Blitzen rivers by reservoirs and the reclamation of large areas of land.

"A bird reserve should be maintained and at the same time the development of this large area of land permitted."
