Mother of Elvie Kirby Intercedes for Her Son

A Mrs. Kirby, whose home is in Eastern Washington, mother of Elvie D. Kirby, who with John Rathie, is to be hanged on December 2 for his participation in the jail delivery at Pendleton that resulted in the killing of Sheriff T. H. Taylor, has arrived in Salem to visit her son and to intercede with Governor Olcott in his behalf.

Mrs. Kirby is staying at the Deaconess hospital while here. It is understood she will visit the governor today.

NEHREN IS GLAD TO RETURN HOME

Salem Man Aboard Train That Was Marooned for Days East of Portland

Carl Nehren is glad to be home. Salem looks good to him. He arrived home Wednesday night.

Mr. Nehren is head of the sales department of the Salem paper mill; of the Oregon Pulp & Paper company. He left Spokane on the S. P. & S. train out of that city on Saturday night, last at 9 o'clock, due in Portland at 8 o'clock, last Sunday morning—and due home for Sunday dinner.

But that meal was unavoidably postponed till Thanksgiving.

There were 125 people on board that train; men, women and children. They ran into an awful snowstorm, but they plowed through with three engines till they arrived at Cook's, a small town on the line in Washington, 65 miles out from Portland. The train ran into snowdrifts there and could not budge farther. The snow was four feet deep on the level.

The marooned train was there till Wednesday noon. Having sleepers and a diner, there was not a great deal of discomfort, and the Pullman and train employees did everything they could to reduce the discomforts of the imprisoned passengers. Two meals a day were served till Tuesday noon, and though the store of the town had refused to sell supplies soon after the arrival of the train there on account of the local demand which had to be supplied first. On Tuesday a raid was made on an express shipment of turkeys, and all hands enjoyed a turkey dinner.

Sunday night the engines had to be disconnected from the train, in order to conserve fuel, and the passengers suffered somewhat from cold from that time on. It was very cold Sunday night. The children and their mothers suffered most, in their cooped-up condition.

Lights were shut off, and the passengers were in darkness till they found some candles.

The snowplow came up Tuesday night, and, owing to the freezing of the snow, it took them 24 hours to plow through a mile of the drifts. The train was finally reached, and it pulled out Wednesday noon and roceeded to Stevenson, on the Columbia river, on the Washington side. Here the steamer Portland, from Portland, took the passengers from the train and conveyed them to Portland, arriving at 5:30 Wednesday evening.

All in all, Mr. Nehren says, the marooned passengers got through their experiences on the marooned train without any great hardships or sufferings. They sang and read and played cards and thus whiled away the tedious hours.

Mr. Nehren says he saw the big stages running between Portland and Hood River stalled and covered with snow on the Columbia highway, but the apple trucks from Hood River to Portland were helplessly marooned. After the snow melts, there will no doubt be slides and other difficulties for several days. There were two big slides below Stevenson on the Washington side.

best home creameries. It must almost necessarily take a lower place in the market, coming more into competition with the butter substitutes or the average farm product that is not scientifically prepared.

Some of this butter that was recently brought to the Seattle market as prime first grade, to score 93 points or better, was found to be notably under that mark, so that it couldn't touch the really first class home product. If this other shipment proves to be the same, it may not hit the Salem and other Oregon butter producers very seriously.

The imposition of the tariff now in effect has made it impossible to bring in this imported butter at a disastrous price as it could be done a year or more ago. They can't pay the duty and the freight and their own wages, and undersell the local producers to the point of extinction. Their is no possibility of a butter war that will wreck the Oregon dairyman.

Do you know of anything that has so many crises as the Irish question? Neither do we.—Exchange.

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

Sage Tea and Sulphur Turps Gray, Faded Hair Dark and Glossy

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, at very little cost. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.

Popular Music and Ragtime Piano Playing

Taught in 12 Lessons

GUARANTEED

If you wish to play for your own amusement—or to entertain in your own home—or for people to sing—or for them to dance—then get your wish. Don't put it off three months (12 lessons). If you start now, you will be a good player by that time.

PRACTICE AN HOUR A DAY

If you do not play the piano, you positively can learn your favorite melodies, popular music, ballads, etc., in 12 lessons, even if you do not know one note from another now.

If you already play the piano, learn to convert any piece into Jazztime; cultivating a syncopated touch that will not harm classical interpretation. Learn the style used by motion picture players, sheet music demonstrators, professional, cabaret and vaudeville pianists. Learn to alter time, add notes, introduce chimes, runs, etc. Learn to transpose, accompany, harmonize, memorize and improvise. This course answers all your problems from a strictly academic standpoint. It is logical, progressive, practical.

This method was established in 1901. It is endorsed by well known performers and the music trade—and is worthy of your sincere attention.

This school now opening in Salem is a branch of the well known Waterman Piano schools in Portland, Eugene, Marshfield, Roseburg, Grants Pass, Medford, Ashland and Klamath Falls.

A fifteen-minute demonstration that will cost you nothing, will convince you that you can learn to play.

LOCAL DAIRYMEN BELIEVED SAFE

No Danger of Butter War That Will Hurt Dealers in This District

If butter prices go off 3 or 4 or even 5 cents in the next few days, it will be because somebody has imported butter in shiploads from a part of the British Empire. A shipload of New Zealand butter was scheduled to arrive in San Francisco November 23, rated as a high-scoring "first" on the American market. So large a shipment dumped on the market all in a heap, was expected to precipitate a crash.

Manager Harpole of the Capital City Cooperative creamery, however, does not anticipate much influence on the local market for prime creamery butter. Time is the essence of butter excellence, and the month or more of sea voyage, besides the time for accumulating in square boxes, from 65 to 90 pounds, to be cut up into commercial packages with a wire cutter after reaching its destination. But after so long storage, it begins to take on some of the woody taste, and is no longer the prime first quality product marketed by the
