

COMPENSATION IS ALLOWED WOMAN

Supreme Court Holds That Husband of Mrs. Farrin Was Employed Man

The supreme court yesterday held that Mrs. Viroqua Farrin of Multnomah county is entitled to receive adjusted compensation from the state industrial accident commission because of the accidental death of her husband while in the employ of Parmele & Son in Lincoln county.

Mrs. Farrin filed a claim with the commission on behalf of herself and infant child. This was contested by the state commission on grounds that Farrin was not in the employ of the company at the time he was killed by an explosion. A jury in the lower court found that he was in the company's employ, and this is upheld by the supreme court in an opinion written by Justice Brown.

Other opinions were:
D. O. Tracy vs. Simon Juanto, appellant; appeal from Lake county; action to recover damages for alleged trespass. Opinion by Justice Rand. Judge J. M. Batchelder affirmed.

D. G. Lebb, appellant, vs. Orlando S. Peabody; appeal from Multnomah county; appeal from judgment in action to replevin automobile. Opinion by Justice Harris. Judge J. P. Kavanaugh affirmed and case modified.

George E. Larson vs. Sarah Larson, appellant; suit for divorce. Opinion by Chief Justice Burnett. Judge J. U. Campbell reversed and case dismissed.

J. A. Vanderflute, appellant, vs.

Portland Railway Light and Power company, respondent and George Wiener, defendant; appeal from Multnomah county; suit to recover damages for personal injury. Opinion by Chief Justice Burnett. Judge W. N. Gatens affirmed.

State vs. Ingersoll dismissed.
Edwin W. Kirkpatrick of Portland admitted to bar on probation on Iowa certificate.

Dr. F. L. Utter Files His Candidacy for Mayor

Dr. F. L. Utter, one of Salem's three candidates for mayor, Saturday filed his platform and official declaration with City Recorder Earl Race. Dr. Utter is the last of the three to file. The other two candidates are John B. Giesey and H. H. Vandevort.

Dr. Utter's platform follows:
"If I am nominated and elected, I will, during my term of office, demand efficiency, economy, cooperation, in all city departments. My sole object will be to serve the best interest of the people by seeing that all city departments function and that the cost of city government is reduced to a minimum. I do not favor granting further concessions to the Salem Street Railyway company, the result of which will be to shift additional expense upon the taxpayers of this city, as well as to jeopardize the franchise rights which now exist. I shall stand for law enforcement, asking cooperation of the police department, pledging in return my loyal support to them."

As a slogan after his name Dr. Utter will use the words, "No interests but the peoples interests."

Don't Disregard a Cold

Foley's Honey and Tar will check a cold if taken in time, and will also stop a cough of long standing. It promptly gives relief, soothes and heals. Mrs. Geneva Robinson, 88 N. Swan St., Albany, N. Y., writes: "Foley's Honey and Tar is the best cough medicine I ever used. Two bottles broke a most stubborn, lingering cough." It loosens phlegm and mucus, eases hoarseness, stops tickling throat, helps "flu" and grip coughs. Sold everywhere.—Adv.

Broccoli Harvesting to Begin in Valley This Week

Broccoli harvesting is beginning in the Willamette valley this week. It is reported that the quality is excellent but the size of the heads is somewhat smaller than last year. The cold weather has held the crop back, delaying harvest more than a month later than last year.

That broccoli cannot be grown well on low soil has been proved by this past season. Practically all of the crop on the low land was far more severely injured than that on the up land.

All of the second grade broccoli is to be canned by the Oregon Growers Cooperative association, which will probably net the grower considerably more than by selling on the open market.

FIRE INSURANCE SHOWS DECREASE

Smaller Amount in Premiums Paid in 1921, Barber's Report Shows

A general decrease in the business of stock fire insurance companies in Oregon during 1921 as compared with 1920 is shown in the annual report of A. C. Barber, state insurance commissioner.

The total amount in premiums of the stock fire insurance companies for 1921 was $6,800,564. Losses aggregated $3,729,233 and the loss ratio was 54.8 per cent. The decrease in premiums for 1921 as compared with the previous year was $2,921,724 and the increase in losses was $471,051.

The decrease in fees returned to the state amounted to $33,944. In 1920 the fee returns from the stock fire insurance companies amounted to $106,544, and in 1921 the amount was $72,603.

In 1921 the total in premiums of all miscellaneous companies was $2,680,433 and losses were $,055,329. Comparisons with the previous year have not yet been made.

Dearest Darling Didn't Get Miss Mabel's Letter

There is some good friend who will not know what a "glorious trip" his Mabel has been having, unless he locates the lady herself or finds the postal she wrote and failed to address before she dropped it into the Salem postoffice. The card is waiting for someone to claim it.

There is a whole sheaf of postcards there waiting identification. It isn't at all strange that most people who write of their lives and their lovers and their other intimate family affairs, on postcards, should address the "dear Daddy," or "dearest Darling," or "Old Kid," or some such impersonal name that the whole world that stops to read all the postcards, wouldn't quite recognize.

There are so many daddies, so many dearest darlins, so many o' kids, that if the rest of the name isn't on the address side of the card, even the omnipotent postmaster can't be exactly sure which one a certain card should go to.

For instance, there are close to 4,000 daddies and 4,000 dear mothers tributary to Salem, and even more than that many o' kids. The postoffice department provides no fund to decide just which one has a friend of a family named Bill or Myrt or Dad.

The camouflage of the first names, camouflage the signatures also—and many a ream of postal cards is love's labor utterly lost. Anyone who thinks that Dad or Bill or Mary is pretty stingy in answering may learn why from the unclaimed letter piles in the Salem office.

Willamette Continues Secretarial Training

Because of the great demand for trained Y. M. C. A. secretaries, Willamette university will continue this year the course offered during 1921-22 in association secretarial training. The work is done through the supervision of Claude A. Kelle, of the Salem Y. M. C. A., and is a very comprehensive, complete course in the psychology and the handling of youth. Splendid practice is given in the volunteer service at the local Y, where all the young men of this year's class have put in much time.

Recently the Portland Y sent a trusted agent down to Secretary Kelle to get a line on two good workers from the Willamette class. It is quite probable that two of these young men will go to the Portland organization, after the close of school; at least, they have the opportunity, and

MRS. REYNOLDS PASSES BEYOND

Pioneer Oregon Woman Succumbed at Home North of Salem Tuesday

Mrs. Sallie A. Reynolds, widow of Dr. J. Reynolds, died at her home north of Salem at 7:29 Tuesday morning, April 4, at the age of 84 years. Her death followed a very brief illness of angina pectoris.

Mrs. Reynolds was the daughter of John M. and Della A. Tuedell and was born near Beverly, Ohio, December 18, 1837. She was married April 12, 1859, to Dr. John Reynolds of Beverly, Ohio, with whom she came from Ohio to Oregon in 1874, and from that time until her death resided at Salem, where Dr. Reynolds was in active practice of medicine until a few years before his death which occurred in June, 1919.

For the past few years the family home has been on the fruit farm north of Salem. Mrs. Reynolds' life was always a quiet homekeeping one, devoted to her husband and children. She was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church, and was loved and respected by all who knew her.

Mrs. Reynolds is survived by two sons and two daughters: Lloyd T. Reynolds, Miss Myrr N. Reynolds, and Mrs. J. O. Goitra of Salem, Or., and John W. Reynolds of Portland.

They have been in training for this service, so the chance is right at their doors. The demand for good men, at good salaries and with flattering opportunities for helpfulness in building better citizenship, are such that it is believed that a much larger class will take up the secretarial training next year than did for 1921. The Willamette course is open only for members of the senior class.
