

WORK IS BEGUN ON EXTENSIONS

King's Products Company Has Six Teams and Twenty Men at Work

Work on the new King's Products dehydration factory extension is progressing steadily in spite of the rain.

A dining room for the employees is to be one of the improvements of this year. Rest rooms and every facility for handling a really large crew of workers, will be provided.

The third floor on the back side of the new building, is to be a series of storage bins, dozens of them in all, that will store hundreds of tons of products.

The trucks from the dehydration tunnels will go directly to this floor, and the product will be tilted down into the bins, to be kept hermetically sealed until later in the season, when the canning and treating period is over, and they can set the whole factory to work on packing up for market.

The company has had fine success in dehydrating strawberries, so far as the mechanical process goes, but the high price of the fresh strawberries, and the expensive labor of preparing them for dehydration, has kept them out of the commercial market.

Wishes He Had Known It Sooner "I only wish I had discovered Foley's Honey and Tar 50 years ago, as I have been the victim of attacks of influenza and bad colds until I found this wonderful relief," writes W. H. Gray, 854 No-wits Pl., Venice, Cal.

Eri W. Chapman Dies At Morton, Washington

(From Morton (Wash) Mirror) Eri W. Chapman, 85 years old, died Monday at 1 o'clock at the home of his son, H. E. Chapman, in Morton.

He enlisted in the Federal army, Fourth Iowa infantry, company I, in 1861. He was discharged in 1863.

The same year he crossed the plains to Colorado, where he resided until June, 1887, when he moved to Oregon, where he remained until the death of his wife, December 23, 1907.

The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon at 12:30 o'clock at the local Methodist church and the body was shipped to Portland, Ore., for interment.

SCOUT BOYS ARE REAL PROTECTORS

Here Are a Few Things the Lads Have Been Doing Throughout Winter

The Boy Scouts of Salem have been the messengers and the collectors and in part the almoners for the Associated Charities of the city. They have put themselves at the command of the charities directors, to gather in the donations of food and clothing and whatever else may be offered, from out over the city.

Saturday, a squad of the boys presented themselves at the Scout headquarters, waiting for orders. "Now there's some stuff—out on South Seventeenth," said Scout Executive Zinner.

"Nah, that's nothing," said the Scouts, clicking their heels together and flexing of their biceps. "C'm on, let's go!" And they went, and somebody who is tired and hungry, and cold and dispirited and maybe ill, is going to have a bit of sunshine and brotherhood that will cure all these little discomforts, because the Scouts have a creed that works.

Troops 1 and 6 have rather specialized in regular helpful jobs. There is one woman in town, living alone, to whom the work of getting the firewood into the shed, and then preparing it for the stove, is a task indeed. Her pitifully small income will not keep her household expenses, as pay for wood-carrying or splitting. But she hasn't needed to worry for the Scouts have taken over her wood job, and all winter they have looked after that woodpile with religious fervor.

"A good deed a day"—Such a delightful, helpful creed!

WHO COULD RESIST THIS FAIR GOAT GETTER?

Miss Marion Mosely, who is connected with the Grenfell Mission, in Labrador, is in the United States to enlist aid for the children of that far northern country. What she wants most are goats. That's because the children up there need milk, and the goat is the only milk producer that can live in that climate. Miss Mosely also wants shoes and frocks for the Labrador youngsters.

Dr. and Mrs. O. L. Scott and family of Salem visited Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Hartman Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. E. Giger and family of Hubbard, visited Gill Giger and family Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Philipps of Silverton visited Mrs. Philipps' parents Sunday.

Mrs. Ivy Brosus passed away at the Silverton hospital Saturday, March 15, after a brief illness, at the age of 22 years. She leaves her husband and two small boys, besides two sisters, three half sisters and two half brothers.

Allan Bellinger and Guy Lyron were Silverton visitors Friday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hettwel and small son of Mt. Angel, visited relatives at Crooked Finger, Sunday.

H. K. Platt returned home on Thursday from several days visit in Portland.

J. P. Shutt, who has been working in southern Oregon, has returned home.

I. Dunnigan, who has been visiting his sister, Mrs. George Haynes for several weeks, returned to his home in Eastern Oregon Wednesday.

THE DEHYDRATION CAPITAL SECURE

Improvements at King Plant Larger and More Important Than Announced

The enlargement of the Salem dehydration plant will take a much wider scope than the announcement of the building permit, a few days ago, indicated.

There will be added this year to the already immense plant here nearly 90,000 more square feet of manufacturing space, and the dehydration "tunnels" in the largest plant will have a capacity of 104 carloads at one time.

Salem will continue to be the dehydration capital of the world, a distinction often claimed for it by The Statesman.

And a cannery too. The additions will include a complete canning unit, to put up canned vegetables and fruit to go out to the markets of the world under the now widely advertised and increasingly popular King label.

The Statesman is promised a complete new story concerning these most important improvements to be made here this year, and this will appear in the next few days.

HE STARTED SOMETHING.

When Capt. Godfrey Rodrigues of the Dutch army, internationally known as a long distance walker, arrived in the United States the first thing that he did was to start a hiking club. He started one in Cincinnati at the request of the Board of Health. Then he started them in several cities throughout the country.

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

Darkens Beautifully and Restores Its Natural Color and Lustre at Once

Common garden sage, brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, a large bottle, at little cost, at drug stores, known as "Wyoth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyoth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant, and you appear years younger.—Adv.

USE SULPHUR TO HEAL YOUR SKIN

Broken Out Skin and Itching Eczema Helped Overnight

For unsightly skin eruptions, rash or blotches on face, neck, arms or body, you do not have to wait for relief from torture or embarrassment, declares a noted skin specialist. Apply a little Mentho-Sulphur and improvement shows next day.

Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation. The moment you apply it healing begins. Only those who have had unsightly skin troubles can know the delight this Mentho-Sulphur brings. Even fiery, itching eczema is dried right up.

Get a small jar from any good druggist and use it like cold cream.—Adv.
