

Women's Activities

THE Duties of Women Jurors in Oregon will be the subject of a talk by Judge George H. Burnett at the November meeting of the Salem Women's club next Saturday.

Two cases are scheduled to come before the January term of court, six of whom are women. The law provides that all cases involving women or minors must have at least six women on the jury before whom the case is tried.

The object of this program is to acquaint the women with their duties and obligations in the matter of jury service. While jury duty for women in Oregon is optional under the law passed last June, women must, whether they desire or not, serve on cases involving women or minors.

Mrs. Lawrence T. Harris is chairman of the legislative committee which has charge of the program for the day. Other members of the committee are Mrs. Louis Lachmund, Mrs. J. C. Perry and Mrs. Florence Irwin.

The November meeting is a special guest day and any member of the club may bring two guests with her, whether they are residents of Salem or not.

Mrs. Robert McKinney Hofer will sing, accompanied by Mrs. E. W. Eyre. Tea will be served following the regular meeting of the club. The social committee in charge for the November meeting is composed of Mrs. H. H. Olinger, Mrs. J. H. Caushill, Mrs. Homer Smith, Mrs. F. W. Durbin, Mrs. R. E. L. Steiner and Mrs. Homer Goulet.

THE wind through the trees
Like an army is going Compelling me on
With the urge of its blowing,
It blows to my lips
A cascade of gladness
And tears at my heart
With the fingers of madness
Till—away with the world—
I will follow the guiding
Of wind in the trees
And of fireflies hiding
In lonely marshes,
Of stars in the river
Where lost in the waters
They poignantly quiver
But—nights when I rest
By a murmurous willow
With roots like a rock pile,
I long for my pillow.
The wanderer, the tramp, the hobo,
by whichever name it is preferred to call those who enjoy the never-ending novelty of tramping and wandering, they were climax and anti-climax at the meeting of the Modern Writers Tuesday evening in the Gilbert craft studio.

The climax was the part of the program featuring the tramp, his life and wanderings. Mrs. Le-Roy Leedy read a humorous essay called "A Tramp I Have Known," and Mrs. Monroe Gilbert read a "Brief for Tramps." Mrs. F. E. Barton contributed a verse on "The Imitation Tramp," and Miss Grace Smith "A Successful Subterfuge." Limericks prepared by Mrs. Gilbert and Miss Smith were passed around and read.

The anti-climax was "roadside bite to eat." Coffee made in a kettle suspended from a crane, sandwiches of bacon and doughnuts.

The wandering minstrel in the person of F. S. Barton arrived to help entertain "during the feed."

The manuscripts read and criticized during the evening included "Compensation," a fable by Mrs. W. F. Fargo, which was published in the October number of American Cookery magazine. Mrs. Fargo also read a poem "Irresistible," by Audred Bunch. Mrs. J. C. Nelson read a poem and an essay. Mrs. C. H. Jones read a short story "In Health and Happiness."

Mrs. W. F. Fargo was chosen leader for the coming year. The Modern Writers will meet November 15 with Miss Renska Swart.

THAT the child must lead and until it is realized that he is the big factor in civilization little progress can be made was the opinion of Mrs. J. F. Hill, president of the State Parent-Teacher association in an address before the Marion county association meeting Saturday.

Mrs. Hill urged that Salem form more units of the Parent-Teacher association and that Marion county might have one for each school. Only two associations in existence in Salem, one at McKinley-Lincoln and another at Highland Park school. Mothers' clubs exist at both of these schools as well as the association.

Professionally trained teachers paid in proportion to their responsibility as a leader of children was another thing urged by Mrs. Hill, who asserted that many messengers and delivery boys received more than the average teacher.

Miss Frances Hayes, of the State Child Welfare commission with headquarters in Portland, said that until there was an informed public there would be no true democracy. She gave a list of sources of material for information purposes.

Silverton Parent-Teacher association won the flag with an attendance of 45 out of 48 of their total membership.

WHILE the camera lends itself to pictorial work all pictures are not artistic, according to A. C. Barbour, who spoke on what constitutes a picture at the meeting of the photographic section of the arts league Monday evening.

The great majority of "snaps" are record pictures showing "what it looked like at the time you were there," "how the party did certain things on the vacation," or "how we looked on a certain occasion." These snaps are not necessarily artistic and most of the them are not.

Photographic art is analytical and those who would take good pictures must eliminate all things from the view which are not "necessary to make the picture." Mr. Barbour told amusing stories of how, having "found a picture," he often spent much time with a knife or small hatchet removing limbs of trees and other unnecessary elements from the view of the camera.

"A good picture invites one to walk into the foreground and has a way of entrance and also of exit," said Mr. Barbour.

He showed the importance of this by giving an example of an otherwise good picture which was spoiled by having a barred gate, closed, in the foreground. This shut out all entrance to the picture.

Printing and developing were discussed at length by Otto Paulus. Mr. Barbour in the absence of Bert Jeff, discussed the mechanical working of the camera, taking up in turn the things to do in snapping a picture.

The photographic section will meet tomorrow evening in the Gannell & Robb studio where some actual work in developing and a study of the negative will be taken up, according to Miss Kathryn Gannell, leader of the section.

Tag day for the benefit of a four bed ward in the new Salem hospital was sponsored yesterday by the Salem chapter of the American War Mothers. The ward is for the use of the ex-service men of Marion county.

The War Mothers, the Women's auxiliary of the American legion, the Girl Reserves, and friends of all the organizations were selling tags yesterday.

The other towns in the county took 3,000 tags to sell. The women assisting in Marion county towns were: Aurora, Miss Emma Snyder; Aumsville, Mrs. Edgar T. Pierce; Brooks, Mrs. Howard Ramp; Donald, Mrs. Harry Evans; Gervais, Mrs. G. J. Morrison; Hubbard, Mrs. Alice Grimm; Weaver, Mrs. Joseph Fountain; Stayton, Mrs. Lulu R. Lilly; Turner, Mrs. J. Gragg; Wacunda, Mrs. John Savage; Woodburn, Mrs. C. W. Gillette.

Civic Beautification will be discussed by Miss Florence Holmes, municipal landscape artist with the Portland bureau of parks, at the second regular meeting of the Salem Arts league, tomorrow evening. The meeting is open to the public and all interested are urged to attend. Miss Holmes will talk at 8 o'clock in the lecture room of the library. This program is under the direction of the new civic art section of the league of which S. H. Van Trump is chairman.

A violin duet by Miss Iva Claire Love and Miss Marion Emmons will be part of the program.

An average of one person a day is given employment through the local Young Woman's Christian association employment bureau, according to the records of the local association. Most of the women placed by the bureau are for housework, although some office positions are filled.

Not long ago a young woman called at the office and asked for stenography. No requests had been placed with the Y.W.C.A. at the time but within a few hours a request for a stenographer was received and the young woman put in connection with the opportunity.

A number of young girls attending the Salem schools and the Salem schools have obtained work with families in town which gives them board and room in exchange for a certain number of hours work. One girl from the interior of the county was located in a position of this kind where otherwise she would have been unable to go to school at all during the year.

"Methods of Decorating Pottery" was the subject taken up by the P.E.O. Sisterhood at their regular meeting Thursday afternoon. Various other divisions of the study of pottery have been taken up so far this year by the group which is making a study of the art this year.

Members answered to roll call with current events regarding Ireland. Mrs. E. E. Fisher was hostess for the day and was assisted by Mrs. W. H. Boyd and Mrs. O. E. Price. The next meeting will be with Mrs. A. T. Woolport.

The Poetry Appreciation section of the Salem Arts league will be organized Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. C. H. Jones. Those who are interested in such a group are being urged to attend by Otto Paulus, temporary chairman of the section.

The Civic Arts section of the Salem Arts league completed organization Wednesday evening. S. H. Van Trump was chosen chairman and Mrs. J. M. Clifford, secretary.

Specific problems in creative landscape work will be taken up by the group which will meet the first and third Mondays of the month. Mrs. F. L. Purvine will be hostess for the section November 7 at her home 682 State street.

Miss Maxine Buren of Salem has been chosen a member of the Women's Glee club at the University of Oregon.

I
Call me, Mirth, and I shall answer,
Call me from the farthest star;
Call me to a place of laughter
Where the careless pleasures are.

Answer tho I be one dumb;
Call me to the Feast of Pleasure,
Call me, Mirth, and I shall come.

Music

THE first of the series of organ concerts to be given by the Salem Music Teachers association will be given this afternoon at the First Christian church. Edgar E. Conson, Portland organist, will give a program of eight numbers, including: "Beth Levy," violinist, will assist with several solos.

Mr. Conson, who has played for 31 years at the First Presbyterian church in Portland, is a mountain climber "on the side" and has climbed all of the snow peaks of Oregon, Washington and California.

The program which will present this afternoon has been specially chosen to suit the specifications of the organ, including French, English, Dutch and American composers.

The Salem teachers are financing the organ concerts and no admission charge will be made but those who desire to, may make a silver offering in appreciation if they desire, according to Mrs. Harry Styles, who is chairman of the committee in charge of the first three concerts.

- Organ—(a) Prelude from C minor Sonata (Gulmunt). (b) Andante in D flat (Lemare).
- Violin—Romance (Rubenstein-Wieniawski).
- Organ (a) Canonetta (Lynes). (b) Evensong (Johnston).
- Organ (a) Gloria in Excelsis (Lemmens). (b) Song Without Words (Saltzman).
- Violin—Spanish Dance (Sarasate).
- Organ (a) The Pilgrim's Song of Hope (Batiste). (b) The Answer (Wolstenholme).

WINIFRED Byrd, former Salem girl who has won national fame as pianist, will appear before Salem people in a concert this week. Salem people have heard much of her playing and her sensational entrance to the musical arena of New York.

Karleton Hackett of the Chicago Evening Post wrote of her: "Winifred Byrd is an interesting and somewhat surprising player. She is such a slight, demure-seeming young person that the grip and power with which she dashes into such things as the Brahms Rhapsodie and the Liszt 'Legend of St. Francis Walking on the Waters' is unexpected. Her technique is clean; she wins a

DALLAS CLUBS

THE Woman's club held its monthly meeting Tuesday afternoon. After the business routine was finished an unusual interesting program was enjoyed. The subject was given by Miss Elizabeth Hayter, a vocal solo by Mrs. Bowe, a display of Norwegian handwork by Mrs. John Wick and a very inspiring talk by Superintendent Turner on "Talks by Which Parents Can Best Contribute to the School." He emphasized especially the need of cooperation between parent and teacher.

Mrs. Oscar Hayter presented a very interesting paper on "The Life of Dolly Madison," and Miss Reed of Portland spoke appealingly in behalf of the Near East Relief fund.

At the close of the meeting a pleasant social hour was spent. The annual Christmas seal sale, sponsored by the club, will be in charge of the Hayter and Mrs. R. L. Chapman, with Mrs. H. C. Eakin and H. A. Woods as assistants.

The W. C. T. U. ladies met Tuesday afternoon for their regular weekly gathering at the home of Mrs. A. Crowder. A general synopsis account of the proceedings of the state convention was given by Mrs. Pearl Miller. Mrs. A. Morrison read an interesting paper on the work of the W. C. T. U. The motto of the Dallas organization is, "Every Member a Working Member." Come and join us and we will do you good. Besides you will help to advance the cause of righteousness in your town and country. All ladies invited. Because of the membership contest, meetings are held once a week. Next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. C. P. Davis, 114 Ash street, November 8, 2 p. m.

At the last meeting of the Missionary Society of the Woodcraft the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Past guardian neighbor, Sarah E. Staats; guardian neighbor, Lillie Guthrie; advisor, Edith Guthrie; magician, Mary Griffin; clerk, Ethel Odell; captain of the guards, Lydia Evans; inner sentinel, James Sweeney; outer sentinel, Clarence Staats; managers, Anna Wright, Mary Starr, Charles McCann; flag bearer, Egbert Loo; and correspondent, Anna Stoller.

Society

laneous shower for Miss Rose Pauley who will be a bride of the near future. Clever post Hall-by Mrs. Kendal of Mc Minville, state president of the society. The room in which the function took place was decorated in lavender and white, the colors of the society, and the table in yellow and green. Forty-five ladies were seated at the table, and others dropped in for the afternoon after the luncheon. Mrs. Kendal gave an address.

A collection of articles was made for Miss Goldie Wells, a missionary to Africa. An interesting visitor at the luncheon was Mrs. William Wells, a former citizen of Dallas, Mr. Wells having at one time been county judge. There was singing by the ladies' quartette and a solo by Mrs. Finley Whitney. Mrs. R. J. Preston was the leader of the day.

A pretty children's affair was a Halloween party at which Naomi Rose Syron was a charming little hostess to several small friends and playmates Monday evening at the home of her parents on Lewis street. The children arrived early many of them bringing curiosities in the line of jack-o'-lanterns which caused much interest among those present.

After games and contests which proved entertaining for the youngsters light refreshments were served at a beautifully decorated table. The list of guests included Rachel and Abel G'low, Irene Soehren, Lavoy Senter, Evelyn Carpenter, Glenore Syron, Arlene Dunn, Glenn Agee and the hostesses.

Miss Alma Voldisch of New York, representing the International Concert directors was in Salem Friday in the interest of Godowsky who has recently returned from a tour in Mexico where he gave 20 concerts in less than four weeks. He appeared 12 times in Mexico City alone.

Mr. Godowsky plans to go to the Orient for a concert tour next year and the following year he plans to take a trip around the world. Miss Voldisch says that there is a possibility of bringing the great artist to Salem if sufficient interest is shown by local people.

A number of Portland people are planning to attend the concert to be given by the pupils of Minetta Magers Tuesday evening.

F. L. Boyston, who will appear on the program, was soloist for the Portland Women's Research club Saturday.

en decorations were used about the rooms. Miss Pauley with her mother, Mrs. Myrtle Mills and her brother, Kenneth Mills.

Mrs. J. T. Matthews with her brother Jesse Brown and Oliver Matthews, left Friday morning for Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Hadwen H. Williams sailed yesterday on the Keystone State from Seattle for Manila. They will spend sometime in China and Japan landing in Manila December 1. They have been guests for two weeks of Mrs. Williams' parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Kuntz.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Conner went to Portland Saturday to attend the Pacific International Live-stock exposition. Mr. Conner, who is editor of the Northwest Poultry Journal, is especially interested in the poultry and pet stock show.

Miss Florence Cartwright is spending the week-end with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Richard Cartwright.

Mrs. William Walton spent Friday in Portland on the way to a Portland visitor during the week.

Miss Viola Kirk of Stephensville, Mont., is the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. Kirk.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Dibble are in Portland and will return Monday.

Mrs. O. H. Hoff has as her house guest, Mrs. Anna Read of Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Chapin drove over to Corvallis Saturday and visited the Oregon Agricultural college campus.

Mrs. Grace Eoff has gone to California to spend the winter.

Mrs. R. L. Hargrove and Mrs. William Walton spent a few days in Portland during the week. They visited with Miss W. Hargrove.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Witham of Portland are guests of Mrs. H. V. Compton, their niece. They came down to attend the Willamette-Pacific game.

Mrs. George William Gray of Independence visited in Salem this week.

Delegates Appointed to Reclamation Convention

Governor Oleott has appointed 15 delegates to attend a convention of the Western States Reclamation association which will be held at Salt Lake City Tuesday and Wednesday, November 29 and 30. The governor is not yet informed how many of the appointees will accept. The list follows:

Harry Gard, Madras; Professor W. L. Powers, Corvallis; Percy A. Cupper, state engineer, Salem; Whitney L. Bole, Portland; A. A. Smith, Baker; H. D. Scudder, Oregon Agricultural college, Corvallis; G. W. Offield, Klamath Falls; H. J. Tichenor, Tangell Valley; O. L. Smith, Oregon-Washington Railroad & Navigation company, Portland; P. J. Gallagher, Ontario; L. A. Walsh, secretary Klamath Irrigation district, Klamath Falls; Charles Bateholder, secretary Warm Springs irrigation district, Vale.

Miss Eva Bohle and Miss Abbie Walker were hostesses to several guests at a Halloween party on Monday evening at the Bohle residence on Washington street. Elaborate decorations of azalia, combined with greenery, greatly transformed the rooms, and witches and bats reminded one of the season. Games which occasioned a great deal of merriment were played throughout the evening and at a late hour a delectable there course luncheon was served to the guests. Those who enjoyed the hospitality of Miss Bohle and Miss Walker were Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Bohle, Mr. and Mrs. Tracy Savery, Misses Pauline Aulen, Effie Brown, Frances Dempsey, Magdaline Kuntz, Laura Bruner, Fred West, Harry Gaynor, Walter Muir, Clyde Gibbs, Milo Bergey, Albert Speers and Josiah Willis.

The Christian Endeavor society of the Evangelical church held a Halloween social last Monday evening at the parsonage. The decorations were suggestive of the occasion and a ghost met the guests at the door. Thirty-one young people were present and enjoyed themselves with games and music. Pumpkin pie and hot chocolate were served for refreshments.

FEDERAL MONEY NOW AVAILABLE

Passage of Dowell-Townsend Bill Beneficial to State of Oregon

The state of Oregon will at once have available from the federal government $1,225,000 for forest roads and about $1,180,000 for post roads under the Dowell-Townsend bill which has just passed congress, according to estimates of George H. Cecil, district federal forester, and Herberg Nunn, Oregon state highway engineer. Under existing state laws Oregon will immediately be able to match these amounts through the sale of state highway bonds, making a total of $4,810,000 additional that Oregon will now have to apply to post and forest roads.

The Dowell-Townsend bill makes $1,000,000 available for forest by July 1 next for all the states, of which Oregon's share is the estimated $1,225,000, and the measure makes a total of $75,000,000 available for post roads for all the states.

In the construction of forest roads, according to Mr. Cecil, the policy will be to follow the state highway system as far as possible as it is mapped through federal forests.

Some of the forest roads coinciding with the state highway system to which the money will be applied are:

The Dalles-California highway, which passes through the Deschutes and the Crater national forests; the Lakeview - Bend and

Struggling to See

There are thousands of people who have to struggle to see clearly. Some of them realize the strain—others are unconscious of it.

Clear vision is no proof that your eyes are not strained. How can you tell? By consulting a competent eyesight specialist.

Surely your sight is worth this prudent precaution.

What Does the Future Hold

WILL you retain your youthful lines or, as the years roll by, will you gradually lose them.

The difference between a youthful and prematurely mature figure, is after all, only a matter of outline. Why have hips that are inches too large in proportion to the waist. Why have large hips at all? It is over-development that gives the impression of age.

Youthful figure lines can be obtained, but only through scientific corseting.

MODART CORSETS
Front Laced

Look to your corset. Make sure it is designed by one having the true artistic sense of proportion. If not so designed, your figure will eventually acquire all of the corset's bad lines just as readily as it will take on the shapely youthful line of a scientifically designed corset.

The Modart is a properly designed corset.

We carry a wide range of Modart models to fit all figures. They are made in plain reasonably priced coutills as well as the finest of brocade silks, so the price of Modart Corsets suits occasion and purse.

Trial fittings are gladly given.
