tion, the success of the fifth annual roll call is assured, according to Dr. D. M. Fields, general chairman in charge.

The committee in charge of the roll call in Salem, which attended the first conference yesterday is as follows: Brazier Small, chairman; Clifford Knickerbocker, Joe Minton, Walter Kirk, Will Carver, Thkham Gilbert, James Young, Paul Wallace, Lloyd Rigdon, Albert Anderson, Mort Pilkington, Joe Chambers, Theodore Condo, Glen Campbell, Harry W. Scott, Dr. B. F. Pound and Harold Smith.

Trustees of Willamette chapter, American Red Cross, in attendance were George G. Griffith, Henry W. Myers and August Hucklestein.

According to plans discussed yesterday the roll call for membership will begin actively next Monday morning. The Salem committee will divide the city into districts, and there will be a house to house canvass as in former years, and also a very thorough canvass of stores and offices in the downtown district.

A membership in Willamette chapter of the Red Cross means a contribution of $1 a year to the cause. Those who have enrolled will be known by the wearing of the Red Cross button.

In the rural districts there has been a most generous response to the call for assistance, general chairman said. This applies especially to rural school teachers throughout the two counties who have, with one or two exceptions, accepted the responsibility of placing before the people the needs of the Red Cross and in appointing workers.

In the Independence district, Miss Irene Williams will be the chairman in charge. The Rev. A. M. Lewis of Monmouth will superintend that district and Mrs. D.

C. Avery at Brooks. A. E. Ditter will serve as chairman for the Aumsville district.

It is planned to have active work begin throughout both counties next Monday. The girls of Willamette university have promised 30 or more workers when the call comes.

And this is the spirit now being shown in both counties. The good work of the Red Cross for the past four or five years is well known, and it is thought that the workers in securing the roll call will meet with a favorable reception everywhere, especially since membership in the Red Cross is only $1 a year.

"This year the Red Cross is asking no quotas from a community," Dr. Fields said. "We are just leaving it to the patriotic spirit of each community."

Chairman H. W. Myers of the Willamette chapter of the Red Cross presented figures at yesterday's luncheon showing that the local administration is most economical. Since the organization was formed in 1915 it has handled nearly $200,000 with an overhead expense of about 1 per cent in local circles.

Mr. Myers cited many cases where ex-service men and their dependents had been given financial aid by the local Red Cross chapter. Proceeds from the local drive will be diverted into two channels, 50 per cent of the amount being retained for Willamette chapter's local work with ex-service men and their dependents and the remaining 50 per cent going to the general Red Cross fund for emergency relief.

REALTORS TALK FLAX INDUSTRY

Governor and Prison Head Declared to Blame for Situation

MONEY IS DECLARED DUE

Growers Charge That Officials Would Disrupt Future Progress

Charging that Governor Oicott and Louis V. Compton, warden of the penitentiary, are not sympathetic with the flax industry and were trying to discourage the planting of a crop this coming year, the committee of the Marion County Realtors' association, in its report yesterday, laid the blame for the present unsatisfactory situation to these two state officials.

Regarding the contract offered flax growers this spring, when many already had their crops in, the committee charged the warden with not playing fair with the growers, claiming that the contract offered would cancel the original contract of growers with the state, and then let the growers assume all loss and the state the profit, if any. Regarding the contract, the report says:

"It was very unfair to the growers that the state officials should try to get out of a written contract by presenting an agreement, in view of the fact that it threw all losses upon the farmer without opportunity for extra compensation for his risk."

Recent Law Cited

Reference is also made to the law passed by the last legislature in which the governor was authorized to install and equip such plants as in his discretion may be advisable in the penitentiary for the employment of convicts. In this fund there is $30,000, and the committee was of the opinion that although it has been termed the box factory, had the governor been favorable to the flax interests, this money could be used to maintain the industry and pay growers for their crop delivered this year.

As a way out of the present difficulties, the committee suggested that the flax and hemp growers organize and incorporate a non-profit co-operative association, to be known as the Willamette Valley Flax and Hemp Co-operative association, for the purpose of making contracts with growers for the growing of hemp and flax and for the selling and marketing of all flax materials.

Industry Is Needed

The report in part is as follows:

The intent of the governor to try to get out of the flax business was shown in his request to the legislature for the vesting of power in the state board of control to dispose of the machinery, materials and equipment of the flax plant at the Oregon state penitentiary, which act was passed and approved by him on February 2, 1921, attached hereto.

By the request of the administration, with the full intent of establishing a box factory, we are reliably informed, in the place of the flax industry the legislature was asked for an appropriation of $30,000 to cover the cost of installing and equipping and maintaining such plants as the governor of the state of Oregon in his discretion may deem advisable in connection with the Oregon state penitentiary.

Growers Hold Back

No attempt has been made by the state to pay the growers for the flax handled this year and it is said by the state officials that the farmers must wait for their money until the state realizes upon the stock on hand. The sum due the growers for this stock is approximately $37,000.

Not even a bankable voucher is given to the growers, therefore, although his flax is delivered to the state under a perfectly clean-cut contract.

Reasons Are Given

The reason given by the warden and the governor is stated in full in the printed report of Warden Compton very recently given to the press. We call attention to the fact that exactly the same situation confronted the state board of control in the year 1916 and that through the efforts of the late Governor Withycombe and State Treasurer Kay a duly authenticated state voucher was given to the growers which would enable them to use them as collateral at their bank, but the state officials even went further and personally arranged with one of the banks to advance to the growers the full amount due them.

Therefore, it would seem that a precedent was established which might be well followed in the present situation. It seems certain and is a pretty well authenticated fact that in no other instance has the state tried to modify the amount of postpone the time of the payment of any other of its duly executed contract obligations.

CHAMP BATTLE SLATED TODAY

Salem High School Fans Are Determined to Wage Victorious Fight

LOCAL LINE IS AIRTIGHT

Lynn Jones is Shifted to Left Tackle—Other Changes Are Announced

What local fans claim is the strongest lineup used this season will battle for Salem high school when it meets Cottage Grove for the Willamette valley championship at Cottage Grove today. The Salem men left at 5 o'clock this morning to make the five-hour trip by bus.

Four men trained to play the backfield and line both will play on the line today. Lynn Jones has been shifted to left tackle, where he has been playing a lightning fast practice game. Adolph, star punter is on the left wing, and Welder, a heavy fullback, has been placed in the other pivot position because of his speed. Ellis White, captain, is playing his right guard position and is in first class fighting trim. Morrison has been taken from the bench and put in left guard hole, and McRoberts will be in the right tackle berth.

In the backfield, although the men are light, they will match any team in the state for speed. Brown is again in command at the quarter position and will receive the ball from Max Jones, who has been shifted from a guard berth to stop the rushes through center which have hampered Salem punts during the first of the season. Howard Post, star of the last two games, is in the left half position and Socolofsky in the right. Socolofsky is in much better shape than they had counted on, and little trouble is expected from the injured knee which has kept him from carrying the ball recently. In the fullback berth is Lilligren, whose rapid rise to a star player this season has perhaps exceeded any other player.

Taken all in all with even odds, Coach "Tubby's" men are in first class shape to battle for the valley championship. There has been some fear expressed, however, that the five-hour trip may leave its effects on the physical condition of the team when they go on the field.

Cottage Grove has defeated Corvallis, who has defeated Albany and Eugene. The only other adversary of great importance which Salem would have to be

VIADUCT TOPIC AT NOON LUNCH

Herbert Nunn Tells Realtors That Under-Crossing is Not Practical

Herbert Nunn, state highway engineer, speaking to members of the Marion county realtors association yesterday, bluntly told property owners in the fair ground district that when his department was ordered to build, it would build, regardless of the feelings of those who owned property near the proposed viaduct.

The discussion was in regard to the building by the state engineer of a viaduct over the Southern Pacific railroad, at a point on the Swerton road opposite the holdings of the Union Oil company.

Later, he qualified his statement by saying that the safety of the public was of more importance than the feelings of property owners, and that their damages would be given consideration.

Mr. Nunn said that his department was opposed to a sub-way, or under the railroad. In this one instance he thought there would be some difficulty in regard to drainage and light, and in general a viaduct was much to be preferred to a sub-way.

Mr. Nunn made it plain that his department would not act until the matter had been brought before the public service commission, and then if ordered to build, the engineers would advertise for bids and construct, leaving the matter of individual damage to be settled by some other commission.

In building the viaduct, Mr. Nunn said it would be placed so as to do as little damage as possible to property on the Silvertown road. As to cost, he said the viaduct would cost about $100,000, while a road under the railroad would cost $125,000 and cost more to maintain.

Bert Edwards of the Union Oil station, said that the building of the viaduct would make no special difference with him, as he would have sufficient entrance to his plant. As to the damage to the Doe property, Mr. Edwards thought that instead of a damage, the viaduct would increase the value of the property, with some changes to suit the situation after the viaduct was built. He thought the property would really be more valuable.

As the viaduct matter now stands, the first action will have to be that of notifying the public service commission, which hearing will be held a fall those interested, especially property owners.

Then if the public service commission decides upon a viaduct, the state engineer's office will be notified, plans will be drawn, bids called for and the work of construction begin.

CLERKS URGED TO INVEST SAVINGS

Building and Loan Declared in Need of Funds for Home Development

A. A. Lee, president of the Mutual Savings and Loan association of Salem, in speaking yesterday before members of the Marion county realtors association, said that for clerks who wanted to save $2 a week, there wasn't a better investment in the world.

By the deposit of $2 a week with the association for seven or eight years, the holder of stock would have $1000 in cash coming when the stock matured. Mr. Lee based this opinion on the past record of the building and loan association, which in 19 years has never lost a dollar and had never foreclosed a loan.

The discussion of the building and loan association was brought up by the realtors, realizing that if the public in general would take more stock in the home institution, there would be more homes built each year in Salem.

"We need subscriptions for more stock," declared Mr. Lee. "We could use ten times the money in building homes in Salem."

"We have the cream of the town property on which to make loans. Our appraisers are clear sighted business men and make only the safest of loans. It will pay investors more than any co-operative association, as we have no high-priced officers or fine offices. We have only one expense as officer, and that is our secretary. With so little overhead, and compounding interests, we are able to pay almost 9 per cent."

It is probable that the realtors' association, acting with other associations, will make an effort early in the year to interest people in Salem in their home building and loan association, in order that the association may loan to many who are willing to build in the city.

Portland Has Record For Loading Vessels

PORTLAND, Or., Nov. 10.—What is believed to be a national record for loading grain, in bulk from storage to the hold of a vessel was made yesterday at municipal terminal No. 4 when 158,000 bushels of wheat were transferred from the grain elevator into the hold of the Norwegian Steamship Torrey in eight hours. This is at the rate of 19,750 bushels an hour.

Report of the loading of the vessel was made today to the public dock commission by Chief Engineer G. B. Hegardt. The latter stated machinery worked without a hitch.

LADIES! DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

Use Grandma's Sage Tea and Sulphur Recipe, and Nobody Will Know

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied, with wonderful effect.

But leaving at home is messy and out of date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get this famous old preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says: "It darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two it becomes beautifully dark and glossy."—Adv.
