CATHOLIC CHURCH FACTS

By REV. J. E. SUCK (Continued)

In time, however, relief came; but this relief from enemies without, was no guarantee of immunity from enemies within. Heresies arose, and portions of the human element in the church sought to disrupt her. But just as Divine providence had set limits to the sea, so His hand set limitations to the human mind to mar the boundary of His missions and His aspirations. Thus far they shall go and no farther, and here thou shalt break thy swelling waves. Having established His Church, Christ ordained that we should seek truth in the church. God could indeed conduct us individually to a knowledge of the truth (for His power is infinite), but He saw fit to establish another way. He wished and decreed that each individual should discern the truth, not alone, but in and with the whole Catholic body and communion, to which individual judgment could not break the bond imposed for the sake of Catholic unity and charity. The inveterate spirit sprung from the opposition of the human heart, and men, setting themselves up as leaders and judges, indulged in foolish and subtle speculations about God, Christ and the Church. They endeavored to measure with the yardstick of puny minds the height and breadth and length of heaven itself, and to compass if possible the councils of God, the cause of His miracles, and the mystery of His nature and His mysteries. The Church under the stress was forced to speak and defend the truth without fear or favor, and worldly inflated minds, proud in their regained independence of thought and chafing under the discipline of the church, rebelled, bringing ruin upon themselves and upon countless numbers of their deluded followers. Again it is the Church, the kingdom of God, in conflict with the kingdom of the world. How surprising is it that she named the Church Militant. During the process of heresy she had to endure every form of violence. Her maternal instincts were outraged, seeing her children snatched from her bosom by impostors and usurpers who, in order to give some semblance of reason for their revolt, heaped upon her every kind of abuse and slander.—Adv.

AMENDMENT NOT NECESSARY
 Is Ruling of Van Winkle
 Either the legislature or the people can pass an income tax measure without a constitutional amendment, according to an opinion of Attorney General Van Winkle written for the state tax commission. The inquiry was made by the commission at the request of C. E. Spence, master of the state grange, and others.

The income tax measure filed with the secretary of state Friday for submission to the voters at the general election next November, by representatives of the State Tax Reduction league proposes an amendment to the state constitution.

BONUS CASES ARE DECIDED

Bingham and Kelly Rule on Three of Recent Series of Test Cases

Decisions in three of a series of six cases brought against the state aid commission for ex-serve men to test the constitutionality of various angles of the bonus and loan act were handed down by Judges Bingham and Kelly of the circuit court here today.

California Man Wins
 In a suit instituted by Fred K. Hollister, a resident of California, it is held that a man who enlisted in Oregon, though he may now live outside the state, is entitled either to the cash bonus or the loan.

Another Phase Interpreted
 In a suit brought by Margaret Crane of Portland, widow of a soldier who had applied under the act prior to his death, and administratrix of his estate, it is held that she personally is entitled to the bonus or loan, but that his estate is not so entitled.

Hay Fever Prevention
 SUNDAY HEALTH TALK NO. 48—BY O. L. SCOTT, D.C.
 Why wait until the heated days of the pollenization season when the floating dust of plant life brings on this most exasperating disease? Why not take the necessary steps for making yourself immune now?
 One person out of every twenty is said to be susceptible to this so-called disease, the other nineteen are immune. In other words the nerve vigor of the air passage linings is such that it easily throws off the infection. Chiropractic spinal adjustments will restore the necessary resistance of these flaccid tissues and in a very high percentage of cases prevent the periodical recurrence of this ailment.

HEALTH FOLLOWS
 CHIROPRACTIC CORRECTS PRESSURE ON SPINAL NERVES IN DISEASES OF THE FOLLOWING ORGANS:
 HEAD, EYES, EARS, NOSE, THROAT, ARMS, HEART, LUNGS, LIVER, STOMACH, PANCREAS, SPLEEN, KIDNEYS, BOWELS, APPENDIX, BLADDER, SPINAL COLUMN, LOWER LIMBS.
 THE LOWER NERVE UNDER THE MAGNIFYING GLASS IS PINCHED BY A MISALIGNED JOINT. PINCHED NERVES CANNOT TRANSMIT HEALTHFUL IMPULSES. CHIROPRACTIC ADJUSTING REMOVES THE PRESSURE. THE UPPER NERVE IS FREELY NATURE INTENDS.

Had It For Years But Is Free Now
 "Our daughter, Ada, aged thirteen suffered every year from hay fever from early infancy. We thought there was no cure until we tried chiropractic spinal adjustments. Since then a few adjustments in the early part of July have been sufficient each year to forestall the illness. She was free of it for two years entirely but in each of the last two years on symptoms of its possible recurrence, adjustments have prevented the attack."—Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Rubush, Chiropractic Research Bureau, Statement No. 1335F.
