

Ministers Listen to Address on Near East

In an address given at the monthly meeting of the Salem Ministerial Association yesterday John H. Scott, local chairman of the association for Near East relief, gave instances portraying the dire need faced by Armenian and Syrian peasants.

Phases of the work will be explained by speakers who appear at local churches Sunday. John Handsaker, state chairman of the Near East relief association, will speaking at the First Methodist church Sunday morning. D. E. Norcross will be the association's representative at the morning services at the First Christian church Sunday.

Organization for near East relief collecting will be carried on during the next week. Three members from each Salem church will be elected for attendance at a county assembly to be held in the near future.

During the Monday morning session of the ministerial association, Rev. J. J. Evans, pastor of the First Christian church, read a paper entitled, "Preachers' Use of Current Events." Much interesting material was furnished by Rev. Mr. Evans, and he has been asked to give the same subject attention at a large assemblage, it is stated.

Bad Blood Bad Health

First, the well-known cause. Second, the sure result. It is equally sure that if you purify your blood with Hood's Sarsaparilla, the standard blood purifier and tonic medicine, good health, appetite and strength will follow as night follows day.

Hood's Sarsaparilla gives relief in such troubles as blood humors, scrofula, eczema, boils, pimples, and other eruptions; acid blood, which causes the pains and aches of rheumatism or lumbago; nervous twinges and catarrh; weak blood, that tired feeling, loss of appetite and run-down conditions. Heed these warnings before you decline to the condition of chronic illness. Get Hood's today. Some of the in your family needs it now. War tax removed, price reduced. For a mild laxative, Hood's Pills.

Domestic Art Exhibit to Be Shown at Independence

Miss Yenley, the domestic art instructor in the Independence high school will give an exhibit on Wednesday, March 8, at Eddy & Carbury's store. The exhibit will consist of wool dresses made by the advanced sewing class and the spring hats made by the millinery class.

This is the first class in millinery that the high school has ever had, and it has proved to be a very popular course. The girls are taking an active interest in their hat making and will have some smart spring styles ready for the display.

PARTISAN ROW IS DIVERSION

Aswell Accuses Mondell of Assaulting Agricultural Appropriations

COMMENTS RESENTED

Tincher Adds Fuel to Flame When He Rises to Defense of Leader

WASHINGTON, March 7.—Charging that Representative Mondell of Wyoming, the Republican leader, had "assaulted" the agriculture appropriation bill, Representative Aswell, Democrat, Louisiana, started a partisan discussion in the house today which for some time raged about the leader, who is a candidate for senatorial nomination.

As a member of the committee which framed the bill Mr. Aswell said he resented the appearance before it of Mr. Mondell and the latter's comment on certain of the measure's provisions. He said the leader of the American congress had done more for the agricultural interests than Mr. Mondell.

Defending the Republican leader, Representative Tincher, Republican leader, Kansas, declared the Democratic purpose was to get the "Aswell speech to Wyoming for use in the senatorial campaign."

"But it was disgraceful if never will be sent there," Mr. Tincher added. "No man in the history of the American congress has done more for the agricultural interests than Mr. Mondell."

Deviations From Truth. Charged Mr. Aswell, discussing the recent speech of Representative Fess, Ohio, chairman of the Republican congressional committee, reviewing the first year's record of the Harding administration, said:

"Like Mr. Fess, I am a schoolmaster myself, but he has been here so long, playing cheap politics, that he has strayed from the tenets of the school master which puts truth above everything else."

Representative Begg, Republican, Ohio, challenged the Louisiana member to show wherein Mr. Fess had stated what was not true.

Hold-up Charged. "You hold up much to this house," Mr. Begg asserted, "and if you do not improve it everyone will know you do not mean what you say."

Mr. Aswell charged that Mr. Mondell had opposed a plan to stabilize farm product prices, was unwilling to help farmers, but was ready to help the railroads, "and the shipping interests by granting them a subsidy."

Connolly Makes Reply. Answering the speech of Representative Fess, Representative Connolly, Representative, Texas, said the former had neglected to point out that the Republican congress and administration had done nothing whatever to reduce or adjust freight rates that are admittedly too high and oppressive.

STEINER TALKS TO KIWANIAN

Superintendent of State Hospital Comments on Various Conditions

Speaking to members of the Kiwanis club yesterday noon at the Marion hotel Dr. R. E. Lee Steiner said that the first record of an insane man in Oregon was in 1808. His name happened to be Felton and that was the name used by the Indians for many years to designate an insane person.

Ten years is the average life of an inmate received at the Oregon State hospital, he said, and the cost to the state for each patient is about $20 a month.

A number of years ago, a number of Orientals were in the hospital and in cooperation with China, about 300 were returned to their native land. Foreigners are now deported to the country from which they came.

"One of the best laws recently passed," said Dr. Steiner, "was that by which anyone living in Oregon who feels a need of proper hospital treatment may be received at the state hospital and given treatment for 30 days. If conditions justify, this may be prolonged from time to time."

Dr. Steiner calls special attention to the fact that narcotics are not used once now when they were used 100 times a few years ago. He also gave great credit to the Oregon Social Hygiene society for the good work it is doing, as aiding the prevention of insanity.

By unanimous vote, the Kiwanians adopted a resolution placing the Salem club back of a proposal to bring before Oregon members of congress a request to secure an appropriation for an amount necessary to provide accommodations for 1,000 students at Chemawa. The resolution was presented by Fred A. Erixon. The club also went on record as being in sympathy with the movement to secure funds for the building of an orphan's home near Corvallis.

FAKE ADVERTISERS ARE GIVEN PUNCH

Question of Exchanging Goods Discussed by Salem Business Men

Fake advertising schemes and the various ways by which merchants are approached by traveling advertisers, were discussed at the monthly meeting held last night by the Salem Business Men's league. It developed that the league had been instrumental in stopping a number of specialty advertisers who had come to the city with the intention of taking away some easy money.

The problem of exchanging goods was also under discussion. Attention was called to the Washington law which provides that no goods shall be exchanged unless

The Statesman

Is The "Home" Newspaper

The Statesman, like all morning papers, is the paper for the home. Each morning, before six o'clock, the men of the home have an opportunity to read the latest world events before breakfast; then, with only the dull day before them, the other members of the family carefully read their morning paper—from front page news story to back page advertisement.

If the ladies plan a shopping trip it is only natural for them to look at the morning ads. to see the latest offerings of the merchants.

The morning paper has few street sales; practically every paper is delivered direct to the home or is taken there by the earliest morning mail. The evening paper has large catchpenny street sales; its buyers are people attracted by some scare head. A mere glance at this paper and it is thrown aside; but a small per cent ever reach the home.

The morning paper is the advertiser's solid medium. It is the best patronized medium because it pays best.
