PARLEY OVER BONUS ISSUE NOW PLANNED

Representative Lineberger Circulates Petition Asking Conference for Tuesday Night.

COMPROMISE MEASURE GETS MAJORITY REPORT

Much Depends on Ideas of Speaker Gillette on Arrival Home Today

WASHINGTON, March 16.—There were two developments today in the soldiers' bonus muddle. One was the filing by Chairman Fordney of the ways and means committee of the majority report on the compromise bill, which was estimated to cost the government $4,098,719,350. The other was circulation of a petition by Representative Lineberger of California, a former service man, for a conference of house Republicans for next Tuesday evening to discuss the bonus legislation.

Mr. Lineberger announced tonight that there were 60 signatures to the petition or 10 more than the number required under the rules for a conference call. He said, however, that he hoped it would not be necessary to present the petition to Representative Towner, chairman of the Republican house organization. Its representation, he added, would depend upon the outcome of the conference between house leaders and Speaker Gillette regarding procedure for the calling up of the bill on the floor.

Delay Is Feared

If there is a decision at that conference to consider the bill under a suspension of the rules, Mr. Lineberger said, the petition would be presented. There was some speculation as to whether a formal conference call would operate to delay consideration of the legislation. Chairman Fordney declared it was still his determination to bring the bill up Monday under a suspension of the rules, if that could be done, and if not to call it up Tuesday under a special rule, if such rule could be obtained.

Speaker Gillette is due to arrive tomorrow from Florida and at that time the question of whether the bill will be taken up Monday probably will be settled. Mr. Fordney said the conference with the speaker would be in "perfect harmony," and that if Mr. Gillette held against a suspension of the rules, he would proceed with plans to bring the measure up under a special rule.

Debate May Be Limited

The chairman went on to say that it was not his desire to limit debate; that if the measure were taken up under a suspension of the rules he would ask unanimous consent for two days of discussion which would throw the final vote over until late Tuesday. Should his request be denied, debate would be limited to 40 minutes under the house rules.

The majority report on the bill was approved by all of the Republican members of the ways and means committee except two, Representatives Treadway of Massachusetts and Tilson of Colorado, who voted against the measure in committee and who were not present at the session of the majority today when the report was finally revised.

Estimate Basis Shown

The estimate in the report that the total cost of the bonus would be $4,098,719,350 was based upon the assumption that 70 per cent of the 4,458,190 veterans who would be eligible for compensation would accept adjusted service certificates; 2 1/2 per cent vocational training aid; 10 per cent farm and home aid and 7 1/2 per cent land settlement aid. The remaining 10 per cent would be paid in cash after passage of the bill under a provision requiring veterans whose adjusted compensation

DALLAS SINGERS ARE ORGANIZED

Sixty Voices Under Direction of Mrs. Parrish Prepare for Festival

With 60 voices organized under the direction of Mrs. Mary Hoham Parrish, the people of Dallas are preparing to participate in the May music festival which begins in Salem May 26. The Dallas singers organized Sunday.

Mrs. Parrish, the leader, was at one time a teacher at Monmouth and later lived in Portland. She is regarded highly as an instructor in music.

It is believed 300 or 400 voices will be trained for the festival. From Albany there will be 40; from Silverton about 75 and at least 150 from Salem.

Spokane Man Runs Amuck, Dies by His Own Hand

SPOKANE, Wash., March 16.—After walking into a local hotel late this afternoon and firing five shots at persons sitting in the lobby, injuring one, Richard Snyder, aged about 40, ran into a room of the hotel and shot himself through the head, dying instantly.

Frank John, a laborer, was hit in the left leg by one of the shots, the bullet passing between the bones but not causing a fracture. Another shot went through John's hat. The other shots went wild.

The police have been unable to determine Snyder's motive. It was declared by witnesses that he shot indiscriminately at persons in the room.

Tillamook Man is Held Not Guilty of Murder

TILLAMOOK, Ore., March 16.—William Sederberg was acquitted by a jury in the district court here today of a charge of second degree murder.

Sederberg, according to the evidence presented at the trial, shot his father-in-law, James Spencer, in the arm during a quarrel.

It was found necessary to amputate the arm and Spencer was alleged to have died from the shock.

KU KLUXERS OFFER $200 FOR CAPTURE OF SALEM PERVERT

The Ku Klux Klan of Salem last night was authorized to post a reward of $200 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the pervert who, on March 5, attacked two little girls.

Information concerning the reward was conveyed to the Statesman by telephone from Portland by R. H. Davis, King Kleagle of the Pacific Northwest domain of the Klan, who gave the authorization.

"The Salem unit of the Klan will pay this reward," stated Mr. Davis.

With the offer from Salem Klansmen, a reward of $1200 is now posted for the person or persons who give definite information in bringing the degenerate to justice. Local offices from police and sheriff's department report no progress on the case although all members have been working tirelessly in the effort to apprehend the criminal.

One little girl, aged 9 years, was subjected to an operation as a result of injuries inflicted by the pervert. Two other little girls are reported to have been injured by the pervert in attacks occurring several weeks ago. The meagre descriptions filed, indicate that the crimes were committed by the same individual.

COMMITTEE OF FARMERS WILL CAMPAIGN FOR FLAX FUNDS

At a banquet given last night at the Marion by the Marion County Realtors association, to the flax growers of Marion and Polk counties, a committee of six "dirt farmers", W. J. Denham of Turner, D. F. Eastburn of Aumsville, Charles E. Eyre of Turner, E. T. Tidd of Polk county, P. A. Thomason of Turner and George W. Eyre of Salem, were named to get cash amounting to $25,000 for financing the flax industry of the valley. They will operate in Salem first, and perhaps go outside if necessary.

They will offer preferred stock, bearing 8 per cent interest, the stock to stand for five years, and thereafter to be retired at the rate of 20 per cent a year, so that in 10 years from date the farmers who grow the flax and finance the common stock will own the whole corporation as well.

The corporation has secured an option on the old Rickreall mill plant, its ditch, water power and buildings, clear of all redemption or incumbrance, and it is proposed that if the Rickreall district will contract for a total of 700 acres this year—300 acres is already contracted there—a warehouse and a flax plant will be installed there this season. The corporation already has a chance to control the Turner plant, at a cost of $5,500, where one single machine in the mill would cost that sum. This Turner plant will care for all the flax grown in the Aumsville and Turner section, this year. The Rickreall plant will be needed for the Polk county product, if the expected acreage is secured that was promised if the plant should be built.

These two plants are only a small part of the proposed general flax organization for the valley. At least 10 similar plants,

The Statesman's call for suggestions for a new name for West Salem, in compliance with the wishes of the postoffice department, continues to bring results—in fact nearly as many additional suggestions came in yesterday and last night as had been proposed in toto previously during the week. Thirty-eight were received yesterday, making a total of 60 in all.

Keep them coming. The West Salem city council is to meet on Monday night and decide what name it likes best and wants a good, big list to select from.

Here Are the New Ones

Here are the latest suggestions, a few of which have previously been submitted by other persons: "Cherryvale" or "Fruitvale," presented by W. H. Parker, the photographer. "It occurs to us," writes Mr. Parker, "that this particular section of the Willamette valley happens to be one of the best fruit belts in the entire country. It is also a known fact (at least some of us thing so) that this is the cherry center of the entire world."

"Cherryville," presented by Rea W. Craven of Dallas. "Eola," "River-town" and "Huckestein" are all suggested by one who wishes to be known simply as Rural Resident. "Why cannot the name 'Eola' be used?" Rural Resident writes, "since West Salem is rather one of Eola's suburbs and Eola has a pioneer history not to be overlooked. Or if not that, then 'River-town,' since the place has been so named by one of Oregon's leading writers, Molly Runcorn Brunk, in a serial story she wrote for the Ladies Home Journal. Or call it 'Huckestein,' who has given mighty good service out of Salem over the rural lines. Or leave it to a vote of the public school children who delight in finding names for everything from pet cats to the stars in heaven."

"Gladola," is the choice of a writer who wants to be known as Farm Woman, who mentions the fact that the world's largest bulb farm is located near. "The word rolls smoothly from the tongue," she says, "has not been used elsewhere and calls up visions of beauty and in all ways does honor to this fair little city that nestles in the shadow of the stately hills and far along the blue Willamette where it winds its silver way."

Here's a Pretty One

DALLAS IS HIT BY FUEL FAMINE SNOW IS CAUSE

DALLAS, Or., March 16.—Special to the Statesman)—The big mill of the Willamette Valley Lumber company was forced to close down this week on account of not being able to get logs because of the great depth of snow in the mountains west of Black Rock in which the logging operations are carried on.

Last week when the mill resumed operations after a shut-down for repairs there was but little snow in the regions of the logging camps. Saturday there was more than six feet and since then there has been a snowfall every night which brings the total depth to practically eight feet. Not until this snow melts will the loggers be able to resume work and the mill will not be able to run until this time.

In the meantime the fuel situation in Dallas is becoming acute. The power plant of the Mountain States Power company takes all the slabwood and sawdust from the big mill and every available stick of wood is being saved for the company leaving the town people destitute as far as wood is concerned. Farmers who had a quantity of wood cut last year and did not have an opportunity to sell it are receiving fancy prices now.

ARBUCKLE JURY IS COMPLETED

Woman Causes Sensation While Under Examination by Attorneys

SAN FRANCISCO, March 16.—The jury in the Roscoe Arbuckle case was finally completed and sworn in at the conclusion of the court session today. The film comedian is facing a third trial on a manslaughter charge in connection with the death of Virginia Rappe, film actress. Four women are on the completed jury.

A sensation was caused in the trial late this afternoon when a prospective juror on examination, Miss May C. Sharon, stated that she had been approached regarding her convictions on the case since becoming a member of the panel.

She said that several days ago a woman representing herself as a member of the Women's Protective league had called her on the phone asking her opinion as to Arbuckle's guilt or innocence.

Her reply was as follows: "If he is guilty they are all guilty."

She explained that her questioner did not give her name, but appeared anxious to keep up the conversation volunteering the opinion that the trial of the comedian was costing the people of San Francisco a lot of money.

Attorneys for both sides interrogated Miss Sharon carefully with the apparent hope of getting a clue to the identity of the woman who had approached her, but she was unable to enlighten them further. She had no fixed opinion and was temporarily passed.

The association said the reduction is made in order that the painting business may be stimulated.

SILVERTON, Or., March 16.—(Special to The Statesman)—To arrange a year's program of work and appoint necessary committees for the Marion County Federation of Community clubs, a general committee was appointed at a county meeting of the federation here tonight.

"Will work for lower taxes, fewer commissions and less bonds," is Mr. Kay's slogan. His platform follows:

"Use my best endeavors to bring about a lowering of taxation by a reduction in millage tax measures, by eliminating unnecessary boards and commissions and combining them into as few departments as possible without impairing efficiency in the transaction of the state's business; and in all ways possible to assist in bringing about a return to normal conditions in public policies, at the same time having due regard for the increasing population and progress of our growing commonwealth."
