Action by Governor Said to Hinge on Whether Portland Votes Tax

If the city of Portland votes in favor of a special tax to put on the world's fair in 1925, opinion in some quarters is that Governor Oleson will call a special session of the legislature to submit a similar proposed special tax to the people of the state at large. It is reported that the governor has promised to call a special session in this event.

Senator Charles Hall of Morshfield, who was in Salem a few hours yesterday, said he had been told the governor had promised to call a special session if Portland votes the tax. Presumably a special session would be held in January next.

"I did not get this from the governor," qualified Senator Hall. Senator Hall does not answer directly when asked if he is going to be a candidate for governor, but talks like a man who expects to enter the race.

"I don't know. I don't think so," was his reply when asked if he is going to be a candidate.

"Are you going to be a candidate for president of the senate?"

"I do not expect to make an effort to get it, although some of the boys have said they would support me. A man couldn't be president of the senate and governor, too."

Whoever is elected governor in 1922 will take his seat in January, 1923, the month when the next regular session of the legislature meets.

Highway Commission Has Suit on At Hood River

In the circuit court at Hood River trial will begin next week in the action of J. W. Morton against the state highway commission to collect alleged damages of $12,000 for injury done his property by a state highway construction crew. A suit has been begun by the highway commission against Morton to condemn his property.

F. S. SEVER IS NAMED BY HOFF

Portland Attorney Appointed Deputy Treasurer in Crawford's Place

O. P. Hoff, state treasurer, announced yesterday that he has appointed Frank S. Sever of Portland to succeed James Crawford as deputy state treasurer. Crawford resigned to become reporter for the supreme court and to resume law practice in Portland.

Mr. Sever, the new appointee, was born at Carrott, Ill., in 1888, and came to Portland in 1908. He was educated in the old Portland high school and was employed in the auditing department of the Oregon-Washington Railroad & Navigation company from 1909 to 1919, and in the freight claim adjustment department of the same company in 1910. He was interline accountant for the Spokane, Portland & Seattle road in 1910 and 1911.

Mr. Sever was graduated from the law department of the University of Oregon in 1911 and admitted to the bar and began the practice of law the same year. He formed a partnership with H. A. Cooke in October, 1916. In 1917 he entered the army and served as captain of infantry in the 91st division, commanding a company and a battalion. He returned to Portland in May, 1919, and resumed his law practice with Mr. Cooke. He is a member of the American legion.

State Treasurer Hoff said today that he considers Mr. Sever's railroad experience of particular value in the treasurer's office.

things he tells is the eagerness with which an outside newspaper was welcomed when it was possible to obtain one. An Oregonian, a Seattle P. I., or a San Francisco Examiner was worth as much as $10. Mr. Olsen also spoke of the beautiful Christmas day in a Greek Catholic church. Although he met many radicals in Siberia, those who returned from the trip report that among the natives many excellent people are found now and then—some very well educated people among them. Some kinds of food were very scarce. This applied especially to vegetables.

Mr. Olsen says that although he is glad to be back again of the news of the States, he had a very enjoyable and interesting trip.

Nine New Applications On File With Engineer

Nine new applications for authority to appropriate water from Oregon streams or springs are on file with the state engineering department.

They are as follows:

By Louis Rath of Catlow, covering the appropriation of water from the outflow of Rock creek for irrigation of 20 acres in Harney county.

By George W. Joseph of Portland, covering the appropriation of water from Gordon creek for domestic supply and for irrigation of certain lands in Multnomah county.

By V. Sontag, of Wolf Creek, covering the appropriation of 2.9 second feet from an unnamed gulch for mining purposes in Josephine county at a cost of $500.

By Roy S. Ward of Merlin, Josephine county, covering the appropriation of water from Cold Springs creek for placer mining purposes, at an estimated cost of $500.

By Earl E. Wallace, of Leland, covering the appropriation of water from Hugh's gulch for irrigation of a five-acre tract in Josephine county.

By J. W. Holmes of Aurora, covering the appropriation of water from springs and drainage ditch for domestic supply and for irrigation of a small tract in Clackamas county.

By Wilmer Shaver of Rockville, covering the appropriation of one hundred-foot of water from Orythe river for irrigation of 52 acres in Malheur county. The cost of this development, which includes the construction of one mile of ditch, is estimated at $2,000.

By Thomas A. Jones of Corvallis, covering the appropriation of 26 second feet from Spencer creek for the development of 300 horsepower for mining purposes, in Lincoln county.

By Rasmus Nelson, of Galena, covering the appropriation of 12 second feet from Elk creek, tributary to middle fork of John Day river for quartz mill and mining purposes, in Grant county.

A LOGGING BOOM ON IN OLD POLK

Greatest Ever Experienced In History of Industry In That District

(The following is contained in the semi-weekly news letter of the Southern Pacific company for last week, sent out from the San Francisco office of that company.)

After a long period of inactivity the logging and lumber industry in Polk county, Oregon, is enjoying the greatest boom ever experienced in the history of the industry in that region, according to an article which is to appear in the November number of the Southern Pacific company's "bulletin." The territory referred to is served by the Falls City branch of the Southern Pacific company.

At Black Rock, 300 men are getting out approximately 350,000 feet of logs daily. Fifty per cent of this is sawed into lumber at Dallas and the balance is taken to Winona, dumped into the Willamette River and floated to Salem and there milled by the C. K. Spaulding company.

Out in the woods on the Valley & Siletz railroad about 200 men are employed, and the result of their daily output is in the neighborhood of 250,000 feet of logs. One-third of this is handled at the mills at Valselt and Hoskins, and delivered to the Southern Pacific in the finished product at Crisp. The balance is delivered to the Southern Pacific company in logs for movement to Falls City and Salem for cutting up.

This territory is quite rough and mountainous and most of the logging is done by what is called the "sky line method," which involves the use of a very expensive outfit, consisting of heavy wire cables and other paraphernalia. The heavy cables are sometimes stretched across canyons and in that manner logs are carried from one high ridge to another.

The Willamette Valley Lumber company and the Spaulding Lumber company both have logging roads running out of Black Rock, one on each side of the canyon, and in order to get up the mountain sides, they are required to use "switch backs" on account of the excessive grades. The logs are brought into Black Rock from a distance of about 12 to 15 miles.

The situation on the Falls City Branch is unique. In place of the usual procedure of handling loaded cars of logs in one direction and empties on the return trip, in this territory loads of logs are handled in both directions. One logging company logs on the Siletz valley and its product is cut up at Falls City, while the other company, logging back of Black Rock, has its product hauled to Dallas for cutting up.

The mill at Falls City employs 175 men and has an output of 130,000 feet daily. The Dallas mill employs 175 men and has a daily output of 140,000 feet. At Valselt and Hoskins, located on the Valley & Siletz railroad, 240 men are employed in the mills.

which have a daily production of approximately 225,000 feet of lumber, all of which is routed over Southern Pacific lines and delivered to the connection at Crisp.

Supreme Court Reverses Multnomah County Case

The supreme court yesterday in an opinion by Chief Justice Burnett, reversed the case of Charles Brown vs. John Austin and Arthur Gardner, executors of the will of George Gardner, deceased, appellants, and remanded the case to the lower court. Brown sued for damages of $3000 on grounds that the will of George Gardner bequeathed him only $400 out of an estate of $1200, claiming that he should have had one-fourth. He won in the lower court where the case was tried before Judge McCourt, now a member of the supreme court.

The supreme court appointed S. M. Calkins of Eugene as referee in the disbursement proceedings of the Lane County Bar association against L. R. Edmondson, former Eugene attorney.

Silverton Man Returns From Adventures in North

SILVERTON, Ore., Nov. 8.— (Special to The Statesman)—Ennar Olsen has returned to Silverton from Siberia after an absence of over a year. Mr. Olsen left Silverton in the month of May, 1920, for Nome, Alaska. That same summer he sailed from Nome for Siberia as interpreter for Mr. Goodman, skipper on the Polar Bear. These two, together with five or six more men who were on the boat, were frozen in and were unable to get back to Nome until last summer.

Mr. Olsen tells many interesting experiences of his stay in the northland. Among the interest-

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys if Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers.

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.—Adv.
