McMinnville, Ore., Jan. 6, 1922.

Movie Contest Editor,
Salem, Oregon.

Dear Sir:

I received your cash prize of $200.00 from your recent Movie Mystery Contest. I wish to thank you very much. I find that the contests carried on by you people are not fakes, but just what they are represented to be.

WON $100.00 CASH PRIZE

Mt. Angel, Ore., Jan. 6, 1922.

The Statesman Publishing Co.,
Salem, Oregon.

Dear Sir:

Only too gladly do I acknowledge the receipt of the check for "one hundred dollars" awarded me as second prize in your recent contest. To opponents, this appreciative letter shall serve as an evidence of your upright and fair dealing with your contestants.

In securing subscribers for your useful publications, I had little difficulty, although there were several contestants in our town. The work was a pleasure, as well as a pastime, and I hope to solicit more subscribers in the future. I, too, met with opposition, but did not let myself be dissuaded from carrying out that upon which I had determined and believed in succeeding.

From the very first I resolved to use the prize money, should I be so fortunate as to win, for purchasing or contributing to the purchase of an "electric ironing machine" so that the work in our laundry could be minimized.

In conclusion, I thank you most sincerely for your courtesy and promptness and extend my appreciation to the worthy judges.

Wishing you a very successful and prosperous year, I am
Yours truly,
SISTER M. SOPHIE.

HE WON AND RECEIVED A FIVE-PASSENGER OVERLAND TOURING CAR

Lorne Hicks is a busy boy on a big farm, who won one of the finest prizes ever awarded.

Lorne entered one of the recent puzzle contests, and qualified his entry promptly by securing only five subscriptions. His entry was awarded first prize by the judges, and Lorne and his father came to the city and drove home their magnificent prize.

He wrote us the following letter in acknowledgment of his prize:

Dear Sirs: The Overland five-passenger touring car has arrived and I must say we are all greatly delighted with it. It seems a wonderful prize to win with so little effort. Have received many letters from readers of your magazine from different parts of the country, some congratulating and others asking, was it really so, that I received the Overland car.

I must say that the management of your magazine have been prompt and courteous to me throughout the contest, and I wish your management every success in the future.

Yours truly,
LORNE E. HICKS.

LITTLE GIRL WINS BIG PRIZE

Dear Sir: Your letter was certainly a surprise for me. You don't know how happy I am that I was lucky enough to win the third prize, $50.00. I took it some time ago, and couldn't get any more subscriptions but two, but I am up and about now and I expect to get some more subscriptions as soon as possible.

I think everybody should read this beautiful and great magazine. I certainly enjoy reading it.

Yours truly,
HELEN BENESCH.

WON $25.00 CASH PRIZE

Puyallup, Wash., Jan. 9, 1922.

The Statesman Publishing Co.,
215-217 South Commercial Street, Salem, Ore.

Dear Sirs:

I acknowledge with thanks your letter of the 4th, inclosing check for $25.00. I also wish to thank you for your kind consideration, and promptness in answering my letters concerning the contest. You are to be congratulated on your fairness in judging and awarding the prizes.

I wish to say that this was the easiest $25.00 that I ever earned; at first I just did it for fun, but after receiving your encouraging letter, I got busy in earnest. I never did believe in puzzles, I thought they were all fakes, and I still firmly believe that The Statesman Publishing Company is the only fair company concerning puzzles.

I was very happy to receive the money. It was like a real gift from Santa. I bought my sister a nice new satin dress she had wanted for a long time. The Statesman made me happy so I thought it only fair to make someone else happy. If the way to real success is in making others happy, your company should be very successful the coming year of 1922. I wish to remain your ever grateful friend, and again thanking you for the prize.

Yours very truly,
(MISS) PEGGY DICK.

Mr. Hugh A. Ross won the Ford Touring Car given as first prize in our contest, but at his request we sent him $500.00 cash in its place. Read what he says:

Gentlemen: I am in receipt today of your check for the cash prize you have so kindly given me in place of the Ford touring car, which I won as first prize in your recent contest.

The cash is made doubly acceptable by the promptness with which you have sent it, and you are to be congratulated on the courteous, fair, and efficient way in which you have conducted your contest. I have entered a great many contests, but never expected to win such a prize as this.

I would like to acknowledge my appreciation of the very evident fairness to contestants with which you conducted this contest, and trust you will realize sufficiently in advertising and circulation of your excellent magazine to repay your outlay in furnishing a very interesting and entertaining pastime for your numerous readers.

If anyone refers to me, I will surely recommend them to enter every contest as every one doing so is certainly repaid a hundred times over for his trouble.

Yours truly,
HUGH A. ROSS.

NOTE: Mr. Ross secured only four subscriptions in qualifying his entry.

AN EASY WAY TO WIN A CHEVROLET CAR

You may win two first prizes totalling $700.00 cash—if you try.

The total value of the two first prizes ($700.00) exceeds the value of a new Chevrolet car.

In this way you have an opportunity to secure a new 1922 Chevrolet with very little effort.

WINNER OF CHEVROLET CAR IN GREAT CONTEST

I am pleased beyond measure to acknowledge receipt of your wire of the 5th inst., informing me that I was the successful winner of the first prize in the great Puzzle Contest. It would be impossible, gentlemen, for you to visualize my complete happiness in the receipt of such glad tidings, sufficient to say that I was absolutely dumbfounded with joy. Please convey to your judges my sincere appreciation and thanks for the great honor which they have bestowed upon my work.

In regard to the magazine, I consider it an excellent publication. In fact, for its cost, I think it excels anything of its kind published. It seems to improve with every issue. Be assured that I shall do all that is possible in the way of increasing its popularity in this city.

I only hope that my great success in this contest will be an inspiration as well as an inducement to others to try their luck. To such that may seem so inclined I would say, keep hammering; if you fall in one—try the next. Keep at it. Patience and perseverance overcomes many obstacles. As to getting subscriptions, get some sample copies and distribute them amongst your friends. The rest is easy. In other words, soliciting subscriptions becomes a pleasure instead of a task. Follow advice as I have done, and success as it has mine, will crown your effort. Before closing, I wish to thank you for your courtesy and hoping to hear from you at the earliest possible date.

VINCENT HOWELL.

W. F. Geddes won the Ford car given in our 1914 contest. He promptly received our check for $550.00. He writes:

Your letter in regard to first prize which I won in 1914 is to hand. I received the check for $550.00 on the exact date as promised, and the money I received has afforded me no little pleasure, besides helping me to defray my expenses at this college. I am now in the Agricultural department for the summer months. I shall be very pleased to answer any letters from your contestants which I receive regarding the winning of first prize.

W. F. GEDDES.
