A delightful dancing party was given Friday evening in the Teachers' Cottage at the state deaf school when two new teachers were honor guests. They are Miss Elizabeth Russell, recently of St. Louis, Mo., and Miss Thekla Eargar, recently of Wendell, Ia. The hostesses were Miss Dorothy Miller, Miss Bertha Thomas and Miss Annette Colquette.

Russell roses and Oregon grape were used in great profusion about the rooms. Old rose formed the keynote of the decorations. Supper was served at midnight.

Out of town guests were Miss Loyce Lee of Gooding, Ida.; Miss Louise Cornell, New York City, and Miss Margaret Hann of Vancouver, Wash. Other guests included the guests of honor, Miss Russell and Miss Sarquhar, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Evans, Mr. and Mrs. Saderup, Mr. and Mrs. George Nelson, Miss Minnie Morris, Miss Elizabeth Levy, Miss Irene Bradford, Miss Hilda Tillingshast, Ervin F. Smith, Fred N. Spunt, Clifford A. Smart, Robin D. Day, E. E. Scellars, Sidney Jones, Jack Mulligan, Major Charles Gjedstedt, Fred Brock, Percy Brock, Ray Hartman, Harry Levy, Walter P. Vallant.

Mrs. Raymond Walsh was a charming hostess Wednesday evening at a dinner party honoring her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Fry on the occasion of their birthdays. The guests included besides Mr. and Mrs. Fry, Dr. and Mrs. R. E. Lee Steiner, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Meyers, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Hendricks, Mrs. W. J. Lord, Mrs. Alice H. Dodd and Mrs. John Carson.

Honoring Mrs. John Kirk on the occasion of her birthday, Mrs. Walter Kirk was hostess at a charming party Friday afternoon. Pink carnations were used about the dining room and begonias in the living room. Mrs. Kirk was assisted in serving by Mrs. C. B. Webb and Mrs. F. G. Myers.

The guests included the guest of honor, Mrs. John Kirk, Mrs. B. J. Miles, Mrs. George H. Burnett, Mrs. J. Antle, Mrs. A. M. Hampton, Mrs. C. E. Blow, Mrs. S. A. Thompson, Mrs. C. A. Webb, Mrs. F. G. Myers, Mrs. Mark Savage, Mrs. Ward Willis Long, Mrs. C. P. Bishop and Mrs. Thomas Champ-lain.

Mrs. Hugh McCammon and Mrs. Carl Nelson will be hostesses at Mrs. McCammon's home Monday at a luncheon for the Gamma Phi Beta alumnae association.

Mrs. Thomas Livesley was hostess Wednesday in compliment to Mrs. Fritz Slade and Mrs. William C. Kiltz Jr., who were guests in Salem. Covers for 12 were placed at the luncheon table where decorations were in shades of pink and blue. Bridge occupied the afternoon hours.

Mrs. Slade is a guest of her sister, Mrs. John J. Roberts and will make her home in Portland within a few weeks. She has until recently been a resident of Salt Lake City. Mrs. Kiltz, who has been a guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Thompson, returned to her home in Vancouver, B. C. Friday.

Guests invited to meet with Mrs. Slade and Mrs. Kiltz were Mrs. John J. Roberts, Mrs. T. C. Smith Jr., Mrs. Dan Fry Jr., Mrs. Asahel Bush, Mrs. Melvin Plimpton, Mrs. Frederick Theisen, Mrs. James Linn, Mrs. Robert McKinney Hofer, Miss Catherine Carson.

Mrs. Fritz Slade was guest of honor at an afternoon of bridge given by Mrs. T. C. Smith Jr. on Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Dan Fry Jr. won high score during the afternoon. Mrs. Livesley presided at the tea table and Mrs. John McNary and Mrs. David Eyre assisted in the serving.

Besides the guest of honor, Mrs. Slade, other guests included were Mrs. Oswald West of Portland; of opinion expressed by the speakers before the American Association of University Women at their monthly luncheon Saturday at Multnomah hotel, Portland. In spite of the eagerness of thousands of the women of China, Japan and India to enter the seven non-sectarian Christian colleges of the Orient, thousands have to be turned away annually because of inadequate facilities. A campaign for raising funds for buildings at these colleges, three of which are in India, three in China and one in Japan, has been launched by local college women throughout the country. Each member will be canvassed and already an encouraging number of pledges have been received by the Portland branch.

The Women's Missionary society of the Jason Lee church met with Mrs. M. Roberts Friday. Mrs. Emma Roberts had charge of the program of study.

Mrs. Harwood Hall of Chemawa will address the Multnomah chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution next Tuesday. Her subject will be "Indians."

Mrs. Lloyd J. Hauser and son Robert, of Eugene, spent a few days in Salem this week visiting relatives.

Mrs. F. U. Schwab and small daughter, Patricia Ann, left Friday for Tacoma following a three weeks visit with Mrs. Schwab's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Nye.

Mrs. Clifford Farmer is a guest of her sister, Mrs. Haack, in Portland.

Miss Helen Deckerback, who has been visiting in Portland for a few days returned last night.

Mrs. Earl C. Fiegel of Portland arrived last night for a visit with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. R. E. Lee Steiner.

Miss Rosa Albright of Marquam is visiting with her sister, Mrs. John Carson Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Bynon are spending the week-end with Mrs. Bynon's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Hofer.

The O.A.C. club was entertained Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Anderson. Discussion of the scholarship loan fund was taken up at the business meeting. The loan money so far accumulated was forwarded to the college committee on student loans. This money is for the purpose of assisting Marion county students. No discrimination was made as to what class the student should be, according to club members. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur McLain will be hosts to the club at its next meeting.

Honoring Miss Inez Fitts at a dinner on the occasion of her birthday, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Prunk were hosts Thursday evening. Pink carnations centered the dainty table. Cards and music filled the after dinner hours.

The guests were Miss Inez Fitts, Mr. and Mrs. John Brophy, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Glover and B. Welch.

Dr. Adelaide Woodward, a returned medical missionary of the Presbyterian church, will meet with the Women's Missionary society of the First Presbyterian church at the C. P. Bishop home Monday afternoon at 2:30. Dr. Woodward has just recently returned from missionary work in India and is being sent out by the Willamette Presbytery. The members of the missionary society with their friends are being invited to attend.

The Loyal Women's class of the Christian church met in the church parlors Thursday afternoon. Hostesses for the day were Mrs. Flora Clark, Mrs. Viola Gardner, Mrs. J. Robison, Mrs. Elsie Siler, Mrs. W. S. Birdwell and Mrs. Thomas Brunk.

Refreshments were served and a short program was given. Vocal numbers and a few readings composed the program.

Many Oregon Women Benefit From Loan Fund

Twenty-eight Oregon women are in school this year only through the good offices of the Oregon Federation of Women's clubs which through its scholarship loan fund provided the means. Loans to these girls for the year will total $3885. Applications from other girls for which there were not the funds totaled $4600, according to the secretary of the loan fund committee, Miss Mattie Beatty of Salem.

Seven of these loans are to young women attending the normal at Monmouth, six each at Oregon Agricultural college and the University of Oregon, two at Pacific college, one each at Reed, Willamette and McMinnville, while one girl is in New York city doing special work. The other three girls receiving help this year are three who received it last year and are not new this year.

Oregon club women's methods and means of helping young women to take advance college work is considered by the national board to be unusually successful. Washington, while maintaining such a loan fund, requires each girl to be recommended by the club in her town which many girls prefer not to do. They also demand the endorsement of the local club. Unlike Oregon, the girls to whom loans are made, are carried on the club's books by name.

The Oregon federation knows each girl by number only, requires no endorsement on the note given unless the girl is not of age, and charges no interest. Personal investigation of the girl's record is, however, always made by members of the committee.

The Anna M. E. Mann legacy for $3000 will, when all available, be invested and the interest given as a free scholarship to an Oregon woman, according to present plans of the loan fund committee. Aside from the Mann legacy, the committee has no funds at the present time at all, except what has been promised.

In fact, according to Miss Beatty, the committee has promised funds in excess of what it really has. This is possible since the full amount of the loan is not advanced to a girl in the beginning. The committee feels sure that additional funds will be available to make good the promise to the girls.

Practically all of the girls assisted with loans go into gainful occupations almost as soon as they are through school and with few exceptions begin to pay off the loan at once. The loss from loans made has been small, according to Miss Beatty. Many of the girls who received assistance are now employed in different colleges and high schools of the state.

The loan fund has been turned many times, for while more than 250 loans have been made, amounting to more than $30,000, the amount contributed by all sources has been only $11,827.96, according to the records of the committee.

The Salem Women's club will give a silver tea January 26 for the benefit of the loan fund. Mrs. N. C. Kafoury is chairman of the Women's club scholarship loan fund committee and has planned an oriental program.

H. O. Cartozian of Portland accepted the invitation to speak to club members during the afternoon, but owing to a sudden death in his family, may not be able to attend. No definite word has been received as yet from him since the unfortunate occurrence.

A cash contribution toward the Oregon Federation scholarship loan fund was voted by the Etoka club which met last week with Mrs. Geneva Burnett. The program of the day was of Oregon history and a musical number.

Those contributing to the program were Mrs. Guy O. Smith, Mrs. W. F. Fargo, Mrs. Carl Hartley, Mrs. Frank Purvine will be hostess for the club the next session.

Madame Enters—and Conquers

Enter Madame, the Broadway Success Which Will Be Presented Here by Gay MacLaren

January 21, is the story of a popular and successful prima donna married to a wealthy New Yorker. He sees so little of her that he characterizes the few glimpses he has had as scenes of a play. Craving a fireside companion and slippers, he tells his wife, Lisa Della Robbia, that he is going to marry a certain widow. Not to be outdone, she says she is going to marry a poet, "not too young, not too old, but just right."

Gerald Fitzgerald, the husband, informs her that he will support no "versifying poet." The charming prima donna invites the widow and her now ex-husband, for he has secured a divorce, to dine with her. She calls it a family party, and terms the widow, Flora, and herself, wives-in-law.

Flora leaves the dinner party while Gerald remains "to talk things over" with Madame Lisa Della Robbia. They are constantly interrupted by telephone calls from Flora for Gerald. Finally becoming disgusted, he takes the receiver off the hook and follows Madame into her bedroom.

Their son, finding his father at his mother's apartment in the morning, informs them that they should not behave so, when they are no longer married. He styles them "a great responsibility." Flora breaks in on the affair, reminding Gerald that no one would think of marrying him for anything but his money anyway, and says she has put it in the hands of her lawyer.

The widow departs, lamenting the husband that he is poor dead and is not present to defend her. The reporters, urged on by the departing Flora, make insistent demands for an audience. Giving her son to understand that his father is leaving through the bedroom, Madame persuades him to go down and talk to the newspaper representatives.

John, out of the way, the changeable Madame, who is leaving in the afternoon for South America, directs the packing of her things, and with her late husband, departs for the sunny south before the son, who claims to have been abused, returns to find his parents "gone—eloped!"

Madame Lisa Della Robbia enters and conquers, winning back

Barbara Friche tent No. 2

Barbara Friche tent No. 2, held installation ceremonies in the Grand Army room at the armory on Wednesday evening Jan. 11, Mrs. Mary E. Cook acting as installing officer.

The following were inducted into office: President, Julia K. Webster; senior vice, Jennie Pope; junior vice, Phoebe McAdams; chaplain, Mary E. Shain; treasurer, Ruth McAdams; council, Grace Buselle, Mary Cook and Katherine Ingrey; patriotic instructor, Mabel A. Lockwood; secretary, Lolisa A. Kegar; guide, Marie Bennett; correspondent, Mary M. Entress; guard, Lyle Murray; color bearers: Florence Pope, Odille Persons, Grace Green and Alma Fischer.

A pleasant surprise came at the close of the evening when Mrs. Margaret Elliott, acting in behalf of the retiring officers, presented Mrs. Mary Entress, retiring president, with a token of their appreciation of the cordial relation which has existed throughout the year.

The American War Mothers will hold a cooked food sale next Saturday afternoon. The friends of the organization and all members are being urged to contribute to the sale which is for the benefit of the establishing of a ward in the new Salem hospital for the ex-service men of Marion county. The next meeting of the War Mothers is February 7, when the annual election will be held.

Oregon Agricultural College, Jan. 14.—The National Home Economics convention will be held in Corvallis August 15. This date has been changed from June to accommodate the large number of home economics women who could not come so early in the season on account of summer school or teaching conflicts. The delegates will come by special train over the northern route, stopping two days at Glacier park and one day in Portland where they are to be entertained by the president's council. This will be the first trip to the west for many of the visitors and they plan on making it a pleasure trip also.

The poetry of Tagore will be taken up by the poetry section of the Arts league at their meeting tomorrow. Mrs. E. M. Botford, 323 North Church street, will be the hostess for the group. Mrs. Blanche Jones is leader of the section, which is one of the newly organized groups of the Salem Arts league.

With the idea of presenting their former instructor, Caesar Thomson with a token of appreciation on his fortieth anniversary as master in the Royal Conservatory of Music in Brussels, Miss Elizabeth Levy of Salem has been requested to get in touch with all former students of his in this part of the country.

Master Caesar Thomson was the first teacher of violin at the conservatory. The anniversary of his professorship there comes this spring. Miss Levy, a local violin instructor, had what is considered a special advantage, in being able to study under Master Caesar Thomson. Her work was taken recently. The request to Miss Levy came from a student of the master in Brussels.

"The Beginnings of Orchestra and Choral Clubs" was the subject of a paper by Julia Weigel read at the Salem Music Teachers' association meeting this week. "Early Singing Schools", was given by Miss Mattie Gilbert.

Mrs. Lillian Jeffries Petri favored the group with several piano numbers which were much appreciated. Miss Ada Miller and Mrs. Langenberg gave several vocal numbers.

Lucien Becker will be the organist presented by the Salem Music Teachers' association February 5. Mrs. Eloise Anita Cook will be the assisting vocalist. Both are prominent Portland musicians.

Playing in concert for the first time since his return from advanced work in the east, Frank Churchill won much favor with Salem music lovers last Sunday when he played at the First Christian church.

He was assisted by Miss Ada Miller, Miss Dorothy Pearce, Miss Marion Emmons, Miss Lucille Ross and Franklin Launer.

The Book of Hebrews will be taken up Tuesday by the Bible class which is conducted by Mrs. C. A. Parks. It will meet this year at Mrs. Parks' home, 1485 Chemeketa street. Mrs. Parks has always given these classes at the Y. W. C. A. rooms but being unable to do this now she will open her home for the classes.
