

COUNTY PART OF STATE TAX IS SHOWN BY COMMISSIONER

Until the supreme court hands down an opinion on the validity of the state bonus and loan act for service men, the state tax commission will be unable to make an annual state tax levy. If the bonus and loan act is upheld then the state levy must account for a special levy required under the act.

don and Dublin were occupied today mainly in canvassing the prospects for ratification of the Anglo-Irish treaty when it comes before the Dail Eireann next Wednesday. De Valera May Resign Opinion in both cities appeared to be that Arthur Griffith, as sponsor of the treaty, will obtain an effective majority, although it was admitted that De Valera possessed a strong following and that the voting may be close. If De Valera should be defeated in his fight against ratification, it is thought here that he may resign his position as head of the Sinn Fein.

support of many of the most influential men in his party while Michael Collins is expected to carry the fighting elements among the Sinn Feiners in favor of the treaty. Mayor O'Callaghan Bitter Those various influences are expected to override the extremist section represented, for instance, by Lord Mayor O'Callaghan of Cork who, when the treaty was first mentioned to him, exclaimed, "Is that what we fought for?"

THURSDAY, Ireland Dec. 9.—(By The Associated Press)—As a trainload of released internees of Ballykinkar camp, entered the station here this evening, several bombs were exploded injuring three of the released, one of them seriously. Some persons in the crowd around the platform were slightly hurt by splinters.

Irish Ratification IS HELD CERTAINTY (Continued from page 1.) The fact that in the later stages of the negotiations the views of the plenipotentiaries differed from those of certain members of the cabinet, this course cannot be taken. The motion for ratification will now be introduced by Arthur Griffith as chairman of the delegates. Mr. De Valera added that he hoped it would not be necessary for him to make any further public statement until he makes it at the coming session of the Dail Eireann. LONDON, Dec. 9.—(By the Associated Press.)—After the first surprise occasioned by Eamonn De Valera's repudiation of the proposition for creating the Irish Free State, officials in both Lon-

DESPERADO IS SHOT BY WHITE COMPANION (Continued from page 1) Many possees went in pursuit of the fugitives. The car in which the men escaped was found 13 miles north of Benton where the bandits abandoned it when stopped by an open ditch. Under Death Sentence Investigations of Slaughter's possession of the gun which made the escape possible have been begun by Warden Dempsey, the state penitentiary commission and the governor. Herman Yezollie, trusty guard, is in the death cell pending developments. Slaughter was convicted of murder in Jefferson circuit court on November 11 and his date of execution set for December 16.

SPECIFIC TERMS TO BE DECIDED ON SHORTLY (Continued from page 1.) In negotiations, the separate parts of which have become intertwined as the time for momentous decision arrives, also has been advanced to a point where the attitude of each interested delegation is well understood. This element involves future fortifications in the Pacific and informal discussions of it have established the "status quo" as an acceptable basis of agreement. There remains only the chance of a serious controversy over the problems of China as a possible barrier to a far reaching understanding in which the national spokesmen can come together on all the major points at issue here. With the sealing of such an understanding the rest would become a matter of detail. Most of the principal delegates believe they could go home by the end of the year and leave the specific terms of the several remaining agreements to be worked out by special commissions.

Japan May Ask Delay Indications have not been lacking that Japan might want to delay final action on the four-power treaty and the naval ratio until the devious problems of China and the Far East have reached a stage where they can be lumped into a general round-up agreement. Despite much talk and the adoption of many resolutions, such questions as Shantung and the Japanese leases in Manchuria remain unsettled. Whether that circumstance is to delay the agreements now near consummation, is a question only Tokio can answer. It is the belief of Washington that it will not. Outcroppings of the old troubles of the Orient have been apparent more than once since the question of a new deal for China came before the conference. At today's session of the Shantung negotiations, Japan agreed to give up the public utilities of Kiaochow, but made the concession conditional on reference of some points to Tokio. A Chinese delegate pointed out that although nominally, the conversations had made much progress "strings have been tied," to almost all decisions.

Chinese in Delicate Place Confronted thus by the claims of Japan and constantly conscious of the counter pressure of the Chinese people, the representatives of the Peking government have found themselves in a position of increasing delicacy. Their task has not been made easier by the presence here of representatives of the rival government of Canton. Another point of serious disagreement as yet practically untouched by the conference is Manchuria. So some of the Japanese at least are said to feel that their government should not move hastily to scrap her warships and her alliance with Great Britain, until she has seen clearly what is to be the outcome of the Washington deliberations on the Far East. Cabinet Awaited The feeling here, nevertheless, was one of almost universal agreement tonight that the Japanese cabinet would be willing to accept the results of the negotiations up to date as establishing the good faith of the other governments in
