

SUN DODGERS LOSE TO PENN

University of Washington Team Unable to Cope on Any Point With Lions

FINAL SCORE IS 21 - 7

Pennsylvanians Make 21 Downs to Six for Seattle Collegians

SEATTLE, Wash., Dec. 3.—Pennsylvania State college's football team came out of the east and defeated the University of Washington eleven by a 21 to 7 score in University stadium here today.

The Sun Dodger linesmen were unable to fathom the easterners' attack until the closing moments of the third period, and the fast Penn State backs gained almost at will, using a varied attack of line bucks, forward passes and end runs. It was not until the Lions had scored three touchdowns and a total score of 21 points, and the third period well advanced, that Washington took the actual offensive. On the kickoff after Penn's last goal, Captain Ray Eckman, playing his final game for the purple and gold, received and breaking straight through the center of the advancing Penn State line, carried the ball to mid-field on a long straight run that brought the spectators to their feet with a roar. The Sun Dodgers had their blood up and smashed irresistibly toward the Lion's goal, three, four and five yards at a time. Nearly every play was through the line. Finally Eckmann, who had carried the ball repeatedly, took it over from the one-yard line for Washington's only touchdown.

Penn State scored early in the first period, Wilson, Redinger and Killinger carrying the ball down from kickoff in an onslaught that halted, at no resistance. Knabb went over the last mark from the one-yard line and Killinger then kicked goal. The easterners repeated in the second period, a 10-yard pass, Killinger to McCollum sending the ball over the final white mark. Killinger again kicked goal. A long drive down the field in the early moments of the third game enabled Redinger to score Penn State's last touchdown of the game, Killinger converting an easy goal.

Analysis of the game shows that Penn State made first downs 21 times, as compared with six for Washington. The easterners completed six forward passes for a total of 63 yards while the Sun Dodgers were unable, during the entire game to successfully conclude a pass. Wilson, Sun Dodger left end, had a shade over Killinger of Penn State in the punting, averaging 35 yards to Killinger's 33.

KURTZ RESIGNS MANAGER POST

Producers Canning & Packing Company Have Not Named Successor

Fred A. Kurtz, general manager of the Producers Canning & Packing company of Salem since its organization last May, has presented his resignation to the directors of the company. It is understood that Mr. Kurtz has found it necessary to devote his entire time to his extensive farming and fruit interests.

The Producers Canning & Packing company was organized last spring, with its canning plant established in the building on North Commercial street formerly used by Mr. Kurtz in his business interests.

Lloyd T. Reynolds is president of the company, William Riekman is vice president and Frank Gibson is secretary and treasurer. The board of directors has not as yet met to name a successor to Mr. Kurtz.

"The business of the company is in good condition," Mr. Gibson said. "Pools are being closed and all settlements will be made at an early date. The canneries of the company have had a very successful season, having placed practically all of its products on a rising market."

PUBLIC INVITED TO BOOK EXHIBIT

Salem Women's Club Will Display 200 Volumes in Club Rooms

An exhibit of more than 200 books for all purposes and occasions will be a feature of the Salem Women's club next Saturday at the Commercial club rooms. The public is invited, by the club, to attend a program in the club rooms in the evening and inspect the display of books. Two local book stores have agreed to furnish books for the affair.

Help in choosing books for Christmas gifts will be one of the big aims of the exhibit, according to Miss Flora Case, chairman of the program committee for the club.

Miss Jessie Millard, of the Portland library, will address the club members at the afternoon session on what books to buy, what ones not to buy, new books and those not so well known.

Prizes of handsomely bound books have been offered by the Women's club for the best book reviews written in each of the fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh grades. These prizes will be awarded Saturday during the general program by Mrs. Everett Anderson, president of the Women's club.

The Boy Scouts and the Girl Reserves will have a special table of books in charge of Miss Marie Churchill. A table of magazines for the home and especially for the children will be one feature in charge of Mrs. Frank Spears, and the Golden Stair case books will be shown by Miss F. W. Setee and Miss Lucile Crockett. The Child's Home Library will be shown by Miss Nell Thielson, Miss Elizabeth Putnam and Mrs. John W. Harbison.

The books for grown-ups are chosen, according to Miss Case, with the idea of suiting all tastes and include scientific, literary

Mansfield Starts Fight To Keep Dairymen Intact

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 3.—Dairymen of Oregon are urged to use every influence to continue the Dairymen's Cooperative League at this time by the executive committee of the Oregon Farm bureau, which was called to meet here by President George Mansfield.

"We believe that it would be a disastrous backward step," says the committee in its resolutions "for the dairymen of the state to vote at this time to disband. The dairymen of other states are making a success of cooperative organizations, which results in larger returns to the dairymen and lowered prices to the public." A membership drive for the bureau was decided upon to begin early in January and to last for five months, covering every county in the state. Eighteen counties are now represented in the organization's membership of ten thousand and it is believed that the coming drive will double this number. There are 55,000 farmers in the state.

Mansfield will start on a speaking tour in January and has already scheduled 100 addresses to be delivered in the drive.
