

POINCARÉ GETS MUCH SUPPORT

Chamber of Deputies Votes Confidence in Premier's Regime

MESSAGE IS WEIGHTY

French Leader Demands Full Reparations from German Nation

PARIS, Jan. 19.—(By The Associated Press)—The chamber of deputies this evening gave Premier Poincaré and his new government a vote of confidence, 472 to 107. This action followed upon the ministerial declaration presented by M. Poincaré in the chamber and by M. Barthou, minister of justice, in the senate, and after a discussion of the interpellations submitted by Marcel Cachin, the socialist leader and others.

Premier Poincaré took a firm stand on the foreign policy of France and demanded strict adherence to the terms of the peace treaty. The keynote of his declaration was the right of France to exact full reparations.

Direct Terms Used In replying to the interpellations, M. Poincaré used stronger and more direct language than in the ministerial declaration.

"Germany was not only responsible for the war," he declared, "but for the manner in which it was conducted. Until everything due has been paid, we cannot afford generosity to the vanquished."

The socialist and communist press has directly accused M.

Poincaré of responsibility for the war and the death of a million and a half Frenchmen.

The premier took notice of these accusations, saying:

"I have been accused of being responsible for the war; the war broke out in spite of the French government."

Germany Must Pay Alluding to reparations, he said: "With strictest economies and the heaviest taxation, we can not live unless Germany pays us. Every question of internal politics must be subordinated to our foreign policy. We have peace abroad; let us have peace at home."

"I neither defend nor criticize the Versailles treaty, but I want its integral execution."

Discussing Germany's ability to pay, the premier said: "Her corporations return enormous dividends, her factories are in full activity. In a word her economic strength grows every day and if the state itself is in ruins, the nation enriches itself. It was in the name of the German nation that the Versailles treaty was accepted."

Rights Defended "France, in defending her rights, defends international accords and follows in no way the suggestion of selfishness. France wishes to see Europe and the whole world recovered from the painful unrest from which they suffer, but general economic reorganization depends first upon the restoration of the devastated regions.

"The reparations problem is there y to all others."

Judge Tazwell set January 28 as the date for the hearing.

CROOKED FINGER INDIAN'S NAME

How School District of Name Explained—Location of Fine School

This is the story of Crooked Finger. Crooked Finger is the name of a school district away up in the mountains several miles east and south of Silverton, the western boundary being Butte creek.

According to the legend of the mountains in that part of Marion county, the Crooked Finger district was named from a famous old Indian who really possessed a crooked finger and was known by that name.

However, Crooked Finger district is known especially for its fine public school, the beautiful location of the schoolhouse overlooking the mountains, and above all, the general fine equipment of the school.

The teacher is Miss Leona Butsch, who has made a record for her thoroughness in instruction and who is now teaching her second year. The Crooked Finger district of Marion county is a prairie growing district. Its people are progressive, proud of their fine school and up-and-coming folks, notwithstanding the fact they live quite a little distance from the more densely populated parts of the county.

MORE CHANGES ARE MADE IN TREATY

Retained Ships Named The preamble to the naval or five-power treaty, which is now understood to be complete with the exception of article 19 relating to fortifications is as follows: "The United States of America, the British empire, France, Italy and Japan, desiring to contribute to the maintenance of the general peace and reduce the competition in armament have resolved with a view to accomplishing their purpose to conclude a treaty to limit their respective naval armaments and to that end have appointed as their plenipotentiaries, (here follows the names of the representatives of the powers in Washington).

One of the most important articles of the treaty is that naming capital ships of the powers which are to be retained. The list of American vessels given in the treaty to be retained follows: Maryland, California, Tennessee, Idaho, New Mexico and Mississippi, all ranging around 32,600 tons. Arizona and Pennsylvania, 31,400 each. Oklahoma, Nevada, New York and Texas, 27,000 to 27,500 tons. Arkansas and Wyoming 26,000 tons each.

Florida and Utah 21,825 tons each. North Dakota and Delaware 20,000 tons each.

Total Tonnage Shown The total tonnage of American capital ships retained is 559,659.

The British list follows: Royal Sovereign, Royal Oak, Revenge, Resolution, Ramilles, Milava, Valiant, Barham, Queen Elizabeth, War Sprite, Bombay, Emperor of India, Iron Duke, Marlborough, Hood, Renown, Repulse, Tiger, Thunderer, King George V, Ajax, Centurion. The total British tonnage is 586,450.

The Hood ranks at 41,000 tons and all of the other British vessels are below the maximum of 35,000 tons hereafter to prevail in the case of capital ships.

Aircraft Article Quoted The text of the articles of the new treaty dealing with aircraft carriers is as follows: "Article 9. No aircraft carrier exceeding 27,000 standard tons (27,432 metric tons) displacement shall be acquired or constructed for or within the jurisdiction of any of the contracting powers; provided, however, . . . that any of the contracting powers may without increasing its tonnage or aircraft carriers, build not more than two aircraft carriers each of a tonnage not more than 32,000 (33,528 metric tons)."

"And in order to effect economy any of the contracting powers may use for this purpose any two of their ships whether already constructed or in course of construction which would otherwise be scrapped under the provisions of this treaty."

Capital Ships Limited Another paragraph of the treaty of importance is that relating to the conversion of vessels which reads textually as follows: "Clause 3. (Second part for scrapping vessels) Not more than one capital ship may be retained for these purposes by each of the contracting powers."

"Of the capital ships which would otherwise be scrapped by this treaty in and after the year 1931, France and Italy may each retain two sea-going vessels for training purposes and especially either gunnery or torpedo schools. France and Italy respectively undertake to remove and destroy their conning towers and not use such ships as vessels of war."

Farmers Must Get Fair Treatment, Bryan Says

FRANKFORT, Ky., Jan. 19.—There can be no return of prosperity until the farmer's conditions are improved, William Jennings Bryan said here today in addressing a joint session of the general assembly. "In all my experience I never have known the farmer to be in so bad a shape," continued Mr. Bryan, adding that the farmer was "the first person picked on."

The present congress, said the speaker, is no better or worse than the preceding congress, but he declared it is worse scared because of the pressure brought by farmers. Representation of farmers, laborers and a non-bank business man in the federal reserve board was urged.

FARM BUREAU IS BOOSTED AT SUNNYSIDE

Reduction of freights, reduction of taxes through shutting down on public expenditures that can be eliminated, the adoption of some form of taxation that will catch everything and not unrighteously penalize the farms and residences hard to see where one of these Oregon Jersey champions would really be worth owning for the saving in stable room and pasture and time to feed.

William McGilchrist, Jr., testified that the first he heard of Byron's criminal record was through the press. He also said that Todd told him Byron carried a handy pardon in his pocket in case of trouble and regardless of court action, Byron could not be held.

The new officers of the county grange are: Master, J. E. Whitehead, Turner; overseer, J. J. McDonald of Salem; lecturer, Jennie Van Trump, Salem; secretary, Eva Jones, Macleay; treasurer, Zella Fletcher, Salem.

Methodists at Portland In Northwest Convention

PORTLAND, Jan. 19.—With about 200 out of town delegates present besides nine international known leaders of the denomination from all parts of the world, the northwest convention of the Methodist Episcopal church opened its sessions here tonight.

The conference is being held to give greater impetus to the various activities of the church and is the second of a series of five conventions of this character to be held in the northwest. The first of these gatherings was held in Eugene last Tuesday and Wednesday following the grand central convention held in Detroit, Mich.

The sessions opened at 6 o'clock with a dinner for the delegates.

ANOTHER WORLD RECORD COW IS IN PROSPECT

(Continued from page 1) the present and past world's champion with 1040 pounds. She could fall four pounds per month, below this last monthly record, and still win the world's title. As the cow is in perfect health and in excellent condition, her owner has just started to milk four times a day which tends to increase the production materially by relieving the udder strain. "The greatest cow in the world" is a title easily within sight for this Willamette valley wonder.

Hewitt Farms Famous The holder of the world's record for a senior yearling, 829 pounds of butterfat, produced by St. Maw's Lad's Lady, was also bred by the Hewitt farms, and sold to the present owner, Harry Hiff of Independence. It seems to run in the blood.

Pickard Brothers of Marion county, almost within gunshot of the Independence breeders who are making such a bid for this record, are the owners of two of the four Jerseys that have come close to the present record. Their Viva La France and Lady Silken Glo were within ounces of the top—Lady Silken Glo, with a yearly test completed only a few weeks ago, being fourth in yearly production, with only a little more than a pound less than the champion. But only one of these some unforeseen accident can prevent the new cow from topping the whole world.

Butterfat is Basis It should be noted that these Jersey records are all figured on the basis of butterfat, and commercial butter. Butter, as made and sold, contains 25 per cent more weight of liquids, so the actual butterfat of 1040-pound Jersey cow would be exactly 1290 pounds. As the average butter yield of the dairy cows of the United States, figuring all the cows that are being milked for domestic use, is figured by the department of agriculture as approximately 160 pounds, it isn't hard to see where one of these Oregon Jersey champions would really be worth owning for the saving in stable room and pasture and time to feed.

their breath for a few minutes, is one of the definite plans.

Oregon is Typical The speaker said that there is now close to $300,000,000 worth of money and securities in the Oregon banks on only about $20,000,000 of which taxes are paid; while the farms of the state pay on $327,000,000 and are loaded to death.

The bureau expects to get out a questionnaire this year, on the vital questions of financing the farms, on freights, on tax reduction, on tax equalization, and ask every candidate for public office to declare himself on these issues.

Luncheon Served The Sunnyside women served a gorgeous country luncheon at the close of the meeting; with eleven kinds of pie and lots of every kind, with sandwiches, cakes, coffee and enough good food to fatten a regiment. The guests from all over the county certainly showed their appreciation of the hospitable Sunnysides. The old Sunnyside schoolhouse, that has stood there for something like 60 years if reports be correct, is to be replaced by a far larger, more modern structure, and the old one kept for a community hall, but the new one will never have finer array of pies and goodies than that served last night, though the new one lives to rot down and blow away.
