

CITY NEWS IN BRIEF

Crossing Allowed.
The public service commission in an order issued yesterday, written by Commissioner H. H. Corey, grants to Morrow county authority to construct a grade crossing over the tracks of the Oregon-Washington R. allroad & Navigation company near the town of Boulder. The crossing will afford an exit from that territory for hay transported by vehicle to eastern Washington towns. The county proposes to construct a road leading from the ferry landing on the north side of the railway tracks across the tracks to connect with the Columbia River highway on the south side of the track.

Big Egg Show.
C. A. Warner, living on route 5, Salem, brings in to The Statesman a Black Minorca pullet egg measuring eight inches in circumference the long way, and 6 1/2 inches the other. It weighs just a shade less than four ounces. There may be other hen's eggs as big, or even bigger, but they do not come to mind.

Don't Disregard a Cold
Foley's Honey-and Tar will check a cold if taken in time, and will also stop a cough of long standing. It promptly gives relief, soothes and heals. Mrs. Geneva Robinson, 38 N. Swan St., Albany, N. Y., writes: "Foley's Honey and Tar is the best cough medicine I ever used. Two bottles broke a most stubborn, lingering cough." It loosens phlegm and mucus, eases hoarseness, stops tickling throat, helps "flu" and grip coughs. Sold everywhere.—Adv.

"The Man's Shop" Will Have Its Opening Today

"The Man's Shop", the old Kaffoury men's furnishing store on State street, now owned by William Zosel and Ellis Cooley, is to hold its formal opening today. The store has been completely remodeled. The firm has put in one of the finest display fronts in Salem, and throughout it has been made into a delightful, modern place to shop. Special music is to be offered today as one part of the reception. The store has never closed its doors, evening during the remodeling, but now the proprietors feel that they are ready to invite their friends in to see them, in a store that really approaches their own ideals of what a store should be in a good business city like Salem.

THE CANDIDACY OF FANNIE KAY BISHOP

It is Heartily Commended by Men and Women Signing Public Statement

We respectfully commend to the voters of Marion county, Or., for nomination as one of their four representatives, Mrs. Fannie Kay Bishop, daughter of the late Thomas Kay, one of the most highly respected of Marion county's pioneer families, and the wife of Hon. Charles P. Bishop, who served Marion county as state senator in former years, and now one of her most enterprising and conservative business men.

Mrs. Bishop is first of all a faithful wife and mother and if elected to the position of representative in the state legislature she would be ever mindful of the effects of proposed legislation upon the home and the youth of the state and would firmly and efficiently battle for the highest and best interests of her constituency, from a moral and domestic standpoint. She has long taken an active and influential part in party, social, civic and public affairs, and has established a reputation for persistency, firmness, discernment and high standards that commands her to the thoughtful and substantial element among the voters. She is possessed of a keen analytical mind, has a large experience, a wide acquaintance, is courteous and yet fearless when confident of the right, resourceful, industrious and direct. She is the kind of a representative who would support legislation only for the reason that it appealed to her judgment as best for the constituency she represents, and would honestly and energetically oppose legislation that did not commend itself as being for the public welfare.

Mrs. Bishop's slogan: "I will make an honest effort to relieve the overburdened taxpayer," sounds the clarion call to all who believe that taxes have grown into excessive and burdensome levies, and all who believe in this statement should rally to the support of Mrs. Bishop. She is thoroughly familiar with the weaknesses of the present system that has caused these burdens, is an uncompromising foe of extravagance in public expenditures, favors the abolition of useless commissions and a practical consolidation of the administrative branches of the state government and is insistent that special funds should be used only for the purposes for which they were created and that no purpose no longer maintained, that the fund be discontinued and tax levies decreased accordingly.

FEW PEOPLE KNOW HOW TO RELAX

Few people know how to relax. The first essential is that you get the weight off the spine. Lie down on your back, stretch the arms one after another, then reach as far downward with the toes as possible. Then let go with a sigh.

When there is pressure on spinal nerves at any point along the spinal column with its many nerve openings, there is an irritation which prevents relaxation—the complete restful relaxation of sleep. Such pressure causes disease. It is the work of the chiropractor by chiropractic spinal adjustments to remove such causes of disease.

Chiropractic spinal adjustments remove the cause of diseases of the head, throat, lungs, heart, stomach, liver, pancreas, spleen, bowels and the lower organs.
