BOXING, WRESTLING CLASSES FORMED AT SALEM HIGH SCHOOL

Under the leadership of Coach "Tubby" Hendricks, Salem high is developing a strong wrestling team which is soon to be in condition to meet all comers in the valley. Although a new activity the school is entering it with mat men of exceptional ability who would do credit to a school which had developed its men for several years.

Ellis White, heavyweight, is the outstanding fighter of the team and is coaching the others under "Tubby's" direction. White is almost in the professional class and his wrestling has won a great deal of favorable comment from mat fans. He was prominent in the high school smoker given by the athletic men last year and was responsible largely for the organization of the new mat club.

Blankenship, Post and Wright are three other very promising wrestlers in their classes. All of them have had some experience and at the present time are showing up well. Noeske and Paulson are also mentioned as likely to give keen competition for the positions on the team.

The Midgets are composed of boys 12 years old and under and the way they play basketball assures Dallas of a coming championship team in the course of a few years. The game was close from start to finish.

GILLETTE IS OUT OF GAME

Nervy Little Bearcat Player Told by Physician to Stay Out for Spell

TWO GAMES THIS WEEK

Material Being Coached to Fill Yawning Hole Left by Varsity Center

The Bearcat line-up will be missing one of the old families for some days to come, when Gillette turns up missing at the referee's whistle.

Gillette had an attack of pneumonia early in the winter, that kept him out of the practice at the beginning of the season after football was laid on ice and the teams took up the hoop game. He had come back strong, however, and had been one of the stars of the team. No opponent who has played against him this year, has had a right to claim a victory, until perhaps the last game with Idaho. He has taken another cold, so that the doctor has ordered him out of the squad.

This leaves a yawning hole in the lineup, that the Bearcats can ill afford, for there is no one of equal experience to take his place. It is announced as possible that Dimick will go in at center, and that Doney will replace Gillette; while both Patton and Sociolofsky, who have alternated up to this time, will have to be brought in as regulars. Caught in has gone in as center, in Doney's place, once or twice, and held his own very well. He is of the squad, and will quite certainly appear more frequently than heretofore. Edwards also is of the squad, and will move up closer to a place on the regulars.

The frosh team has been taking on almost as strenuous a schedule as the regulars. Of the Frosh it might be said that they're busy on the job beyond the measure of any similar team in the history of Williamette. They promise to develop some cracking good regulars for future service. The frosh team won one good game in the interclass series, which was one better than the juniors did. They haven't been able to place a man on the Bearcat team this year, but the way they are reasoning; themselves, they promise to make a showing for 1923.

SOCOLOFSKY AND SCOTT ARE HEARD

Two Real Estate Men Speak to Members of Salem Commercial Club

"There are 10 to one better chances of making a living in the country than in the city," declared D. D. Socolofsky, Salem realtor, in addressing members of the Salem Commercial club Monday noon.

And then just to prove it, he told of several instances where farmers stuck to their land through thick and thin, and eventually had more valuable property than the man who came to the city to make a living.

Mr. Socolofsky said it was no disgrace to start poor in life, as that was the way he started. If a home is to be made together in social, economic and religious convictions, and there will not be a happy home unless there are these three elements, he said.

John H. Scott told a little of his inside life history when he stated he rode a bicycle from Michigan to Salem, just to look over the country. That was a number of years ago, he said.

Incidentally, Mr. Scott boosted for the 1925 exposition. "Let us invite the world to see what we have," he declared. "Many will stay. We need capital and people. When part of our latent mountain power is developed, we will have the cheapest electric power in the world. We will be able to manufacture fertilizers from the air."

In discussing the advantages of owning a home, Mr. Scott said that the moral element should not be overlooked. "Too many men are wrapped up in business to give any time to their wives," declared Mr. Scott. "They are so busy, they haven't time to get acquainted with their families." This condition, he said, "didn't tend towards busy homes or the desire to own homes."
