One Man Blown Into Taxi-cab—Falling Tree Takes Life of Girl

NEW YORK, Jan. 11. (By the Associated Press.)—This section was lashed today by the worst gale of the winter—a gale that at 2 o'clock reached a velocity of 90 miles an hour off Sandy Hook.

Ushered in with snow that later turned to hail and rain, the storm buffeted New Yorkers without mercy, hurling many to the ground. Window glass fell tinkling into the street, mail packages were blown over and traffic generally hampered.

Shipping Hard Hit Harbor traffic was hard hit. A number of small boats were blown from their moorings, and incoming liners were held at quarantine by high winds.

Some concern was felt for the disabled army transport Cook with nearly 1000 passengers aboard, despite wireless messages that the repairs had been made and all was well.

Outside the city the full strength of the storm was felt. New Jersey and Long Island, especially along the coast, were hard swept and at several points a tangle of telephone and telegraph wires was reported.

Air Pilot Has Trouble At Garden City, L. I., Pilot C. B. D. Colver, flying a mail plane from Chicago, reported he had been unable to land even though he gave his plane the gas and nosed her down almost perpendicularly.

Encountering a frontal wind that swirled upward, the machine, nose down, seemed to hang for several moments in the air. Then the pilot flew over Hazelhurst field and anchored his sleet-covered ship by lashing it to a motor truck.

Tom Breen, 28 years old, despite his best efforts, was blown into a taxi-cab that stood nearby with its door open. The machine took him to a hospital, where he was treated for severe concussions.

Girl Killed Wind blown missiles of various kinds knocked several pedestrians down. One, Anna Lacart, 14, was killed by a blow from a limb of a tree.

Several persons were hurt when portions of roofs and building cornices were blown into the street.

HEAD ACHED AND BODY ACHED There are various symptoms of kidney trouble—rheumatic pains, backache, sore muscles, stiff joints, and "always tired" feeling.

They heal and strengthen weak, disordered kidneys and bladder and help them in their work of filtering the blood and casting out of the system the impurities that cause pain and disease. LAWYER READS MORE LETTERS

Sullivan of Seattle Declares Mrs. Obenchain Loved Kennedy to Last

TESTIMONY IS ASSAILED

Argument of Assistant District Attorney is Answered by Counsel

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Jan. 11.—Letters which Mrs. Madalynne Obenchain wrote to J. Belton Kennedy formed the basis for an attack upon "the foundation of the prosecution's case" in the argument today of John J. Sullivan, of Seattle, counsel for Arthur C. Burch, on trial in the Los Angeles superior court, charged with the murder of Kennedy.

Affectionate Letters Read Letters, most of which contained expressions of extreme affection, had been introduced in evidence by the prosecution, and many of them were quoted by Asa Keyes, deputy district attorney, in the opening argument by the state. Mr. Keyes argued they showed Mrs. Obenchain's love had turned to hate; that other evidence showed the summoned Burch to Los Angeles from Evanston, Ill., and that Burch, at her instigation, shot Kennedy to death in Beverly Glen on the night of August 5 last.

Mr. Sullivan told the jury he believed the letters indicated a "love which endured to the end." He declared he did not think any reasonable person could read them and come to the conclusion that their author ever dreamed of harming Kennedy.

Misses Quoted "She wrote to Kennedy: 'I would give my life for you,'" the attorney declared. "She signed one letter: 'Yours to the end,' and we have the testimony of a witness who saw her in Beverly Glen when Kennedy was pronounced dead, and who heard her say 'Belton, why did they do it? She was indeed his to the end.' Mr. Sullivan also assailed the testimony of prosecution witnesses who told of the movements of Burch from the time he left Evanston on July 21 last to the time of his arrest, declaring they had given contradictory testimony, and that some of them had been proved "liars by the clock." His argument had not been completed when court adjourned until 9:30 tomorrow morning.
