ST. PAUL MAN MAY ENTER RACE

Smith Reported to Want Commissionership—Goulet's Plans Unknown

Reports reach Salem that James Smith of St. Paul contemplates becoming a candidate for the Republican nomination for county commissioner at the primary election of May 19.

Whether Henry Goulet, incumbent, will be a candidate for reelection has not been ascertained definitely, but it is understood he is desirous of running. Mr. Goulet has not been in the best of health and has remained at his home at Woodburn for some time.

dividual costs, for travel, clothing, board, would be reasonably the same in all schools. However, investigation seems to show that the college corporation expenses, that either the state or a private endowment fund or some form of gifts for the college as a social asset, are only about one-half as high in Willamette as they are in the state colleges. The board can go before the people of Oregon in its endowment campaign on this platform of giving much for the least possible money.

New Gymnasium Needed

While the three big subscriptions are based on the securing and maintenance of the one sum of a million dollars for endowment, the university will almost necessarily have to ask for some more money for building, equipment, a new gymnasium, and other immediate use. The endowment interest will go for current expenses after the plant is clear, and will relieve the periodical necessity for maintenance, but there are urgent demands, such as the gymnasium, that must be met on the outside.

The stirring appeal of the student body for better physical training facilities presented at the Wednesday meeting emphasizes one of these most pressing needs. It is predicted that in addition to the million dollar endowment the university will find it advisable, or necessary, to add from $200,000 to $250,000 to its campaign, to care for the building and improvement fund.

Local Committee Named

Nothing definite was done on Wednesday on the appeal for gymnasium facilities. A local campus committee, R. A. Booth of Eugene and Paul Wallace and President Doney of Salem, will supervise some campus improvements, largely at their own discretion, as soon as they can meet and formulate plans. The platting of the whole campus, for a unified building and beautifying program, will be one of their duties.

Good for That "Flu" Cough

For quick relief from the wearing coughs that "hang on" after the grippe or influenza, take Foley's Honey and Tar. Mrs. K. D. Drake, Childs, Md., writes: "After an attack of the flu that left me with a severe cough nothing seemed to relieve me till I tried Foley's Honey and Tar, which I can highly recommend." It is also good for croup, whooping cough and colds. It puts soothing, healing coating over the inflamed surfaces, cuts the phlegm, eases hoarseness, clears the air passages. Sold everywhere.—Adv.

CROWDED DOCKET FILED FOR MARCH COURT TERM

Much indignation was invoked by Brown's act, as he is said to have opened fire on Lewis while officers were attempting to arrest him on a charge of delivering 20 gallons of moonshine. This quantity of liquor was found near the scene of the shooting.

As a result of wounds sustained, Lewis has been confined to a hospital for some time but is now able to appear in court.

The second important criminal case upon the docket is the case of the state of Oregon against William Rogers, who was indicted on a charge of assault with intent to kill. Rogers seriously wounded Patrolman W. W. Birchett on December 31, 1921, when the officer had responded to a call for

KILLING OF OGLE HELD JUSTIFIABLE

Compton, "that I believe Ogle was the most desperate man in the prison—save one, Laird. The only reason that Ogle was not as dangerous as Laird was that Ogle talked too much of his schemes. He liked to be worshipped as a hero. This was his reputation not only among the employes, but among the inmates. Dave Smith, who was with him in the Clarence hold-up, told me that if he were going to pull a big job he would rather have Ogle with him than anyone else, because he was brave, resourceful and utterly without fear. I had frequently warned the guards to be constantly on the watch over Ogle."

Davison Is Praised.

The warden paid high tribute to Davison, the guard.

"I placed three of the best guards in the institution over the bull pen," said Compton, men who would not become lax or joky with the prisoners. Davison has a fine reputation, and he has fulfilled the requirements in this respect thoroughly."

The warden declared the soil in the bull pen is full of rocks, and that such a missile could have been obtained by Ogle.

Varney and other witnesses declared it would have been possible for a desperate man to scale the wall of the men after knocking out a guard, or to have escaped through the door if hiding arrangements had been made by another prisoner as was believed to have been done by Kemp. Davison's instructions to hold the position on the wall taken by him yesterday were so that he would be in line with this door in event a convict attempted to rush it when opened by a guard.

Guard Describes Shooting.

Davison was called to the stand and described the shooting. He said that when Ogle threw the first rock he put the gun on him and told him to stand until Sherman, another guard, arrived.

"Instead," said Davison, "he turned as if to throw another rock and I shot."

Davison told of having leveled a cocked rifle at Ogle last winter after Ogle had twice crossed the dead line in the bull pen contrary to orders.

The members of the coroner's jury were E. H. Burrell, E. L. Kauphahn, W. E. Anderson, Sam Adolph, Frank Loose and Fred Kirkwood.

Verdict of Jury.

Their verdict stated that Ogle met his death by a bullet fired by Davison after Ogle, "a desper-

STAYTON SAWMILL WORKER LOST LEG IN ACCIDENT

Amputation of the left leg between the foot and the knee was necessary in an operation at Willamette sanitarium yesterday on Lambert Drik, Stayton sawmill worker, who was injured Tuesday afternoon.

Drik was hurt when a log rolled off the carrier, crushing the young man's leg so badly that the bones projected from the flesh and an artery was broken. He was rushed to the hospital here after first aid had been given.

Drik is of Russian birth and came to Oregon from Canada.

handle an enormous tonnage this year, and with its two kinds of treatment can take care of almost anything that the weather or labor conditions may force on its hands.

Ready This Season

The new annex will be ready for this season's run of fruits, even the earliest of the berries, according to present calculations. The building contract was let to C. Van Patton & Son of Salem.

No change will be made in the boiler room and power plant of the factory. Visitors may have wondered why the boiler room was so far away from the original building. It was built where it is to allow for a plant just four times the size of the first installation. This year's addition fills up one-half of the space. Two years ago things looked so good that it seemed that the whole quadruple plant might be built. It wasn't, but the double building is now in process of construction, and the company is expanding its sales so rapidly that the bigger expansion of the factory is believed to be only a question of one or two seasons at the furthest.

The company put in added receiving warehouse facilities last year, and railroad trackage, so that it will not need anything further of this kind for the present.

TED THYE TOSSES JAP WRESTLER AT PORTLAND

PORTLAND, Ore., March 22.—Ted Thye, local middleweight wrestler, defeated Tarro Miyake, claimant of the world's jiu jitsu wrestling title here tonight in a two-hour match. There was only one fall in the bout and that came after one hour and 21 minutes of grappling. Thye won the fall, pinning his opponent with a half Nelson and a leg hold.

After a ten-minute rest they came back and wrestled to the two hour time limit when the referee raised Thye's arm in a token of victory. Thye was the aggressor throughout the match.

O. V. BADLEY COMPANY BUYS INTO SALEM FIELD

The O. V. Badley company, Cleveland tractor distributors for the Portland district have purchased the interest of the W. H. Patterson company of Salem. J. E. Badley, sales manager of the O. V. Badley company for the past three years and who has been prominently identified with the merchandising of farm implements in the northwest, will take charge of the Salem territory and carry on the excellent service that the owners of this county have received from Mr. Patterson.

The offices and salesrooms of the new firm will be in the same location as the W. H. Patterson offices at 349 Ferry street.

Mr. Badley reports that the small tank type tractor field in the Willamette valley is opening up to a much greater extent than ever before, and from all indications the power farming industry will increase in the next few months as never before.

The reduction of price on the small Cletrac has made it a desirable piece of equipment for the hop, berry and general farmer.

HERMAN DEFEATS CELMARS

HOUSTON, Tex., March 22.—Tilly (Kid) Herman, Pacific coast welterweight, defeated John Celmars of Dallas, Texas, here tonight by a technical knockout in the third round of a scheduled 12-round bout.

SECOND OF SCOUT SERIES IS HELD AT Y. M. C. A.

The second of the series of eight lessons on the Scout Leaders' Training school was held at the Y. M. C. A. last night, with 39 scoutmasters and general scout workers present. The evening's program covered the mechanics of the scout organization by Scout Executive Zinser; bandage and first aid work, by Dr. E. E. Fisher; some forestry slides and fire prevention lecture, by H. J. Eberly of the state forestry department, and games, led by Harry Scott.

The next program, Wednesday night of next week, will take up the management of scouting, a full study of the organization and handling of the units, the troop and the patrol, and a beginning on the field activities of the scouts.

NEW BUSINESS ENTERPRISE IS LOCATED IN THIS CITY

Development of a new business enterprise in Salem is noted with the establishment of permanent offices of the Blaessing Granite company, of whom Roy Bohannon of 310 Hoyt street, is local manager.

A new sales room, designed on the lines of a small chapel, has recently been constructed at the City View cemetery, at a cost of several hundred dollars. A complete line of monuments and granite and marble building specialties are carried by Mr. Bohannon.

The Blaessing Granite company is known as one of the oldest concerns on the Pacific coast handling the largest stocks of monumental products. Mr. Bohannon has lived in Salem for many years following the occupation of cement construction contractor and marble worker.

KU KLUX KLAN WILL BE SUBJECT OF THEATRICALS

BAKERSFIELD, Cal., March 22.—Following announcement from the stage of a theater last night that a local theatrical company would stage next week a play called "The Ku Klux Klan," the company management was waited upon behind the scenes by two men who demanded on behalf, they said, of the Taft Klan that a private rehearsal of the play be given before representatives of the Taft Klan before the production is shown in public. The management agreed to the request.

W. A. Barner, father of six children whose wife died two weeks ago, was visited by a group of men representing themselves as "Klansmen" who left him with a box full of groceries and gave him a note on Ku Klux stationary, stating that his bills for medical attention given his wife during her illness had been paid.

CHICAGO, MARCH 22.—PHOBIA HAS INCREASED THE CONSUMPTION OF ELECTRICITY, L. E. FERGUSON, VICE PRESIDENT OF THE COMMONWEALTH EDISON COMPANY, TODAY TOLD A MEETING OF THE WESTERN SOCIETY OF ENGINEERS. ELECTRICITY, HE EXPLAINED, HAS TAKEN A BIG PART IN THE PRODUCTION OF DELICIOUS SUBSTITUTES FOR BOOZE, SUCH AS ICE CREAM AND CANDY.

WELL. MOORE DISMISSED POULSON FOR INSUBORDINATION, AND THE SCHOOL BOARD UPHOLD MOORE. POULSON APPEALED TO THE COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT AND POULSON APPEALED TO CHURCHILL. POULSON LEFT HIS POSITION, BUT SHOULD BE UPHOLD BY CHURCHILL, THE PRESUMPTION IS THAT HE WOULD SUE FOR HIS SALARY. THE STATE SUPERINTENDENT HAS THE CASE UNDER ADVISEMENT.

R. S. Hamilton appeared as attorney for the school board and Moore, N. P. Myers for the Parents' association and as a friend of the court, and Paul C. King appeared for Poulson. The parents apparently are with Poulson.

The trouble started when the students protested to the board that Rockwell was not equipped to coach athletics. Moore procured Dewey, who was in poor standing because of having allowed a basketball player to play under an assumed name in a tournament at Salem while Dewey was at Baker, and the students protested against him. He did not remain.
