

Funeral Services Held For Aged Stayton Man

STAYTON, Ore., Nov. 4. — (Special to The Statesman) — Funeral services were held at the Methodist church Thursday afternoon for Ray Small, who was found dead at his home in Stayton Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Small, 76 years of age, lived alone, and no str or light about his home Monday and Tuesday caused neighbors to investigate.

His lifeless body was found lying face downward upon the floor, the open bed and undressed appearance of the body, gave evidence that he had been in bed, and was probably ill.

He was last seen Sunday afternoon when he appeared on the back porch of his home dressed only in underclothes, when he pumped a drink of water.

The body was taken to Silverton for burial. He leaves a brother at Silverton, and several children, one of whom is Mrs. Ray Mollet. Rev. C. B. Rees, pastor of the church, conducted the funeral service.

SHE KNOWS AFTER 20 YEARS

A cold, even when it has developed a hacking cough, difficult breathing, sleepless nights, raw throat and sore lungs,—even then a cold yields quickly to Foley's Honey and Tar. Mrs. Milton Waite, Box 32, Azalia, Mich., writes: "I have used Foley's Honey and Tar for the past 20 years and find there is no other cough or croup remedy like it. You may use my name." It gets right at the seat of the trouble. Children like it. Sold everywhere.—Adv.

Final Entries Are in For Livestock Show

PORTLAND, Nov. 4.—Last of the 3000 pure bred cattle, horses, sheep, goats and swine entered in competition at the Pacific International Livestock exposition arrived today in preparation for the opening of the annual show here tomorrow.

Many western states are represented by the hundreds of carloads of blue ribbon entries that have been pouring into Portland for a week past and a number of herds have journeyed all the way across the continent to compete for blue ribbons, trophies and cash premiums. Western Canada is also liberally represented, particularly in the horse show and sheep sections.

Stock judging contests by students from the state agricultural colleges of California, Washington, Idaho and Oregon will be a feature tomorrow.

COAST TO SEE 3 BIG GAMES

Berkeley, Seattle and Pullman Scenes of Important Football Games

TEAMS AT THEIR BEST

Smaller Institutions Battle for Leads in All Western States

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4.—On football grids in Berkeley, Seattle and Pullman tomorrow will be played intercollegiate games in the races for the championships of the Pacific and the Pacific northwest.

A hard, grudge fight is expected at Berkeley, where the University of California meets University of Southern California. Neither team has been defeated since 1919 and both have been "pointed" for this game all season.

Coach Andy Smith says he wants to give U. S. C. a drubbing and, for the first time this year, has ordered the bears to "open up" with all their plays.

Stanford, which staged the season's first big upset by defeating the Oregon Aggies last Saturday, plays a Pacific coast conference game at Seattle tomorrow against Washington, which lost to the Aggies 24-0 at the opening of the season. The Cardinals, for the first time this year, will be favorites before the game. Coach Bagshaw of Washington has been holding secret practice for the game. Stanford will use its strongest lineup.

Another coast conference game which also counts toward the Northwest conference title, will be played at Pullman between Oregon and Washington State. Both have been defeated by California by scores of 35-0 and 14-0, respectively. The Oregon team was given a shakeup this week and, it is said, will be superior to the eleven sent on the field in earlier games.

In the southern California conference, Whittier and Pomona, who are leading, meet the southern branch of the University of California and Redlands university, respectively. Idaho and Montana meet in a northwest conference game at Moscow; Williamette meets Pacific university at Salem and Nevada, with the star quarter, Bradshaw, back in the game, plays Utah at Reno.

HOFFER TELLS OF REALTORS' MEET

Salem Member Placed on Important Committees at Eugene Convention

Colonel E. Hofer is enthusiastic about the convention of real estate men held at Eugene the past week which he attended, and speaks in the highest terms of the entertainment given the visitors from 26 counties, the convention concluding with a banquet which was enjoyed by 224 guests, to say nothing of luncheons and a dancing party at the Chamber of Commerce.

"You must hand it to the university city people," he said, "when it comes to hospitality." Eugene has overcome the after war slump and many fine new houses are going up. The Osburn hotel is to be enlarged. Mr. and Mrs. Osburn are building a beautiful villa in the hills three miles south of the city. That is quite a feat with Eugeneites, to have a second residence commanding fine scenery and mountain air.

The Salem delegation included President L. J. Hayford, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Mills, John H. Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Peterson, Winnie Pettyjohn, Gertrude Page, George Grabenhorst, Ore F. McIntyre, and A. C. Bohrstedt. The Salem bunch sat in a group at the head table and the way they did put Salem on the map with some college yells was a caution. Places on standing committees of the Interstate Realtors organization were given them as follows:

President Hayford on membership; J. A. Mills on taxation; Mrs. Pettyjohn on advertising and publicity; A. C. Bohrstedt on resolutions.

A notable event was the presentation of the proposed state income tax by Professor Gilbert of the taxation department of the state university. He attended the national convention of tax commissioners and presented a strong argument in favor of the model income tax bill that has been drafted and is to be made part of the Oregon system of raising revenues. Another group of tax experts advocated giving the state tax commission power to remove any county assessor who did not assess all real estate and personal property at 100 per cent value.

Three Fatal Accidents Are Reported for Week

Three fatal accidents out of a total of 369 industrial casualties were reported to the state industrial accident commission for the week ending November 3. The fatal cases were:

Everett Robinson, Falls City, timberman; A. E. Boyd, Portland, electrician; Joe Burik, Silverton, log scaler.

Of the total number of accidents reported 343 were subject to the provisions of the workmen's compensation act, 17 were from firms and corporations that have rejected the provisions of the compensation act and nine were from public utility corporations not subject to the act.

ADVISE FOR WOMEN WHO SUFFER

"I advise every woman who suffers with kidney trouble to try Foley Kidney Pills," writes Mrs. Bessie Brawner, 2522 Scofield Ave., Cleveland, O. "I could not do my housework, but since taking Foley Kidney Pills I feel like a new woman and am able to do my work." Rheumatism, swollen ankles and backache, stiff joints, sore muscles and sleep disturbing bladder ailments indicate disordered kidneys. Foley Kidney Pills act promptly. Sold everywhere.—Adv.

SALES TAX MAY BOB UP AGAIN

Some Republican Leaders May Bring it Forth in Connection With Bonus

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—The sales tax as a source of federal revenue at this time was definitely rejected today by the senate, but there was further evidence that it was the purpose of Republican congressional leaders to bring it forth later as a means of raising funds to finance the proposed "five way" plan for adjusted compensation for former service men.

The majority today against the Smoot amendment to the tax revision bill proposing a business sales tax of one-half of 1 per cent was even larger than was that last night against the Smoot 1 per cent manufacturers' sales tax. The vote today was 46 to 25 as compared to 43 to 25 last night.

As was the case with the manufacturers' tax, the Democrats voted solidly against the business tax. They were joined by 22 Republicans, including Gooding of Idaho.

The senate continued consideration of the tax bill at a session tonight, but with the soldier bonuses and other important amendments yet to be disposed of, Republican leaders abandoned hope for passage of the bill this week. They sought to obtain unanimous consent for a final vote at 3 p. m. Tuesday, with debate limited after 3 p. m. Monday, but the plan fell through after some debate.

Several senators, who want to go home to vote in local elections objected to a vote on Tuesday and asked that some hour on Wednesday be fixed. There seemed prospects of an agreement on this but Senator Jones, Democrat, New Mexico, protesting against the limiting of debate, objected the agreement as drafted. This ended the effort to obtain unanimous consent for a vote but negotiations to this end probably will be renewed tomorrow.

Urging his sales tax amendment, Senator Smoot told the senate that since a sales tax was to be adopted in connection with the soldier bonus, he thought it would be a wise plan to put it in effect now, so as to determine what rate would be necessary to yield the money needed.

As the night session wore on little progress was made on the bill, the senate chamber at times being almost deserted and when quorum calls failed to get results the sergeant at arms went out to round up absentees.

A long discussion was launched on the transportation situation and the whole question of rates when an amendment by Senator McKeellar, Democrat, Tennessee, which would require railroads to sell mileage books at 2½ cents a mile, was taken up. This was abruptly interrupted with another quorum call.

A quorum was obtained, however, and the amendment was then tabled.

Without discussion the senate rejected the amendment of Senator Harris, Democrat, proposing to tax political campaign contributions of more than $100. It also rejected an amendment by Senator Trammell, Democrat, Florida, which would have provided that individuals borrowing money to purchase liberty bonds could deduct interest on such loans from their net income only in case they bought the bonds at par.

CHARGES WILL BE EXAMINED

Senate Determined to Proceed With Investigation of Allegations

COMMITTEE TO STAND

Inrate Watson Challenges Republicans to Expel Him From Membership

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4. — Investigation by a special senate committee of the charges of Senator Watson, Democrat, Georgia, that American soldiers in France were hanged without trial and shot by officers' orders, was assured today when the senate, after three hours discussion unanimously rookered the inquiry.

The special committee, headed by Senator Brandegee, Republican, Connecticut, will meet next Monday to determine upon procedure.

Parliamentary Mixes Staged

Another speech by the Georgia senator in support of his charges, wrangling between senators over the wording of the inquiry resolutions and parliamentary mixups preceded the final order for the investigation to proceed.

The senate finally and unannouncedly adopted a new and amended resolution, directing the inquiry, and another empowering the special committee to subpoena persons and papers.

Simmons Resolution Passed

The program announced yesterday for a motion to discharge the committee did not materialize. Instead, Senator Simmons, Democrat, North Carolina, proposed the new resolution, which was adopted, with an amendment declaring that the inquiry should be into Senator Watson's charges and not an investigation of the senator himself.

From the resolution giving the committee power to act in the case, another amendment struck out a statement relative to inviting Senator Watson to appear before the committee. The committee's course in this respect, members said, would be determined later.

Watson is Radical

Earlier Mr. Watson had challenged Republicans to expel him, declared for debate in the open senate and asked why an effort should be made to "entrap" and "silence" him before a committee. He denounced "white washing committee reports" and said they were not read.

The war department is preparing to give its fullest support to the senate investigation, taking the position that the accusations constitute a blot on the good name of the army, unless a full investigation is held.
