JEWETT REPORTS RESULT OF WORK

Predatory Animals of Oregon Suffer at Hands of Bureau's Men

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 23.—A record year in catches of coyotes, bobcats, cougars, bear and other predatory animals in Oregon was established in 1921 by the predatory animal division of the bureau of biology, according to Stacy Jewett, chief inspector.

In the first eleven months of the calendar year and an estimated total for December, approximately 2,381 predatory animals fell prey to the guns, traps and poison of government hunters, according to figures. Coyotes composed the largest item on the list, numbering 1,715, bobcats taking second place with a total of 314. Three timber wolves, a fast disappearing race in Oregon, were listed. An average of 14 trappers worked throughout the year.

In the number of animals killed by each man, Jewett said, the year surpassed all previous years considerably.

American Farm Products Valued by Department

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—Important farm crops of the United States this year were valued at $5,675,877,000 today by the department of agriculture in its final estimates for 1921. That is almost $2,400,000,000 less than last year's crops were worth, and $8,000,000,000 less than the crops of two years ago when high prices prevailed for farm products. The values are based on the value of all farm crops.

There were only two billion dollar crops this year—corn and hay—while last year four crops were valued at a billion dollars or more. Production was below last year for almost every crop, although the acreage of the important crops was slightly larger except cotton.

Try this. Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm as any drug store. Your clogged nostrils open up; your head is clear; no more sneezing or sniffling. Count fifty. All the stuffiness, dryness, struggling for breath is gone. You feel fine.—Adv.

50 MINUTES FOR DIVORCE

Daughter of Rockefeller is Freed from McCormick After 26 Years

NO ALIMONY IS ASKED

Husband Accused of Desertion and Failure to Provide for Plaintiff

CHICAGO, Dec. 28.—After a married life of 26 years, Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick, daughter of John D. Rockefeller, today obtained a divorce from Harold F. McCormick, in what was said to be a record time in Chicago. Fifty minutes elapsed from the time Mrs. McCormick filed her bill until the decree was signed by Judge McDonald.

Mrs. McCormick appeared in court at 10:50 o'clock and filed her bill which charged her husband with deserting her on May 27, 1918, in Zurich, Switzerland. Shortly afterward Mr. McCormick's attorneys filed an answer admitting the charge and in less than five minutes the hearing was started. Mr. McCormick did not appear.

Husband No Provider

Mrs. McCormick was asked less than half a dozen questions by her attorneys, eliciting the statements necessary to sustain the bill. She testified that she was married in 1895, that Mr. McCormick left her in Zurich in 1918 without reason and that he had since failed to provide for her.

Mrs. Emma Buckley, formerly a maid for Mrs. McCormick, testified she was with Mrs. McCormick in Zurich and knew of the desertion and similar testimony was given by Miss E. Boley, who told of Mr. McCormick's departure from Zurich. Attorneys for the defense waived the right to cross-examine the witnesses, Mrs. McCormick and her party immediately left the court room, attorneys arranged the final details and Judge McDonald signed the decree at 11:40 o'clock.

Children Not Mentioned

The decree contains no alimony provisions but according to Mr. McCormick's counsel an agreement had been made in advance on a property division. Counsel for Mrs. McCormick, however, denied this.

Aside from the prominence of the McCormick and Rockefeller families, Mr. and Mrs. McCormick became known throughout the country through their financial support of the Chicago Grand Opera company.

The decree does not mention the three children, Harold F. McCormick, Jr. and Miss Muriel McCormick are living with their father here while Mathilda, the second daughter, is abroad.

STILL GOING STRONG.

Dan O'Leary, in his day the world's greatest walker, who hiked across the continent in many lands a generation ago, is still going strong, despite his 81 years. He proved this a short time ago, when he made five traveling salesman take his dust in a twenty-two mile jaunt from Indianapolis to Noblesville.
