The Salem Symphony orchestra will hold its rehearsal on that afternoon for the evening concert to be given December 6. Just as a matter of education for the children, the invitation has been extended. Morand A. Goodnough, pianist of Portland, will be presented at the first symphony concert.

Going to Dead Letter Office—On account of improper address and no return address on the upper left hand corner of the envelope, the following letters are held at the Salem postoffice and will eventually find their way to the Washington dead letter office: Miss S. A. Summers 42 Ross court, with no city or state address; Mrs. William H. Sharpe, Grand Valley, R. I. This letter has no state address. A letter addressed to Ralph Yoder, Shannon, Or., will not be delivered as there is no such town, at least, not in Oregon.

Why So Many Ordinances—A prominent citizen rises to inquire why so many city ordinances are passed when there is but little probability of their enforcement. Special reference is made to the ordinance passed by the city council some time ago placing a limit of 30 days for woodpiles on the public parkings. Besides any number of private citizens who use the parkings in front of their homes for woodpile locations, reference was made to some portions of the downtown district that are used exclusively for woodpile purposes.

WOOLEN MILL STORE NEWS SPECIALTIES
An Aggressive Policy, With Oregon Wool Manufactured In Our Home Mills

That line of boys' French flannel waists at $1.50 has proved a great merchandising feat, as they had never been sold at less than $2.50.

Assortments of Goods
In seasons past we have thought that we had an abundance of sizes, styles and models. But never before have we had so large and well selected an assortment of goods in our lines to show. We have simply found that we could not take care of our patrons without it.

AGGRESSIVENESS
A Nonshrinkable Woolen Flannel Shirt.
This store in its aggressive policy has had made a special O D woolen shirting flannel that we propose to guarantee will not shrink. It may read presumptuous, but the guarantee goes with every one of these shirts. The flannel is made of carefully selected wool, specially constructed to overcome shrinking in laundering. These shirts are coat-cut, full size, double pockets, French cuffs; price $6, and 30 cents tax. Sent post paid anywhere in the U. S.

ANOTHER OREGON PRODUCTION
Maypole Yarns
Made of Oregon wool, spun and combed in an Oregon mill at Sellwood; 1000 pounds of it has been sold in the Willamette valley the past year and so far as we know it has given satisfaction in every instance. This week we have put in an additional line of woolen yarns, put up in ¼-lb. skeins. This yarn is made in our mill at Washouq, Wash., specially made for knitting sock. We have it in white, gray and olive drab; price 35 cents per skein.

Our Own Manufacture
White, oxford, gray and khaki—heavy wool sock. There is no sock like them for the price. Then again they are made out of Oregon wool.

This Salem Woolen Mill store makes a specialty of Oregon-made goods, and an endeavor to sell only good merchandise. It pays everybody best in the long run.

Revival in Business is Seen by State Commission
A steady increase in the receipts of the industrial accident department since July 1, of this year, indicates a gradual and consistent revival of industrial activity in Oregon, says a statement by the department.

As our receipts are derived from industries located in every part of the state, the comment says, it seems to us their ebb and flow ought to be a fair barometer of business conditions in this state. Taking them as such, we note a considerable improvement during the last three months.

"Our receipts in July amounted to $163,641; in August, $175,930; in September, $180,335; while in October they will run over $190,000."
