

PREMIER IS SURE OF SUCCESS AT SESSION

forth will deal with Russian questions because the Germans have already settled their affairs with Russia outside the conference.

Fine for Lumbago

Musterole drives pain away and brings in its place delicious, soothing comfort. Just rub it in gently.

C. & C. STORE

Free Delivery

Due to many inquiries and requests from friends and customers we have decided to make free delivery on all purchases over $2.00 inside the city of Salem.

We Invite New Customers To Investigate Our Low Prices

You will find that you can save on every purchase by buying from this store. Groceries, dry goods, men's furnishing goods, shoes, hosiery, notions, etc. Let us hear from YOU.

N. SELIG

254 North Commercial Street Phone 560

Brunswick PHONOGRAPHS AND RECORDS

MAY Brunswick Records ON SALE TODAY

- OPERATIO: 15019 Cicely—Cicely a mar (Heaven and Ocean) Act II (Ponchielli) Tenor in Italian. 15020 Trovatore—Di quella pira (Tremble, Ye Tyrants) Act III, Scene 2 (Verdi) Tenor in Italian. 15021 Chanson Indoue (Song of India) from "Sadko" (Rimsky-Korsakov) in English. 15022 Song of the Shepherd Leli—from "Shegurovitchka" (Rimsky-Korsakov) Soprano, in English. INSTRUMENTAL: 15023 Nocturne in F Sharp Major (Op. 15, No. 2) (Chopin) Pianoforte solo. 15024 Hungarian Dance No. 2 (Brahms) Ely Ney. 15025 Dons de Laitina (Dance of the Goblins) (Bazzini) Violin Solo. 15026 Hungarian Dance No. 1 (Brahms-Jochims) Violin solo. 15027 Rio Nights (Vincent-Thompson) Hawaiian Players. 15028 My Hawaiian Rainbow (Gravelle-Haring) Hawaiian Players. 15029 Evening Bell (Marsden) Violin-Flute-Harp. 15030 Sweet Longings (Elsner) Violin-Flute-Harp. CONCERT: 50011 La Partida (The Departure) (Blasco-Alvarez) Baritone, in Spanish. 50012 Zambelle (Roaming) Baritone, in Italian. 50013 My Dear, My Dear (Nelson-Treharne) Tenor. 50014 In the Moonlight (Buck-Halle) Tenor. POPULAR: 2251 High Brown Blues (Yellow-Jag) Comedienne with Orchestra. 2252 Maybe You Think You're Fooling Baby (Clarke-Violinsky) Comedienne with Orchestra. 2253 California (Friend-Comrad) Tenor. 2254 Alabamy Mammy (Pleson-Von Tiller) Tenor and Baritone. 2255 Tell Her at Twilight (Grossman-Donsdon) Baritone. 2256 Time After Time (Brennan-Ball) Tenor. FOR DANCING: 2243 Those Longing for You Blues—Fox Trot. 2244 Medley of Old Fashioned Waltzes, No. 1 ("After the Ball"—"The Bowery"—"Sweet Rosie O'Grady"—"The Sidewalk of New York"—"Annie Rooney"—"In the Good Old Summer Time"). 2245 Medley of Old Southern Melodies, No. 1—Waltz ("My Old Kentucky Home"—"Old Folks 'at Home"—"Old Black Joe"—"Massa's in de Cold Ground"—"Carry Me Back to Old Virginia"). 2246 Lonesome Hours—Fox Trot (Rosa-Friend) Orchestra arrangement by Walter Hansen. 2247 Old Fashioned Girl—Fox Trot (Al Johnson) Orchestra arrangement by Walter Hansen. 2248 On the Fox Trot—Introducing "I've Found a Bud Among the Roses"—from "The Blue Kitten" Harbach-Frindl. 2249 Jimmy, I Love You—Fox Trot. 2250 Lola Lo—Fox Trot (Smith-Wheeler-Klaphols-Lango) Selvin's Orchestra. 2251 Angel Child—Fox Trot (Price-Silver-Deva) Selvin's Orchestra. 2252 In Bluebird Land—Fox Trot (Williams-Sher) Isham Jones' Orchestra. 2253 By the Silvery Nile—Fox Trot (Yellen-Johnson) Isham Jones' Orch. 2254 Thrills—Fox Trot (West) Castlewood Marimba Band. 2255 My Carolina Rose—Fox Trot (Hall) Castlewood Marimba Band. 2256 Poor Little Me—Fox Trot (Benny Davis) Benny Krueger's Orchestra. 2257 Don't Leave Me, Mammy—Fox Trot (Sandy-Comrad) Benny Krueger's Orchestra. 2258 Virginia Blues—Fox Trot (Erdman-Meiniken) Isham Jones' Orchestra. 2259 You're Only a Baby—Fox Trot (Lyons-Keyes-Margia) Isham Jones' Orchestra.

Moore-Dunn Music Store Masonic Building High Street at State

mier, "but I would be surprised if it were not of such a character as to permit us to go on with our work of reconstructing the convulsed and devastated continent. The sub-committee on political affairs will meet tomorrow to consider the soviet reply, which is due tonight or tomorrow."

The meeting of the premier and newspaper men was then thrown open to questions, with the understanding that all should be submitted in writing. This announcement curbed the enthusiasm of some who seemed prepared to submit the British leader to a grilling cross examination. The first question was: "Why does Dr. Rathenau say you know all about the Russo-German treaty in advance?"

Canard is Assailed "I don't know whether Rathenau said that or not," came back the premier with amazing quickness. "Certainly he didn't say it to me. If he did it would have been absolutely untrue; I knew nothing about the treaty until I met my colleagues on the way to the afternoon meeting." Mr. Lloyd George emphasized that everybody was on an equal footing at Genoa, and that the Germans had a place on all the commissions which were to discuss the accord affecting Russia and all nations. To make a separate pact behind the back of their colleagues, was an act of disloyalty to independent Germans.

"We are justified in taking energetic measures," declared the premier. "The thing will have a good effect on the conference." The next question was: "Does the prime minister think that the Russo-German treaty represented a deliberate attempt to wreck the conference?" To this Mr. Lloyd George replied: "Not an Attack"

"Whatever we may think about the accord, I don't think it was negotiated with the idea of wrecking the conference." The German incident, he added, had not consumed useful time of the conference, which had to wait anyway for an answer from the soviet delegates, and he was confident they would get the answer in proper time for a discussion of the project of a pact or a guarantee that the nations of Europe solemnly bind themselves not to engage in aggressive acts against their neighbors.

The next query awoke the prime minister from his weariness. His voice now was clear and resonant and carried to every corner, where his auditors were striving not to lose a word—"what kind of people don't like the Genoa conference?"

"Quarrelsome people," he exclaimed, with an impressive gesture, "who like to keep up hatreds between nations and who rejoice at seeing conflicts arise." The next question read as if it emanated from the correspondents for the neutral countries, which have been complaining about the private negotiations among the "big four"—"Are small informal conferences justified behind the back of the conference?"

"Yes," replied the premier. "I consider such informal conferences essential to the congress. At the Washington conference which was a remarkable success, there were innumerable informal discussions between the delegates. At all conferences it is the same thing. Such talks are desirable and conducive to success."

Must Complete League "The Germans withdrew the questions, Mr. Lloyd George affirmed that in his judgment the work begun at Genoa would be taken up and pushed forward by the league of nations, asked if Germany and Russia should be members of the league, he replied instantly: "Yes. The league of nations can never do anything until all nations are members. With Russia and Germany absent, more than half the population of Europe is without representation."

"Do you believe in an absolutely favorable issue of this conference?" was the next question. "I do. I was confident before I came here and my confidence has grown despite all the differences which have arisen. I never saw a conference without difficulties. And the more I present the conference the greater are the difficulties."

"I have no hesitation in saying that this conference will end in complete restoration of harmony in Europe. It is the first time we have called all Europe together. I have a profound faith and conviction that it will end in the reconstruction of Europe."

The British premier had a great ovation as he waled out of the palace between lines of guardsmen. His final words were: "When you have other questions, let me now."

A Tell-tale Blush. I mentally resolved that I would know Rita Brown, that no sister could cleave closer to her than I would if Fate really ordained that we should make the trip south together. She should not mar gentle Lella Fairfax's happiness if I could help it, and I grimly thought I could.

"Pleasant prospect, isn't it?" Dicky queried. "Almost as pleasant as it is for me to contemplate a week's close association with that gloomy gorilla, Grantland." I laughed outright—I couldn't help it—at Dicky's characterization of the young army officer.

"Alliteration's artful aid," quoted mischievously, glancing up at him. He grinned back reluctantly. "It's hard to do justice to him," he said. "I suppose I am unreasonable, and all the other things in the calendar, but I do not like thee, Dr. Fell. The reason why I cannot tell. But this I know and know full well. I do not like thee, Dr. Fell." He drew the whole of the old quotation slowly, and I felt his eyes upon me as he did so. I struggled hard to keep myself from flushing for I knew and knew that Dicky knew "full well" why he did not like Maj. Grantland. But in spite of myself the color rose to my cheeks, and when my husband saw it his mood suddenly changed.

"Does the very thought of the dear majah make her blush?" he drawled disagreeably. "Well, I don't wonder at it! But I think your nose is going to be out of joint pretty soon, my dear. You have noticed perhaps that our dear friend Alfred has been making a great deal of the major, indeed—I am surprised that he didn't ask Hughie to be his best man instead of me—bet he would if Lella had her way, but didn't quite manage it. And you can't be there's something behind it all. Little Hughie has a cool million or two—only his bankers know how much—planted away, and you can bet Alfred and Lella, especially Lella, aren't overlooking a bet like that for sister Edith, and you needn't think it."

"I think you are exceedingly vulgar," I said coldly, for he had cut me to the quick. "Also, am wondering if your last sentence does not hold the real reason for your aversion to Maj. Grantland." (To be continued)

Several Candidates File For Polk County Offices DALLAS, Or., April 20.—(Special to The Statesman.)—The following Polk county citizens have filed during the past several weeks for offices either in this county or for state offices: I. L. Patterson of Eola for governor; D. E. Fletcher of Independence for representative; P. O. Powell of Monmouth for representative; Glen O. Holman of Dallas for representative; B. F. Jones of Newport for joint repre-

ing that this conference will end in complete restoration of harmony in Europe. It is the first time we have called all Europe together. I have a profound faith and conviction that it will end in the reconstruction of Europe."

PEOPLE ASKED TO HELP LIFT BURDENS

(Continued from page 1) earners—a reach that cannot extend one inch beyond the limit of their earnings.

Up To Manufacturer "We have tried to help bridge this gulf between the production cost of the manufactured articles and the consumer's ability to buy them by doing what we can to increase the purchasing power of the latter and it is now up to the manufacturer to do his part to bring his cost down to meet the size of the consumer's pocketbook. With the present high cost of living it would be most unjust to start his economy by forcing a reduction in the wages of his employees."

"Let the manufacturer be satisfied with a most meager return upon his investment for a while then let the employees increase their efficiency to the highest possible degree."

Retailer Must Follow "Then if the retailer will just follow the manufacturer, the great American public, now hungry for more and better things, will give employment to all and supply its demands and old prosperity will again reign throughout the land."

After Senator McCumber's address there was a dispute between Republicans and Democrats as to procedure with a result that reading of the 440-page bill was ordered. This consumed the remainder of the day and it was announced that when the senate convened tomorrow it would proceed to the consideration of the 2000 odd committee amendments.

Majority Unprepared Objecting to immediate consideration of committee amendments, Senator Simmons of North Carolina, declared the minority had not had sufficient time to prepare themselves. He said the Democrats had been working diligently and gave assurance that they will not obstruct but will do everything possible to facilitate the final determination.

HOLDING A HUSBAND

Adele Garrison's New Phase of REVELATIONS OF A WIFE CHAPTER 5

"Rita Brown going to Lella's wedding!" I exclaimed. "You're opening and shutting your mouth exactly like a fish out of water," Dicky retorted, grinning. "But I can't blame you," he added. "I rather knocked me over when Alf told me. The old boy's quite cut up about it. You know the case he had on Rita herself she queered the game herself and Lella slid in."

"Don't talk so horribly, Dicky," I protested. "Lella never lifted a finger to—" "Well! She lifted her eyes several times, for I saw her," my husband retorted. "And evidently that was enough for old Alf. By the way, why do you women always drag out that lifted finger business? How do you lift a finger, and when do—" "Never mind that now," I brushed his nonsense aside. "But tell me at once how Rita managed an invitation."

Dicky Explains. "Asked for it," Dicky's tone expressed the deepest disgust. "Came right out and said she knew after all the years the girl had lived together they would never deny her the privilege of seeing Lella married. I imagine that the girls are indebted to her for many kindnesses of the sort that can't be repaid in money, and some that have been—Rita is a generous cuss in her vulgar, flamboyant fashion, and she has always been the successful one of the three. How they ever came to share a studio I don't know, except that I guess the Fairfaxs came to New York expecting to find the glamour of Bohemianism, and Rita typified it for them."

"But anyway they evidently don't feel that they can deny her. Virginia gentle blood—southern hospitality—noblesse oblige—and all that stuff you know. So little Rita travels to the ancestral home with us all, and the devil, who is her sponsor, alone knows what mischief she'll kick up when she gets there."

"Oh, surely, she wouldn't do anything that really mattered!" I exclaimed horrified. "Depends upon what you mean by that," my husband returned. "I don't mean that she'll forbid the bans, or interrupt the marriage service, or slip poison in Lella's morning coffee, or sue Alfred for breach of promise. There will be nothing melodramatic. But that she'll let no chance slip to make things just as uncomfortable as she can—well, you don't know Rita Brown, that's all."

A Tell-tale Blush. I mentally resolved that I would know Rita Brown, that no sister could cleave closer to her than I would if Fate really ordained that we should make the trip south together. She should not mar gentle Lella Fairfax's happiness if I could help it, and I grimly thought I could.

"Pleasant prospect, isn't it?" Dicky queried. "Almost as pleasant as it is for me to contemplate a week's close association with that gloomy gorilla, Grantland." I laughed outright—I couldn't help it—at Dicky's characterization of the young army officer.

"Alliteration's artful aid," quoted mischievously, glancing up at him. He grinned back reluctantly. "It's hard to do justice to him," he said. "I suppose I am unreasonable, and all the other things in the calendar, but I do not like thee, Dr. Fell. The reason why I cannot tell. But this I know and know full well. I do not like thee, Dr. Fell." He drew the whole of the old quotation slowly, and I felt his eyes upon me as he did so. I struggled hard to keep myself from flushing for I knew and knew that Dicky knew "full well" why he did not like Maj. Grantland. But in spite of myself the color rose to my cheeks, and when my husband saw it his mood suddenly changed.

"Does the very thought of the dear majah make her blush?" he drawled disagreeably. "Well, I don't wonder at it! But I think your nose is going to be out of joint pretty soon, my dear. You have noticed perhaps that our dear friend Alfred has been making a great deal of the major, indeed—I am surprised that he didn't ask Hughie to be his best man instead of me—bet he would if Lella had her way, but didn't quite manage it. And you can't be there's something behind it all. Little Hughie has a cool million or two—only his bankers know how much—planted away, and you can bet Alfred and Lella, especially Lella, aren't overlooking a bet like that for sister Edith, and you needn't think it."

"I think you are exceedingly vulgar," I said coldly, for he had cut me to the quick. "Also, am wondering if your last sentence does not hold the real reason for your aversion to Maj. Grantland." (To be continued)

SEATTLE, April 20.—Archie Grove, 19-year-old miner, was killed today in a mine of the Pacific Coast Coal company at Black Diamond near here when he was caught in a rock slide on the eighth level, 2200 feet below the surface. The body was recovered by miners working on the same level in less than half an hour after the accident.

A former business associate of John D. Rockefeller says that in thirty years he never saw the oil magnate lose his temper—nor anything else visible to the naked eye.

Basic Products Manufacturing company, Portland; incorporators, D. A. Wentworth, J. N. Pearce, C. H. Zimmerman; capitalization, $75,000. Southern Oregon Development company, North Bend; incorporators, C. E. Conley, M. A. Olson, Charles Anderson; capitalization, $100,000. Alpha Beta Chi, Eugene; incorporators, Albia Martinson, Meril A. Boyer, Albert Niemi; assets, $500.

The Pacific Cooperative Poultry Producers of Portland yesterday filed with the state corporation department notification of an increase in capitalization from $80,000 to $160,000. The following articles of incorporation were filed:

The Pacific Cooperative Poultry Producers of Portland yesterday filed with the state corporation department notification of an increase in capitalization from $80,000 to $160,000. The following articles of incorporation were filed:

The Pacific Cooperative Poultry Producers of Portland yesterday filed with the state corporation department notification of an increase in capitalization from $80,000 to $160,000. The following articles of incorporation were filed:

The Pacific Cooperative Poultry Producers of Portland yesterday filed with the state corporation department notification of an increase in capitalization from $80,000 to $160,000. The following articles of incorporation were filed:

The Pacific Cooperative Poultry Producers of Portland yesterday filed with the state corporation department notification of an increase in capitalization from $80,000 to $160,000. The following articles of incorporation were filed:

The Pacific Cooperative Poultry Producers of Portland yesterday filed with the state corporation department notification of an increase in capitalization from $80,000 to $160,000. The following articles of incorporation were filed:

The Pacific Cooperative Poultry Producers of Portland yesterday filed with the state corporation department notification of an increase in capitalization from $80,000 to $160,000. The following articles of incorporation were filed:

The Pacific Cooperative Poultry Producers of Portland yesterday filed with the state corporation department notification of an increase in capitalization from $80,000 to $160,000. The following articles of incorporation were filed:

The Pacific Cooperative Poultry Producers of Portland yesterday filed with the state corporation department notification of an increase in capitalization from $80,000 to $160,000. The following articles of incorporation were filed:

representative of Polk and Lincoln counties; George D. Stewart of Buell for county commissioner; William Ellis of Dallas for commissioner; William Riddell of Monmouth for commissioner, and T. J. Graves of McCoy for commissioner. All these candidates are Republicans. For a while it looked as if the Democratic party would not have a candidate for office, but last Saturday Ira Mehring of Falls City announced his candidacy for county commissioner and filed on the same day

Dates Are Announced for Dallas Chautauqua

DALLAS, Ore., April 20.—(Special to The Statesman.)—The Dallas Chautauqua association, composed of guarantors from all parts of Polk county, has received word from the Ellison-White Chautauqua system that the dates have been set for holding the Dallas Chautauqua and that it will be on June 2, 29, and 30 and July 1, 2, 3 and 4. The big tent will be erected this year on the court house lawn, making it possible for people living in all parts of town to attend both morning, afternoon and evening sessions without having to walk a great distance.

Much Railway Building By Logging Companies

PORTLAND, Ore., April 20.—In the Pacific northwest states and in British Columbia 131 logging companies contemplate building a total of 397 miles of new man track and spurs this year according to current news letter of the Loyal Legion of Loggers and Lumbermen. Reviewing conditions, the news letter continues: "Log production the middle of April is estimated at 85 per cent of capacity. Because of snowstorms and continued cold some high lumber camps have set May 1 as the date to begin active logging operations."

ON FEDERAL JURY

DALLAS, Or., April 20.—(Special to The Statesman.)—But two Polk county men were drawn on the federal grand jury which convenes in Portland on Monday, April 24, they being Frank G. McLench of Spring Valley and W. D. Gilliam, a prominent farmer and stock raiser of R. F. D. No. 2, Dallas.

MINER KILLED

SEATTLE, April 20.—Archie Grove, 19-year-old miner, was killed today in a mine of the Pacific Coast Coal company at Black Diamond near here when he was caught in a rock slide on the eighth level, 2200 feet below the surface. The body was recovered by miners working on the same level in less than half an hour after the accident.

A former business associate of John D. Rockefeller says that in thirty years he never saw the oil magnate lose his temper—nor anything else visible to the naked eye.

Basic Products Manufacturing company, Portland; incorporators, D. A. Wentworth, J. N. Pearce, C. H. Zimmerman; capitalization, $75,000. Southern Oregon Development company, North Bend; incorporators, C. E. Conley, M. A. Olson, Charles Anderson; capitalization, $100,000. Alpha Beta Chi, Eugene; incorporators, Albia Martinson, Meril A. Boyer, Albert Niemi; assets, $500.

The Pacific Cooperative Poultry Producers of Portland yesterday filed with the state corporation department notification of an increase in capitalization from $80,000 to $160,000. The following articles of incorporation were filed:

The Pacific Cooperative Poultry Producers of Portland yesterday filed with the state corporation department notification of an increase in capitalization from $80,000 to $160,000. The following articles of incorporation were filed:

The Pacific Cooperative Poultry Producers of Portland yesterday filed with the state corporation department notification of an increase in capitalization from $80,000 to $160,000. The following articles of incorporation were filed:

The Pacific Cooperative Poultry Producers of Portland yesterday filed with the state corporation department notification of an increase in capitalization from $80,000 to $160,000. The following articles of incorporation were filed:

The Pacific Cooperative Poultry Producers of Portland yesterday filed with the state corporation department notification of an increase in capitalization from $80,000 to $160,000. The following articles of incorporation were filed:

The Pacific Cooperative Poultry Producers of Portland yesterday filed with the state corporation department notification of an increase in capitalization from $80,000 to $160,000. The following articles of incorporation were filed:

The Pacific Cooperative Poultry Producers of Portland yesterday filed with the state corporation department notification of an increase in capitalization from $80,000 to $160,000. The following articles of incorporation were filed:

Delicious! Appetizing! KRAFT CHEESE IN TINS IN LOAVES ASK YOUR GROCER

Build—We'll Help You With a Complete Line of Builder's Hardware You'll soon find, as many other Salem people now our regular customers have already found, that you can always do better here. Our stock of builder's hardware is complete. We carry only reliable makes, and we are able to sell at the lowest prices. DOUGHTON & MARCUS "EVERYTHING THAT'S HARDWARE" 286 North Commercial Street Phone 639

COMMENCING APRIL 15TH 25% Reduction will be made in Round Trip Fares Between various points in Willamette Valley New fares between Salem and Portland $2.75 Albany $1.55 Woodburn .95 Eugene 3.90 Corvallis $2.05 Tickets good for 8 days including sale date

Travel by Southern Pacific Lines Some Reasons Why Yearly payrolls in Oregon exceed $11,000,000 Yearly taxes in Oregon exceed 1,100,000 Yearly distribution in Oregon exceed 16,000,000 Employees in Oregon approximate 5000 persons. Expends 25 per cent of gross earnings for upkeep of ROAD. Since 1870 has been closely identified with the development of Western Oregon. For further particulars, ask agents or write Southern Pacific Lines John M. Scott, General Passenger Agent.

"Brace up!" Johnny Knows! Every time Dad sends Johnny to the corner for a paper Johnny comes back with an Oregon Statesman And why? Johnny's wise—He knows where to find The Junior Statesman Turn to Page 4

Every American Needs Nerves of Steel Muscles of Granite and Blood of Iron A surplus of vigor and strength is required in these strenuous times to maintain your position at the "front." When you allow your mental or physical strength to fall and remain below par you are courted certain defeat in Life's pursuit. The course of human existence demands every ounce of vitality you can muster. The great crying need is and has always been, for ruddy, robust, red-blooded men. It takes strong, healthy brain and brawn to scale the steep inclines of human conflict and still possess the necessary reserve force to go over the top. The puny, emaciated, run-down, nervous, overwrought, lack the "punch," therefore, the spirit and the pep to accomplish the things worth while; to attain to the heights of sublime endeavor. Cast off, then, the undaunted courage and that winning power that health alone imparts. Buy a bottle of "LYKO" today! Then keep it on hand at all times in the future. Take it whenever you lack appetite, have indigestion, feel exhausted, worn-out, nervous, "upset" or debilitated from any cause, whether from a general run-down condition or a specific illness. It has wonderful health restoring powers because of its prompt aid to Nature to replace worn out muscle, bone and nerve tissue—the ideal tonic and strength builder. LYKO MEDICINE COMPANY NEW YORK KANSAS CITY "For sale by all druggists, always in stock at Perry's Drug Store."

The Oregon Statesman New Universities Dictionary COUPON How To Get This Dictionary For the Mere Nominal Cost of Manufacture and Distribution 3 COUPONS AND 98c secures this NEW, authentic Dictionary bound in black seal grain, illustrated with full pages in color and duotone. Present or mail to this paper three Coupons with cost of handling packing, clerk hire, etc. Add for Postage: Mail Up to 150 miles 7c Orders Up to 300 miles 10c Will Be For greater distance Filled tances, ask Postmaster rate for 3 pounds. 22 DICTIONARIES IN ONE All Dictionaries published previous to this one are out of date

New Shoes Old Shoes Tight Shoes all feel the same if you shake into them some ALLEN'S FOOT-EASE The Antiseptic, Healing Powder for the feet Takes the friction from the shoe, freshens the feet and gives new vigor. At night when your feet are tired, sore and swollen from walking or dancing, sprinkle ALLEN'S FOOT-EASE in the foot-bath and enjoy the bliss of feet without an ache. Over 1,500,000 lbs. of Powder for the Feet were used by our Army and Navy during the war. In a Pinch, use ALLEN'S FOOT-EASE Rubs the Feet

Tillamook County's Newest Hotel Cloverdale, Oregon Everything new but the management. Spend your week ends at Cloverdale Hotel on the Big Nestucca river. Best meals and cleanest beds west of the Mississippi. Cloverdale is the beauty spot of Tillamook county. There is always good fishing in the beautiful Nestucca. The mountain air gives you an appetite like a horse and you can sleep like a log. It is five miles from Pacific City beach; fifteen minutes by auto. Motor launch for week end parties can be arranged for by hotel proprietor. Phone or write. FRED MIETZKE, Cloverdale Hotel, Cloverdale, Tillamook County, Oregon.