FREE METHODISTS BEGIN SERVICES More Than Usual Interest Expected to Attend Sessions Held in Salem

Of more than usual interest is the third annual missionary convention of the Free Methodist church, Market and Winter streets, to be held this week beginning Thursday evening and continuing over Sunday. The first two conventions developed wonderful interest and this one promises to outdo either of them.

The interest of the year will be predominantly Indian, determined by three returned missionaries from India. Rev. M. C. Clarke was on the field for eight years. Grace S. Edwards served five years. These two have been heard here and are excellent speakers. Rev. J. T. Taylor has just returned from active work in India. He has spent 15 years there and brings latest reports. Rev. Taylor speaks three times: Thursday evening on "Awakening in India," and Sunday afternoon on "Prayer, the Key to the Missionary Problem."

Rev. Mr. Clark speaks on Friday afternoon and evening in the evening on "Samson's Riddle Worked out in Modern Missions" and on Saturday afternoon on "Medical Missions at Work in British India." Grace Edwards will occupy Friday afternoon with the "Relation of Home Missions to the Foreign Work" and Saturday morning with "Why Women should be Interested in Medical Missions."

Other outside help will be on hand. Rev. W. N. Coffey will give a strong missionary sermon on Sunday morning. Vera S. Eby is expected to give a spirit of enthusiasm to every service. The convention opens at 7:30 tonight. From then on the services will begin each day at 10 a. m., 2 p. m. and 7:30 p. m., except Sunday morning. Sunday school will open at 9:45 a. m. and preaching at 11 a. m.

Young Ministers Will Conclude Meetings Here It has been the policy of the Court Street Christian church of this city as far as possible to conduct its own evangelistic meetings with home forces. The church is at the present time with R. L. Putnam, the minister, in a big home-force campaign. This meeting, the minister reports, is exceptional for splendid interest shown by the public from start to finish. Arrangements have been made with A. Ted Goodwin, the boy evangelist, to conclude these meetings. He and Hugh McCullum, singer and song leader, will begin with the church Friday night and continue to Sunday night. The young preachers were here with the church last spring with splendid results. At that time the house was packed each night.
