

ONE JUROR IS STILL LACKING

Attorneys Say Trial of Ar-buckle May Require Long Duration of Time

INTEREST IS DWINDLING

Day Enlivened by Passage Between Attorney and Man Under Question

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 17.—The jury in the Arbuckle manslaughter case was passed permanently by both sides at 4:11 p. m. but Juror George R. Morgan announced that he wanted to change some of his answers before the jury was finally sworn in. His examination was reopened.

Mrs. Adaline M. Nelson, housewife, was the last talesman examined. When she passed, both sides announced they would accept the jury and then Morgan rose and made his statement.

The court indicated that one or more alternate jurors may be selected at the court's direction.

Juror's Answers Changed

Morgan said he wished to change his answers in regard to circumstantial evidence.

"I do not want to avoid my duty as a juror," he said, "but I have formed an opinion on the weight of circumstantial evidence."

The prosecution said it was satisfied with Morgan and passed him.

Gavin McNab, chief defense counsel, announced that Morgan be challenged "for cause" but the prosecution started a re-examin-tion. Morgan was finally ex-cused by the court.

Edward Pauson, an investment broker, was called in Morgan's place. He admitted knowing Ira C. Fortjous, a witness in the case. Pauson was excused on the last peremptory challenge of the prosecution.

Opinion Professed

Lawrence J. Granfield, a tire salesman, was next called and said he had an opinion. In a passage with Milton T. U'Ren, assistant district attorney, who said he was vague in his answers and was "unfit" to serve, Granfield said he wanted "very much" to be excused. The court stopped the argument and ordered an adjournment until tomorrow.

Morgan's admissions came as the only break in a day of plodding routine, and held up final selection of the jury until tomorrow. He said he did not believe he could deliberate with a totally unbiased mind and after a brief questioning, was excused.

The exhaustion of peremptory challenges indicated late in the day that the jury would be selected early tomorrow. Both sides speeded up their questioning today. Examination of some of the talesmen took but a few minutes.

Long Trial Possible

The court's indication that it would direct the selection of one or more alternate jurors was advanced, he said, "because the case may be of a protracted nature." Two alternates may be named, according to court officers. They would take the place of jurors incapacitated by illness or otherwise.

Interest in the jury selection continued to dwindle today. At times the courtroom was but half filled. Occasionally there were more inside the attorney's railing than outside.

HARDING HIT IN HOUSE VOTE

Wishes of President Disregarded and Income Sur-tax Made 50 Percent

TWO PARTIES HITCH-UP

Ninety-Four Republicans Join Democrats in Putting Measure Across

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Disregarding the expressed wish of President Harding, the house voted today, 261 to 173, to accept the tax revision bill fixing the maximum income surtax rate at 50 per cent on incomes of $200,000 or more.

More Submarines Asked By French Naval Board

PARIS, Nov. 17.—(By The Associated Press)—The naval committee of the senate passed a resolution today advocating an increase in the number of submarines sufficient to insure the security of France's coast line. Adoption of the resolution followed a long discussion which was precipitated largely by Mr. Balfour's advocacy at Washington of a further reduction in the 50,000 tons permitted under the plan of Secretary Hughes.

The Hughes plan is heartily endorsed but in French naval circles it is declared France needs a powerful war submarine fleet and a maximum of 90,000 tons. It is contended, does not seem excessive for nations weak in other branches of naval defense.

The press lays stress on the necessity of France maintaining an adequate submarine force. Journal des Debats says that the fact that Germany made abusive use of submarines does not imply that submarines cannot be utilized in conformity with the laws of war and humanity.

against 10 Republicans, and 10 Democrats were paired.

This vote seemed the biggest issue between the house and senate on the tax revision bill, and the managers from the two houses will resume the sessions tomorrow with the hope of reaching an agreement on the bill by Saturday night.

Leader Sees President

Intervention of the president in the tax revision fight—the second since the ways and means committee began drafting the measure three and a half months ago—followed a visit to the White House today of Representative Mondell, Republican leader. The president then summoned Chairman Fordney and Representative Longworth of Ohio, of the ways and means committee, and expressed his views on the surtax. These were supplemented by a letter to Mr. Fordney. During the three hours' debate in the house which was conducted under a special rule, the president was attacked for writing Mr. Fordney, Representative Frear, Republican, Wisconsin, said the president's intervention "at the last minute" was "unfair and unjust."

Sinnott Grieved

Representative Garner, Democrat, Texas, declared that if the president had views to submit he should have done so in person or in a message, rather than in a letter. Representative Sinnott, Republican, Oregon, declared he "grieved because the president had been given bad advice on this subject."

Supporting the president's stand, Representative Mondell and other Republican spokesmen said that the Republican party had promised to reduce taxes and that the 50 per cent rate should not be approved by the house.

Harding Sends Letter

Three hours before the vote was taken, the house listened to the reading of a letter from President Harding to Chairman Fordney of the ways and means committee, suggesting that the house and senate compromise. The executive said he still believed the original house rate of 32 per cent was nearer to a just levy and the more promising one in returns to the public treasury, but that in view of the legislative situation he thought it "wholly desirable" that there be a compromise at 40 per cent.

Letter Disregarded

Immediately after it became known that the president had written Mr. Fordney, spokesmen for the "insurgent" Republicans said that the letter would not affect the result.

They had claimed 93 Republican votes or one less than was cast for the amendment.

The roll call for the amendment included 94 Republicans, including Sinnott, Oregon, and Summers, Washington. The Democrats against totaled 196 and included Lea, California, London, Socialist, New York, voted for the amendment.

Hawley, McArthur Against

Against the amendment were 170 Republicans, including the following: French, Idaho; Hadley, Washington; Hawley, Oregon; McArthur, Oregon; Miller, Washington; Riddick, Montana; Johnson, Washington; Smith, Idaho, and Webster, Washington. There were three Democrats against 10 Republicans, and 10 Democrats were paired.

Drugging of Children Taboo

"Dr. S. doesn't give medicine." "Dr. J. says, 'the less medicine given to children the better'."

This sort of statement is constantly being made in my office. Drugging is surely going out of fashion, and particularly for children.

I have many patients who are thorough converts to chiropractic spinal adjustments as a means of removing the cause of disease, who for some reason have not thought it was good for children. Children, as a matter of fact, are quite responsive to adjustments. Their muscles and ligaments are elastic and they not only adjust easily but results come more quickly.

Chiropractic spinal adjustments remove the cause of diseases of the head, throat, lungs, heart, stomach, liver, kidneys and intestinal organs.
