

BONUS BRIEF IS FILED IN COURT

State Contends That Soldiers' Benefit Act is Constitutional

The respondent's brief signed by Attorney General Van Winkle and his assistant, Willis S. Moore in behalf of the state bonus and loan commission was filed yesterday in the suit instituted by Thomas Henry Boyd of Portland to test the validity of the state bonus and loan act. The state attorneys consider as most important of their arguments a contention that the people have provided that the power to decide whether or not an amendment has been adopted shall be exercised by the governor, and that the courts are consequently excluded from exercising any jurisdiction over the matter. A contention of the plaintiff and appellant was that the constitutional amendment which is the subject of attack was not properly entered on the journal. The respondents claim it was entered in such a way that it could be identified and that is all that is required for validity. While the respondents admit that house bill 293, the bonus and loan act, was not valid at the

H. M. Carter of Salem for cutting a corner at First and C streets. Mr. Brown contended that he did not intentionally violate the city ordinance by cutting the corner in question, but did so in order to avoid an accident and his statement was verified by Frank E. Dickson who was a witness. Brown was discharged by the judge. Mr. Brown was in the city several days for the purpose of checking up local trucks by means of weighing jacks. He found some upon investigation that were carrying loads slightly in excess of the limit. He explained the proper methods to be used in distributing a load, and left without causing any trouble. Read The Classified Ads.

Be Watchful of Colds

SUNDAY HEALTH TALK NO. 16— By O. L. Scott, D.C. A cold, when neglected, may rapidly develop into disease of serious nature and extent. Immediate steps should always be taken to put it in check. Colds are due to retained wastes in the body and the cause usually is sluggish action of liver, kidneys and lungs. The cause of this sluggish action is the impingement, or squeezing, of spinal nerves at the spine. By chiropractic spinal adjustments this pressure or impingement is removed and the nerves are freed to carry normal impulses of vigor and strength.

Spinal Column—LOWER LIMBS

THE LOWER NERVE UNDER THE MAGNIFYING GLASS IS PINCHED BY A MISALIGNED JOINT. PINCHED NERVES CANNOT TRANSMIT HEALTHFUL IMPULSES. CHIROPRACTIC ADJUSTING REMOVES THE PRESSURE. THE UPPER NERVE IS FREE AS NATURE INTENDS.

"I developed a high fever and was so sick I could not raise my head from the pillow. Two chiropractic spinal adjustments changed the course of my trouble. It was quicker work with a cold and fever than I had experienced before."—Hebe C. Hall, Chiropractic Research Bureau Statement No. 1286H.

time it was passed by the legislature, it became valid when the people subsequently adopted the new article XI-c of the constitution. Should the plaintiff be upheld on this point the supreme court opinion it is said would invalidate the state capital punishment law and other statutes. Numerous citations of authority are made in the respondents brief in support of all their contentions.

Champ Woodcutter Gets License, and No Charges

When "Bill" Snyder was born in 1854, at the home of his father on the old Snyder Meadows, or the Mississippi meadows, as a tramp christened them a few years later, and the name stuck, nobody had to take out a hunting license; there war'n't no such animal. And there isn't today, for Bill; he is in the class of Oregon pioneers, born prior to 1860, who doesn't have to pay a red cent for the propagation of new game.

Maybe the law figures that these old chaps can't hit anything, anyhow, and it will let them take out the old muzzle-loader and whang away at the birds without any real fatalities in prospect. That wouldn't please some of these old boys; least of all would it please Bill Snyder, 6 feet 2 inches, bachelor, cutter of enough cordwood to reach from Salem to Albany if it were all piled in cordwood height along the road, and hoping to cut several more miles of cordwood before he retires. Snyder lives at Hall's Ferry, where he has a bungalow all his own. He is a manufacturer of cordwood, and he has moved his factory, consisting of his axe, his frying pan and his strong right arm, all up and down the Willamette valley in the 60 years since he started it to work.

Mr. Snyder took out a pioneer's license Saturday so that he can now shoot all the game that there is. If there isn't even one scared squirrel where there used to be bears 'n everything in the woods that he has slaughtered, part of the responsibility lies with Bill and his indefatigable axe. The game used to hunt the pioneers, and occasionally "get" them. But there isn't any game nowadays that is likely to get an old-timer like Bill Snyder, who is now licensed to fight back and the law won't say a word.

Stay of Execution is Granted in Evans Case

State penitentiary officials were informed yesterday that the circuit court at The Dalles has granted a stay of execution from December 2 until January 10 for appeal to the supreme court to be perfected in behalf of Abe Evans, who is sentenced to hang for killing James Doran of McMinnville. The crime was committed near The Dalles. Evans himself is opposed to the appeal, declaring that he has no chance and that he wishes to die on the scheduled date and have his troubles at an end. His wife, however, is determined to have the case appealed to the supreme court.

In spite of the fact that we are putting women on juries, the men are doing about all the talking. And this was not expected.
