BEARCATS DEFEAT NEVADA VISITORS; HIGH BEATS FROSH

Some of the wise guys who had figured that the Willamette Bearcats hadn't a very good chance against Nevada last night, hit exactly different, for they had a sure thing. Nevada was the fairest match in weight that the Willamette team has had this season and the result, 30 to 22, tells what they can do in a fair match.

Every Bearcat player scored at least one field goal during the first half, which stood 16 to 11 in favor of the locals. The field work of the Bearcats never showed to better advantage than last night. They so far outplayed their opponents in getting the ball up to the shooting point, that the Nevadans frequently looked as if they were chained to a freight car or Mount Hood.

Bradshaw of Nevada was the star center for the evening, he having five field goals and one free throw to his credit, one goal better than Gillette, the high man on the Bearcat team. Bradshaw certainly lived up to all the reputation that preceded him. He is a compact, wonderfully muscular bit of dynamite, and until they got to watching him in the second half, he was making a lot of scores. In the second half, the locals fairly smothered him. However, he is hardly a more valuable man than Patton, who, though he made only one field goal, was a bright particular star in getting the ball down for someone else to shoot. His dodging, catching and dribbling were as brilliant as anything the football star Bradshaw could do.

The shooting jinx was still against the Willamette team. They missed enough good shots to have made the score look like a national census. They so far outplayed the visitors, man for man, that it looked like a slaughter. Doney and Gillette, and Logan, and Dimick, all played at top form. Not having to fight against overwhelming odds, the Bearcats played speed shone at its very dazling best. The exceptionally even scoring of the whole local team, tells fairly well of how evenly they fought.

During the first half no substitutions were made and no time was taken out for any purpose. The teams played at top speed without a second's stop. In the second half, Logan got his ankle hurt, and took a little time out, and later, Sociofsky went in for him to finish the game. Nevada made only one substitution, in the second half, when Marino, who replaced Harrison who hadn't even seen the basket went in and made two fine long goals that brought the crowd to its feet with a yell.

It has been pretty hard luck for the Nevada players, who last year won the wonder team of the southwest, and this year have lost every chance they had against the three Oregon teams—Oregon university, O. A. C. and Willamette. They have been out ten days, and have played eight games—and have lost all they tried in the "Yellow Jacket" state. But they still play their best, and play clean, and here's to 'em!

Referee Ralph Coleman officiated. They tried different ones, and have both won and lost under Coleman's control, but his fast and accurate work, whatever the verdict, has made him the outstanding favorite of all the officers who have served here in Salem.

The team line-ups were: Willamette—Gillette (9), Patton (2), Doney (4), Dimick (8), Logan (5), Sociofsky (2), Nevada—Marino (2), Foster (2), Egan (2), Bradshaw (12), Harrison, Marino (4). Introducing the main game, the Lebanon high school that was quarantined because of diphtheria beat the Willamette frosh team 21 to 13. Harold Sociofsky, who went in for Brown in the second half, was the star point man for the high school, making two field goals and five straight free throws. Reinhart came close to goals.

Ashby made two field goals and two free throws for the frosh and Emmel made two goals in the first half. The high school as fortunate in getting the breaks on fouls, and in converting them with mechanical accuracy, but it so earned what it made in straight scoring by superior team work and accurate passing. Patterson and Lillegren were especial stars at running the ball down the field, though neither had great luck at the baskets. The team clearly has the foundation for some star playing if the boys should go on to college age and training. Two of the frosh team, Baggett and Ashby, were of last year's high school team.

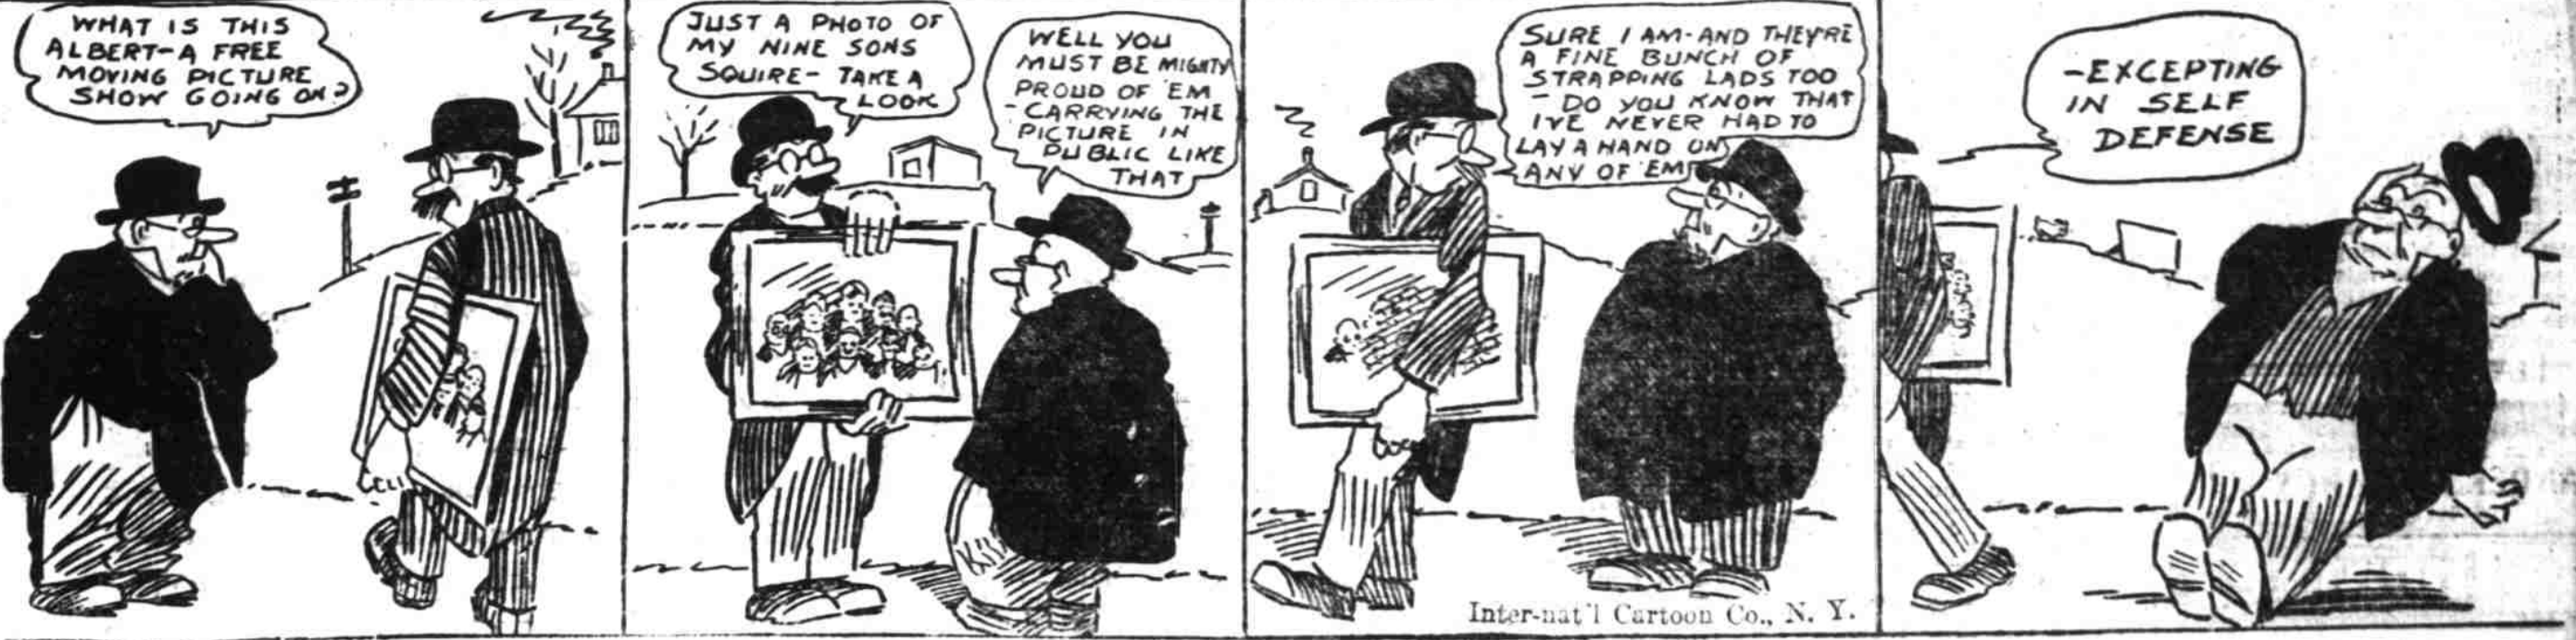

Perhaps the most interesting feature of the game was the fast footwork of Emmel for the frosh. He is said to be the quickest man on foot that has played in Salem this year. This is his first year in basketball. The accuracy of Sociofsky in locating the baskets was the outstanding feature of the high school team, though the lanky center, Harold, was in a class by himself in reach. Walde Zeller of Willamette was referee for the game.

The players were: Frosh—Noy, McKinney, Ashby, Baggett, Emmel. Salem high—Brown, Reinhart, Lennon, Patterson, Lillegren. Substitutions—Frosh: Moorhead for McKinney, once in each half; Vinson for Baggett. Salem high—Okeiberger for Lennon, Lennon for Brown, Sociofsky for Lennon, Harold for Okeiberger, Okeiberger for Harold. Scoring—Frosh: Ashby 5, Moorhead 2, Emmel 4, McKinney 2. Salem high—Lennon 2, Reinhart 6, Sociofsky 9, Patterson 2, Lillegren 2. Salem and Albany Fives To Battle Friday Night The first battle between the Salem and Albany high school quinquets is scheduled for Friday night when the Salem hoopers will invade the Lane county city in search of another victory within the district. The local lads are lining up much better now and apparently the morale of both teams at the moment is stiffening noticeably. The five are working out well and are fast acquiring the fight which may pull them through to the tournament despite a rather delayed start at the first of the season. It is probable that the usual lineup will be used against the Albany squad consisting of Sociofsky and Rucker, forwards; Lenon, center; Patterson and Lillegren, guards. Y. M. C. A. Teams Are Defeated in Portland The Salem Y. M. C. A. athletic teams did not fare well in their games in Portland last night with the teams of the Multnomah Athletic club. The Yellow Jackets were defeated in basketball by the Multnomah team by a score of 23 to 23, and in volleyball the Multnomah club teams won six straight games from the Salem players. Chemawa and Pacific College Will Clash Chemawa is to meet Pacific college at Newberg in the last basketball game of the Indian season Friday night. The Braves are going in for basketball already, and are also expecting to go strong on the running and track athletics in the two big meets of the spring, the relay races at Eugene and the general track meet at Willamette. APOLLO CLUB AGAIN PLEASES AUDIENCE (Continued from page 1) This wonderful classic, Miss Bruce Patnam, a member of the Salem Symphony orchestra, was introduced as the "behind-the-scenes" soloist of the avil. Other popular numbers were "Croon, Croon, Underneath the Moon," Clutsum, and "Robin Adair" after the arrangement by Dudley Buck. The "Laughing Song" ABT was a "mishmash" of the club repeating the number.

DISPARITY IN WEIGHTS MARS CHEMAWA WRESTLING MATCHES

Oregon City high school came up to Chemawa Wednesday afternoon for a mat meet that was announced to comprise nine wrestling bouts and two boxing bouts. They didn't all come off according to schedule because of some disagreements as to weights, but those that were staged were such as would please any devotee of the mat game.

Two of the bouts were unfinished, the first being the baby-gnat weight class. The Oregon City lad weighed only 75 pounds. He was matched against an Indian boy several pounds his superior in weight, and older also. The Indian had not much science, but he easily mastered the visitor. Because of the disparity in weights, no second round was called. Properly, it would be declared forfeited to Chemawa.

Charles Evans, Chemawa and Allen of Oregon City, tried one round. Evans clearly outweighed his opponent, and threw him in Allen of Oregon City, tried one round affair, as they did not again appear. Evans was then matched with Ivan Ginter, a clever lad from the visiting squad who won in two straight falls.

Wilford Evans of Chemawa secured one draw, and then lost one fall to Reggie Russell of Oregon City, because Russell was clearly the aggressor though not the better. This was still an unfinished match and the net result would be a draw.

Jackson of Chemawa, one of the biggest 141-pounders who ever stepped onto the mat, got an arm hold on Londergan of Oregon City, that made the visitor call "enough," and forfeit the match. Jackson, like all the Chemawa boys, fairly outclassed his opponent in strength, though he actually weighed two pounds the less.

Pettellis of Chemawa lost two falls to Newton of Oregon City after a wonderful battle that taxed the clever visitor to his utmost. One or two classes were claimed as forfeited to Oregon a dual track meet to be held at Salem. With the present material and the few lettermen a good team can be built up for next year.

BOBBY HARPER BEATS WELLING

Seattle Lightweight Wins Ten-Round Decision Over Chicago Boy

PORTLAND, Or., Feb. 22.—Bobby Harper, Seattle lightweight won a 10-round decision over Joe Welling of Chicago here tonight.

Up until the ninth round the battle was a draw with both fighters doing some exceptional work. Both were past masters at the art of infighting and the telling, work piled up by each in the clinches was about a toss up. Neither was in a bad way at any time. Harper opened up a cut over Welling's left eye in eighth round that bothered the eastern scrapper. Harper weighed 139 pounds while Welling scaled 137. The preliminaries resulted as follows: Mike We Pinto and Ad Mackie, Portland featherweights, six-round draw; Eddie Gorman, of Oakland and George Burns of Portland, 133 pounds, six round draw; Neal Campbell of Portland, middleweight, won in four rounds over Tommy McCarthy of Portland.
