Six thousand collegians and twelve thousand school boys took part in organized football this autumn. Out of the prowess of these eighteen thousand athletic young Americans has come a dazzling galaxy of star players to take their place finally in the brilliant files that illumine the records of forty-six seasons of the American intercollegiate game.

MILD WEATHER HOLIDAY RULE

Salem Has Envious Record in Pleasantness of Xmas Temperature. For the second time in many years, the district around Salem experienced a snowy Christmas, the other observance of the old-time snowy Christmas being two years ago, following the great snow which broke so many December records.

this conference to agree to abolishment of underwater craft entirely. The American delegation expressed much sympathy with the British view, but was not yet ready to consider such a proposal in conjunction with all nations. It is pointed out that in the event of the calling of a special world submarine conference, such matters as use of poison gas, aircraft bombing any other new agencies of war could be talked over with a view to setting up an international code to govern their employment. The Washington conference is regarded as too limited in scope to deal with such questions. May Meet in 1928. It further appears possible the difficult question of land armaments would be put forward to the supplementary world assembly as three years may show changed conditions in Europe which will then admit of an agreement to curb army establishments as well as navies. The project to call another session of the five-power naval conference first was suggested, it is understood, by the French delegation. At that, the date suggested was 1931, when the decade stop in building ends. Since matters to be discussed then, however, would have to do very largely with replacement building, Lord Lee of the British group and Secretary Hughes are said to have expressed the opinion that the question should be taken three years before the holiday expires and as it now stands, the meeting would be some time in 1928. It should be recalled that while the 5-5-3 capital ship ratio has been accepted provisionally at least by all five powers, it does not become effective until the ten-year holiday ends. During the holiday Great Britain will maintain a 20 per cent larger capital ship force than the United States. She has agreed to scale down at the end of that period to an equality with the American fleet, however, and this process cannot be worked out now in detail. By again going over the ground three years before the holiday ends, however, the method of British reduction can be provided for, even if it does not then seem advisable to provide for further naval reduction all around, as many delegates hope will be the case. The three-year interval will permit the building of new ships to displace old, in the rearrangement of tonnage under the 5-5-3 program. Time May Clear Way. It is also regarded as altogether probable that in seven years the present controversy as to relative merits of capital ships and aircraft in war will have cleared itself. Should the predictions of some experts that aircraft eventually will make capital ships useless have been made good, the seven-year session could write that development into a new naval agreement contemplating abandonment of the capitals. It is now pointed out. In the same way it could apply to the new theory of non-competitive naval building, any other scientific developments in the way of new agencies of war-

JUSTIFIABLE ASSAULT. The little town of Middlebury was in a state of great excitement. Stales, the grocer, one of the best, and a most kind-hearted and generous man, was to be placed in the dock on a charge of assault. Surely there was a mistake somewhere. The justice of the peace leaned over toward the defendant. "You are accused," he cried, "of willfully striking and causing serious bodily injury to Mr. Brown. What have you to say in your defense?" Stales drew himself up proudly. "Your Honor," he said, "the man insulted me!" "In what way?" demanded the magistrate. The grocer blushed a ruddy hue. "If you please, Your Honor," he said, "he came into my shop and asked if he could take a moving picture of the cheese." "Undoubtedly,

THESE QUESTIONS ASKED TEACHERS

Who Can Find the Square Root of .012996? Let's See the Hands. For those who are wondering what kind of questions are asked of a teacher applying for a certificate to teach one year in Oregon, the following is from questions asked at the examination held last Friday and Saturday: In history: "State the main thoughts in Lincoln's first inaugural address. What are the last three amendments to the constitution of the United States. What did the ordinance of 1787 accomplish. Name the six famous secretaries of state. Now if the average person should fall down on the questions as to history, try the following given those on the subject of physiology: "What is lymph? What are lymphatics? How does tobacco affect the circulation? Write fully on the hygiene of bathing; on the care of the hair. What are the three kinds of perfect joints? Describe each. Write the duties of a city board of health so far as food inspection is concerned. Now it is well known that the average man regards himself as a shark when it comes to arithmetic. The teacher who applied for a one year certificate was asked, among others, these questions: "Find the square root of .012996. A man buys a house and lot for $3,500 on April 1, 1919. Insurance, taxes and repairs amount to $125 a year. For how much per month does he rent the house if he realizes 6 per cent net on his investment per year? A circular amusement park is 80 rods in diameter. Find the cost of one-inch boards for a tight fence eight feet high, enclosing the park at $20 per thousand feet. State seven essentials of a promissory note. For the expert in grammar who feels pretty well posted, the following was asked in the grammar examination: "Write a letter of introduction. Give five constructions in which infinitives are found."

JACKSON IS ON NATIONAL BOARD

Portland Man Given Leading Place in Wilson Foundation Movement. NEW YORK, Dec. 26.—Announcement was made today from the national headquarters of the Woodrow Wilson foundation, 159 Nassau street, New York City, that C. S. Jackson of Portland, Ore., chairman of the foundation in that state; George C. Blakeley of The Dalles; O. P. Gushow of Roseburg and Dr. C. J. Smith, also of Portland, had accepted appointments to the national committee of the foundation, the body which has general supervision over the campaign to raise $1,000,000 or more, starting January 16, and which will also select the permanent board of trustees. All States Represented. The national committee now has a membership of about 200 and it will number 250 when all the appointments are made. Every state in the union is represented on the committee. All state chairmen are members ex-officio and the other members are appointed at large, appointments being made with the idea of forming a representative American body which will include every section of the country and present all shades of thought. Development of plans for the campaign and the perfecting of machinery to carry them out are the immediate tasks of the committee. With the assistance of the executive committee, a smaller body which has direct charge of the entire campaign, they are bending every effort to make certain that the organization is completed and ready to commence work on January 16. The committee reports excellent cooperation and enthusiasm in all sections. Board Self-Perpetuating. In connection with the permanent organization of the foundation, the administration of the fund after it has been raised and the selection of the jury which will make the award, the national committee has already taken steps toward this end. At the first meeting of the committee held recently at the Hotel Astor, in New York City, it was decided that the permanent administration of the fund should be entrusted to a board of trustees to be appointed by the executive committee, subject to the approval of the national committee. Once chosen, this body will be self-perpetuating, the board to choose members to fill vacancies in its own ranks. There will be 16 on the board and five names were suggested at the meeting, these being Franklin D. Roosevelt, New York; Cleveland H. Dodge, New York; President E. A. Alderman, of the University of Virginia; William Allen White, Kansas; and Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, of Iowa. Award Jury Provided. The board of trustees will, in turn, select the members of the jury of award. This body will number 25, 10 being appointed by the board of trustees, the other 15 being nominated with the approval of the board of trustees by national organizations chosen by the board. Vacancies in the jury will be filled by appointment by the board of trustees, the same procedure to be followed as in making the original nominations.
