BELA KUN IS SOVIET AIDE

Communist Leader Asserts That Russia is Rapidly Making Good

EDUCATION PROGRESSES

Coming of Peace Will Lead to Restoration of All World Relations

MOSCOW, Dec. 13.—(By staff correspondent of the Associated Press.)—Russia will be on her feet again and take her place among the wealth-producing nations of the world within the next four or five years, says Bela Kun, formerly Hungarian Communist leader. He is now living with his wife and child in a small house attached to a hospital in the outskirts of Moscow.

He writes for the Communist press, is active in the Third Internationale and is well thought of in the councils of the "Big Five" who control affairs in Russia, namely, Lenin, Trotsky, Kaminslev, Djerzinsky and Bukharin.

It will be recalled that Bela Kun was head of the Communist government in Hungary for five months in the spring and summer of 1919 and had to flee when the Rumanian army invaded the country and completed the wreckage wrought by the World war. To the correspondent of the Associated Press he said:

On Right Road
"We are on the right road now, here in Russia. I am not speaking as an official of the soviet republic, but it is evident that the new economic policy will succeed. Russia will 'come back' in four or five years.

"You have just been through Russia. You see how rich she is, rich as the United States in forests, in soil, in mines. Her people have broken down the old feudalism. They are at last free. They are being educated, and that is wealth, too.

"Surely, such a country should have a better chance of repaying foreign investments than bankrupt countries of western Europe lacking Russia's natural resources.

Revolts Disappear
"The government here is finished with revolutions and is now growing more stable and will and can protect foreign investments. Industrial or social revolutions may come elsewhere, but we are through with them.

"Communism has not failed. Until now we are running a sort of war communism and we were hit by the foreign blockade, too. With peace, the government will continue to control and own the great industries, and in the end will absorb all but the smaller ones. That doesn't mean there isn't room for foreign concessions, Russia is so big.

Work for Workers
"We are not getting around to a democratic government like that of the United States. We are doing better. We are working to liberate the workers and try to prevent their exploitation.

"In considering business hazards with Russia, let the American business man remember that so far the United States has obtained only nice bits of paper, promises to pay from France, England and Italy on the huge sums loaned them."

Bela Kun is working to overcome the famine, which he fears may extend far into the next year, partly because of the lack of seed grain, which the soviet government can't provide in sufficient quantities, partly due to the hazards of weather. He is pushing the plan of an international loan to be launched through trade unions the world over. The plan is to have the soviet government guarantee the loan, to be issued in bonds from $1 up.

Bela Kun believes that persons who might not otherwise subscribe to famine charity would buy these bonds, in the hope of their redemption five or ten years hence, when the Russian government has recovered its financial credit.

SCHEDULE FOR BEARCATS READY

Basketball Season Busy One—McKittrick is Ruled Out of Game

Some changes have been made in the schedule for the Bearcat basketball team, from the list announced last week. The games now scheduled are:

January 7—Bearcats vs Alumni
January 12 and 13—Willamette vs Whitman, at Salem.
January 19 and 20—Willamette vs Idaho, at Salem.
January 23—Willamette vs Multnomah Athletic club, at Portland.

February 3 and 4—Willamette vs Whitman, at Walla Walla.
February 6 and 7—Willamette vs O.A.C., at Corvallis probably; the full series of four games is assured, but the dates are not yet certain.

February 9—Willamette vs Multnomah, at Salem.
February 13 and 14—Willamette vs O.A.C., at Salem.
February 22—Willamette vs University of Nevada, at Salem.
February 24 and 25—Willamette vs Oregon, at Eugene.
March 3 and 4—Willamette vs Oregon, at Salem.

The college conference that met at Portland, last week, shot a big hole in the Bearcat basketball lineup, when it decided that Bryan McKittrick, four year player in the Bearcat basketball and baseball band, was no longer eligible to play with the uncontaminated underclassmen. McKittrick has played three years as a regular college man, and one year as an S.A.T.C. soldier. In most cases this year was specifically exempt from charge against any collegiate record, but Coach Borleske of Whitman protested McKittrick's entry, and the conference gave him what he asked.

McKittrick had hoped to play one more season, and round out his college course with the boys who have been so successful in these sports. But they've beat him to it this time, and now he's preparing to be satisfied to just study books, and yell from the sidelines, and be Grandpa Manager of the student athletics while the young squirts do all the fightin' and get all the big hand. He ranks as one of the most consistent athletic performers and one of the steadiest warriors in the history of Willamette, but they've counted him out this time, and he's through. All but playing with the Alumni team, January 7, for since they've declared him graduated in athletics, he's entitled to roughhouse the kids.

BROCCOLI CROP IS SHOWING WELL

Oregon Growers to Market Large Tonnage in Independence Section

"Broccoli never looked finer than it does this year," says C. L. Lewis of the Oregon Growers association. "The plants are large, vigorous and of good color and a fine crop is expected."

The field department of the association is making a survey of the broccoli producing sections and is making advance preparations for handling the crop. Arrangements are being made for crates and details of grading, packing and shipping are being worked out.

It is expected that 50 cars of broccoli will be shipped from Independence alone if the weather conditions are favorable for the remainder of the growing season. The growers in that section are very enthusiastic over the outlook and Independence gives promise of becoming one of the leading points in Oregon for shipping broccoli.

The crop is grown on the bottom lands near Independence on acreages varying from small patches up to 25 acres. Much of it is taken from the hop yards where it is interplanted between the rows of hops, growers finding that these two crops make a very successful combination. The productivity of an acre of ground is greatly increased by this practice.

Field men report that the quality of the Willamette valley broccoli will compare favorably with that of southern Oregon. The association is laying plans to handle 200 cars and one eastern representative has already reported that he can sell at least a car a day in his territory.

New members are joining the association at the present time, and the entire tonnage of broccoli in the independence district will be handled through the association.

BUILD A FIREPLACE FOR THE KIDDIES WHILE THEY IN TURN TRIM TREE.

Christmas will be more entertaining to you if you make your own gifts and decorations. Children even like to do this in a greater degree. The tree they decorate will be the most wonderful of all trees, and how they will enjoy their work! Through lack of ornaments imported from Germany, paper, which was at first used because of necessity, has won permanent favor by its beauty and originality. The almost universal use of electric bulbs on trees overcomes all danger of fire.

In an accompanying illustration we show several of the many tree decorations that can be made from paper and tinsel. Paper poinsettias and daisies, star, dolls dressed as fairies, "rag" dolls made from crepe paper packing, figures of Santa Claus, birds and animals cut from crepe paper, stiffened with cardboard, and other tree ornaments are easily made. Some of the prettiest and most original are fashioned of crepe paper, some of which we illustrate.

Every home with children needs a fireplace on Christmas eve, else where can the children hang their stockings, and how can Santa get in to fill them? The father and mother who have no fireplace can easily build one. The fireplace seen in the picture was constructed from odds and ends. A frame is made of timber about one inch in thickness, standing four feet high to the shelf. The shelf is nine inches on the sides and six inches wide in the front. Above the shelf, the slanting portion begins two feet six inches wide, slanting to eighteen inches wide and six inches deep at the height of three feet. The top piece should be made high enough to reach the ceiling. For dimensions see the diagram.

Two folds of brick crepe paper are needed to cover the fireplace frame and a piece of white crepe paper to cover the shelf. An electric light, shining up through some red crepe paper, over which three partly burned pieces of firewood are laid, makes such a natural looking fire that one coming into the house would really think that a fire was burning.
