

NEW RULE WILL HELP CARRIERS

Patrons Who Want Letters Taken on Reverse Trip Must Have Two Boxes

Following a complaint sent in through Postmaster August Huckestein of the Salem postoffice, a new ruling has just been promulgated through the general postoffice in Washington, that rural patrons may need to heed.

It has been a custom on routes where there is a necessary "retrace" of the same main good road for the carrier to get back to town, for patrons to get their mail on the outward trip, have time to read and answer it, and then deposit the letter in the box in time for the carrier to get on his way back. All the boxes are supposed to be on the right side of the road, so that the driver can conform to the law of the road as to his driving and stopping. But where a box is on the wrong side coming back to town, and where the carrier crosses back to the same box to get a dropped letter as indicated by the box flag, he has to violate the Oregon road laws.

One of the carriers, in crossing back to get one of these flagged letters, had a narrow escape from collision with another car. It had the legal right of way, and he was a legal criminal, even in serving Uncle Sam; for the law considers the mail carrier on federal duty only as it does any private citizen. Other carriers have found themselves in danger, or where they had to take a rawhide from drivers whom their illegal crossing of the roads put in jeopardy and on the appeal of the postmaster for a ruling, the department now says that the patrons who want service both ways on a rural route, will have to have two boxes, and receive or deposit their mail so that the carrier doesn't have to take an illegal chance in crossing the road.

Postmaster Huckestein is mailing out copies of the new ruling, along all the Salem routes where there is a retrace for the carrier.

Growers' Prospects Good
Some rumors of as high as 6 cents for sour cherries, and from 4 to 4-1/2 for sweets, have been current, but are entirely without authority.

If these prices should prevail, the Oregon Growers will not fare too badly on the present fruit prospect.

BROCCOLI MEN TO MEET ON SATURDAY

The Salem Broccoli Association Will Work Hard for An Increased Acreage

C. C. Russell, president of the Salem Broccoli association, and Mr. Crissell of the Glafke Commission company have been active the past few days among the growers instructing them on the grading and packing end of the game, and while conditions are bad on account of freezing, some growers are going to make some money, and they are making arrangements for the increased acreage.

The Increased Acreage
Mr. Russell makes the following announcement and appeal:

"The Salem Broccoli association will hold a meeting next Saturday, April 22, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon at the Salem Commercial club, at which members should make a special effort to be present, as, aside from election of officers and arranging for seed, other matters of vital importance to broccoli growers will come up."

"At this meeting definite plans should be formed and adopted for the production of an increased acreage of broccoli within the field of operation of our association."

"In spite of the present disastrous and unprofitable season, caused by extraordinary severe weather conditions, we should continue the growing of broccoli in increased quantities."

A Profitable Crop
Upon a basis of average production and price covering a period of years, there is perhaps no crop which will be found to be more satisfactory or as profitable to grow. By the time we hold our meeting next Saturday, you should determine definitely who of your neighbors will plant acreage this coming season, and just how many acres, and bring such neighbors with you. You will be benefiting yourself, your neighbor and the community by lending an earnest effort to secure the planting of a substantial acreage in your immediate vicinity.

"So let us get busy and work out a definite plan for this coming season. Be at the meeting prepared to state definitely how many acres you will plant, and how many acres your neighbors will plant. Don't forget time or date, Saturday, April 22."

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE for chickens, young Toggenburg

Interested in this important dispatch from the New York Commercial, under the date of March 27:

"Reports in these columns, based on advices from California, to the effect that the Atlantic & Pacific Tea company was negotiating for the acquisition of the canneries of Hunt Brothers Packing company, were denied emphatically Saturday by President J. A. Landsberger of that company who is in New York. 'I have heard that the A. & P. are dicker with some of the northern interests,' said Mr. Landsberger, but there is absolutely no foundation for reports that we are selling or even negotiating. Our four fruit packing plants in California and our one salmon cannery in Salem, Ore., are not for sale."

The Atlantic & Pacific Tea company has a great chain of food stores scattered all over the United States, and even Salem salmon would fit well into their national bill of fare.

However, the Hunt fruit plant in Salem isn't mentioned in the article.

DIZZINESS IMPAIRS MENTAL CAPACITY

HEALTH TALK NO. 45— BY O. L. SCOTT, D. C.

UNCLE BEN SAYS:
"There is a growing sentiment among city folks, New York, that it is better to play golf than to grow up with plants in your stomach."

Without in any sense losing his mental ability to think and exercise judgment, the victim of dizziness and impaired eliminative functions, is mentally incapacitated. He has a brain but he cannot use it. He suffers a loss of time. He suffers a period of genuine misery.

Dizziness may have any one of a number of causes, but the most common cause is due to an inactive liver. Bowel wastes are retained. The victim feels dull and feverish and on rising everything is black for an instant and there is dizziness. The dizziness otherwise known as vertigo, is not so commonly suffered. Victims of vertigo are in danger of falling whenever they attempt to walk. Chiropractic spinal adjustments remove the cause of dizziness, whether it be due to retained wastes, or is the result of vertigo.

Dizziness was After Effect of the "Flu."

"After a very severe attack of influenza in 1918 I suffered severely with dizziness. After trying many methods without relief I turned to chiropractic. After the second adjustment there was a change for the better. After others I became entirely well. It is now three years since I have taken any adjustments and these three years have been spent under a heavy mental strain. I am a Methodist preacher serving a charge of seven churches." — Rev. J. C. Williams, Chiropractic Research Bureau, Statement No. 1313H.
